Wheeler Concedes Lend-Lease Victory

Barkley Gets Lend-Lease Kisses

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, senate majority leader, was the lucky recipient of enthusiastic "lend-lease" kisses when a delegation of 96 girls from Marjorie Webster school in Washington presented a huge telegram urging passage of the "aid to Britain" measure. The girls are Marjorie Ault of Bethesda, Md., and Le Morn Pipgras of St Petersburg, Fla. Barkley predicted today the bill would be passed by nightfall and on President Roosevelt's desk by Monday.

SENATE DEMS SEE PASSAGE BY NIGHTFALL

Opposition to Aid Measure Collapses, Reaches Its Peak at 39 Votes.

12 AMENDMENTS DEFEATED

Two Are Approved, With Only Three Major Changes to Be Voted On Today.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Passage of the lease-lend bill by nightfall became a certainty today when the opposition forces, headed by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, conceded defeat.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky predicted that the British aid bill would be passed by the senate by a substantial majority late today and get to President Roosevelt's desk for signature Monday—exactly two months from the day it was introduced.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—A powerful administration majority drove the British aid bill toward expected final passage in the senate late today, confident that the last three major challenges would be defeated.

They predicted there would be no other changes in the bill.

The opposition virtually had collapsed, reaching a numerical peak of 39 votes on the Norris amendment declaring that "nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the president, without the consent of Congress, to send the armed forces of the United States to fight on foreign soil outside the western hemisphere or the territorial or insular possessions of the United States including the Philippine islands."

It was turned down when the administration mustered 52 votes against it.

Where British Made Daring Raid on Nazis

According to an announcement from London, the British destroyed 11 German ships, a munitions plant and captured 225 military prisoners in a daring raid on the Nazi-held Norwegian Lofoten islands, which lie off the coast of Norway above the Arctic Circle. It was Britain's first combined naval and land attack on German-occupied territory since the war began.

Says America Puts Pressure On Yugoslavia

German Press Hammers at Meddling as Hugarian Reports Say Roosevelt Attempts to Keep Largest of Balkans Out of Conflict.

BULLETIN

ANKARA—(UP)—A high Turkish political source said today that Turkey will be menaced if Germany attacks Greece and will take action in collaboration with Britain at the moment when her forces and geographic position will make a move "most effective."

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN—Although substantiated on the surface by nothing except a Hungarian newspaper dispatch, Germans reacted with annoyance today to a report that President Roosevelt had suggested some manner of aid to Yugoslavia to keep that nation out of the Axis.

(State department officials at Washington said they never heard of it.")

German newspapers hammered on the theme. Pressed for additional substantiation of the Budapest report, an authorized spokesman commented:

"We have the impression it is authentic."

The alleged diplomatic feeler directed at Yugoslavia described here as evidence of how hard the democracies were fighting to prevent the spread of influence of the three-power pact.

The Germans, however, refused to say a word about what progress the pact might be making.

In a lead article today the Essen National Zeitung asked if "America would appreciate it if Germany sent special envoys all over Central America as Roosevelt does over Europe." the Zeitung said these travelers were "proof of a continued attempt on the part of Washington to influence Germany's neighbors."

The authoritative German commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, predicted that Roosevelt's foreign policy would be examined by the German press as a whole. The Commentary often reflects German foreign office opinion.

The comment grew out of the Yugoslav story, printed in the Budapest newspaper Magyarsag and distributed from there by the German radio and DNB, German official news agency.

Declaring that "despite the American efforts felt here, with all certainty the consolidation of the "new order" will continue in Europe," Dienst Aus Deutschland said the alleged "Roosevelt demarche" to Yugoslavia "is directly opposed to the principles of the ## City Has Snow But Not Like 11 Inches In N. Y.

Inch Falls In Mansfield Area While Blizzard Sweeps East Stalling Air Travel; Warmer Weather Forecast.

With spring just two weeks away, the Mansfield area escaped a heavy snowstorm which covered the eastern states today, but the city received an inch fall which was enough to make streets and highways slippery and dangerous.

While the worst blizzard of the winter swept the area eastward from Washington, D. C., to New York City, snarling national capital traffic in deep snow and blanketing New York with 11 inches, Ohio reported normal winter temperatures and only light snow in the northern half of the state.

The weatherman forecast clearing skies tonight and rising temperatures Sunday. Indicating that spring is near at hand, the forecast made no mention of another cold wave.

Snowfall was not heavy enough today to bring snow plows into action, but the city street department and county and state highway departments had cinder trucks busy on dangerous hills and intersections.

New York's big snowstorm came three days before the anniversary of the famous 1888 blizzard. The forecast there said snow would continue to fall until late today.

Travel by air was at a standstill and buses and trains were far behind schedule in the stricken area. Thousands of workers got jobs clearing streets and highways. It was New York's heaviest snow since 1935. In eastern Pennsylvania the fall reached a depth of 12 to 14 inches. Hundreds of motorists abandoned their cars in huge drifts.

Mansfield's temperatures were only slightly below normal last night and today. The low today was 25 degrees. By noon the reading was a comfortable 31 degrees.

DENIES CHARGE

Ritchie, Accused In Arson Case, Appears In Court.

Arraigned this morning in municipal court on a charge of arson. John D. Ritchie, 36, Mansfield, pleaded innocent, waived preliminary examination and was held to the county grand jury under $3,000 bond. He was returned to the county jail until he can provide bond.

Ritchie is accused of starting the blaze which destroyed a combination residence and grocery store at Trailer City east of Mansfield early Thursday.

Surrendering to police while the building was burning, Ritchie allegedly confessed he set fire to the structure as an act of revenge against Henry Carew, owner of the building.

Carew, Ritchie's wife, who was employed in the store, and another occupant escaped uninjured after two cans of gasoline exploded in the basement.

KILLED BY DOOR

Truck Driver for Coal Company Found Dead In Cab.

UPPER SANDUSKY —(UP)— Jason Traxler, 26, truck driver for the Upper Sandusky Commission company, was found dead in his truck yesterday on a farm where he had gone to deliver a load of coal.

He apparently was killed accidentally when a granary door swung around and slammed him as he looked out of the truck while backing from the building.

ENLIST IN BRITAIN

LONDON—(AP)—More than 300 young Norwegians taken off the Lofoten islands aboard British warships after a British raid last Tuesday said today they planned to enlist here "to carry on the fight for freedom."

COMMUNITY HALL BURNS

GREENVILLE —(INS)— Fire officials today sought the origin of a $35,000 blaze which destroyed the community hall at nearby New Madison, and damaged the United Brethren church and several residences and stores.

PEG SCRAP PRICE

U. S. Acts to Halt Runaway During Rearming.

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Leon Henderson, defense price stabilization commissioner, announced today that maximum prices for scrap iron and steel will be established to prevent runaway prices under the rearmament program.

The commisison already has fixed prices for used machine tools and aluminum.

Meantime, mandatory priorities were invoked on non-defense users of nickel and neoprene—a synthetic, oil-resistant rubber manufactured solely by the E. I. Du-Pont de Nemours company rationing of the two defense-needed materials brought to five the number diverted to armament channels in 11 days. Aluminum, machine tools and magnesium previously were rationed.

FASCIST WARSHIP SUNK

ROME —(INS)— An Italian warship of medium tonnage has been sunk in the Mediterranean, the Italian high command announced today. A majority of the crew members were saved.

An International Incident? Italian Ignores Black-Out

(By International News Service)

SEATTLE—A possible international incident was seen today as an investigation was launched into reports that the only lights not turned off in the downtown district during Seattle's test blackout last night were those in the hotel rooms of Antonio T. Milo, Italian consul at Seattle.

A crowd gathered in the streets below, spied the lighted rooms and shouted: "Put 'em out!"

Hotel attaches who investigated the incident reports the rooms were rented by the Italian official.

Frank Hull, manager of the hotel, declined comment but was understood to have made a full report to the blackout committee.

Consul Milo, awakened for questioning in his hotel room early today, declared: "Certainly, I turned out my lights."

Hotel attaches said he was not in his suite at the time of the blackout and that it was possible he had merely forgotten to turn off the lights when he went out for the evening.

With the realism of actual air raid, shrieking sirens gave the signal that plunged the city into darkness from 10:40 p. m. until 10:55.

Seattle's thousands quiveringly brushed close to the night horrors of modern warfare as army planes roared overhead.

JURY INDICTS MANSFIELDER

Joseph Letizia Named by U. S. Grand Jurors In Indictment Charging Extortion Try.

The federal grand jury in Cleveland today indicted Joseph Letizia, 50, of 381 Wayne street, on a charge of attempting to extort $3,000 from Joe Ferrise, Third street market merchant, by threatening to injure "the persons or members of the family" of Ferrise.

An associated Press dispatch from Cleveland said the jury, in an indictment returned late yesterday, accused Letizia of mailing a letter to Ferrise Mar. 10, 1939, which translated from the Italian, read:

"If you like your daughter and your family, on Mar. 19 it will be necessary for you to give $3,000 at the cemetery at the monument of Frank Vilella.

"Your friends,

"The Montavano family.

"At the hour of midnight, money in paper $10, and silence."

For the second count, the jurors declared Letizia wrote another letter on Mar. 22 which said:

"You are a dirty corpse because you have told the law about our affair. But in brief you will have bloody sorrow."

Letizia, a former state liquor store employe, is free on $1,500 bond for appearance probably Mar. 14, in federal court in Cleveland.

He pleaded innocent to the charges at a preliminary hearing last November before U. S. Commissioner Charles Ball at Canton.

His arrest by federal agents and city police Nov. 2, 1940 climaxed an 18-month investigation by city and federal authorities. They had laid a trap after Ferrise turned an extortion letter over to Police Chief Meade K. Bates. A dummy package was placed at the cemetery but no one called for it.

ASK INJUNCTION

Conneaut Firm Would Restrict Activity of Pickets.

CONNEAUT— (INS) —Attorneys for the struck Burke Machine Co. today filed an injunction petition in Ashtabula county court asking restriction of pickets to three persons.

The strike was called last Monday by the machinists union who are seeking higher wages and collective bargaining.

BLUE LAWS GO

Delaware Governor Signs Repealer of 200-Year-Old Laws.

DOVER, Del — (UP) — Governor Walter W. Bacon was to sign a bill today repealing Delaware's 200-year-old blue laws and setting up a greatly liberalized substitute.

Since the new law would become effective immediately the governor's signature would forestall a recurrence of the arrests of more than 500 persons last Sunday.

Estimate 380 More Will Get Draft Call By July 1

Reduction Seen In Quota From County As State Cuts Figure; More Than 200 Already In Service.

With Ohio's draft quota reduced to require only 11,118 more men by July 1, Richland county probably will have to send about 380 more men to army camps by July 1, it was estimated today on the basis of revised quotas released to state selective service headquarters.

Including men who left yesterday, the county has already sent slightly more than 200 to camps by the regular induction procedure. Dozens of others, however, have enlisted in the regular army or national guards and have been credited to the county, boosting the total credits to 465 men from the county.

The new quotas require selective service Board 1 in Mansfield to send 219 men by the induction method, Board 2, 172 men, and Board 3, 195 men, a total of 586. With more than 200 already inducted, it would leave about 380 to go before July 1.

Ohio was scheduled to supply 52,500 men by July 1, but voluntary enlistments reduced the figure to 39,380, the new quotas showed. The state has already sent 28,262 to camps by the induction route, leaving 11,118 to go.

From 41 men who were given physical examinations yesterday at the Mansfield Armory, 24 passed and will soon receive their induction notices. Boards 1 and 2 had the best averages, with Board 1 getting eight men out of 13 examined and Board 2 getting physicians' approval of seven of 11 examined.

LIST DEATH TOLL

British Say Air Raids Killed 789 During February.

LONDON—(AP)—A total of 789 civilians were killed in air raids on Britain last month, the ministry of air and home security announced today.

The total number of injured for this period was listed as 1,068.

The figures for January listed 1,502 killed and 2,012 injured, almost double the casualties for February.

The ministry's figures show 24,371 killed and 35,373 injured since last June through February for a casualty total of 59,744.

SWEENEY CALLS FOR VOTE DATA

Secretary Investigates Paulding County Election Dispute.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The Paulding county election board has been ordered by Secretary of State John E. Sweeney to present in his office Thursday circumstances surrounding an election dispute for county engineer.

Daniel E Stouffer (D), originally was declared elected over Harry Green (R), but a recount gave Green 27 more votes. Stouffer then was declared elected as the result of his suit filed in common pleas court. Sweeney said he wanted to learn the facts on which the court based its decision.

HOMES WRECKED

Quake Shakes Rumania, Hundreds Left Homeless.

BERLIN—(UP)—An official news agency dispatch from Bucharest reported today that severe damage had been done in the Buzau district of Rumania by an earthquake. Three hundred homes, a church and a school were destroyed at the town of Cataischui it was said. The extent of casualties was not known. The district had suffered heavily in an earthquake last November.

TWO STRIKES SEEM AVERTED

Progress Reported Toward Heading Off Threatened Defense Tie-Ups.

(By Associated Press)

Progress was reported today toward heading off threatened shutdown in two large New Jersey industries, and an agreement between a power company and its union employes in southern Michigan.

The two New Jersey firms, both with large defense contracts, were the Aluminum Company of America plant at Edgewater, and the Thomas A. Edison, Inc., industries.

The threatened strike against the Consumers Power company, which serves 2,000,000 southern Michigan residents, appeared definitely headed off as AFL electrical workers began balloting on ratification of an agreement calling for a wage increase and a preferential shop.

In another labor development, Union President R. J. Thomas outlined in a radio address last night the grievances he said prompted the CIO United Automobile Workers to file notice of intent to strike at three Ford Motor factories in the Detroit area.

Thomas declared the Ford company has "no seniority system . . . no recognized, democratic griev-

SENTENCED TO PEN, HE WEDS

Man Marries Though Under Sentence for Burglary.

COLUMBUS—(UP)—A few minutes after he was sentenced to serve one to 15 years in Ohio penitentiary for burglary, Murrell Rousch, 36, Columbus, was married to Elma Doss, 28, Columbus.

The couple had applied for the marriage license on Feb. 28 and went through the ceremony in the county jail offices with Justice of Peace Jacob Becker of Marion township officiating.

The wedding took place yesterday after a common pleas court jury found Rousch guilty of participation in a drug store burglary. His attorney said he will file a motion for a new trial.

JOIN DEFENSE

Mexican Senate Approves Naval Base Plan With U. S.

MEXICO CITY—(INS)—Mexico's new defense understandings with the United States and other American republics had unanimous approval of the Mexican senate today.

Under a barrage of questions, Foreign Minister Enrique Padilla told the senate Mexico will not vacillate if circumstances call for implementation of the defense measures.

He said naval bases will be constructed in Mexico and will be available for all the American republics.

"Neutrality is not a matter to be discussed in these moments when destinies of the continent demand that we adopt an attitude of defense." Padilla said.

BULGARIA ACTS

Seizes U. S. Assets There In Reprisal For 'Freezing.'

BUDAPEST— (INS) —All American assets in Bulgaria were reported seized today by the Sofia government in reprisal for similar measures taken by the United States.

Some estimates placed the American assets involved at 20 times as much as Bulgarian assets which were "frozen" earlier this week in the United States.

MARKET HOLDS BALANCE, BUT FAILS TO RALLY

Analysts Eye Priority Placed On Nickel by OPM, Sees Gain In Orders.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market maintained its price equilibrium in today's early proceedings but rallying signs generally were faint.

Market analysts studied the survey of commerce department which found manufacturers' new orders rose to a record peak in January. The department's index for this barometer rose to 183 in the final month compared with 172 in December.

Notice was taken of the action of the Office of Production Management in instituting further priorities on armament materials. The latest were on supplies of nickel and neoprene in the United States.

Carol 'Grateful' To Portugal as He Plans Rest

LISBON, Portugal—(AP)—In the first interview since he abdicated the throne of Rumania last September, former King Carol asserted today he was very grateful to Portugal for giving him asylum.

"I want to rest," the ex-ruler said

Signs of worry and anxiety of recent months were clearly marked on Carol's face although he gave the impression that he was far from downhearted.

He, seems to have lost weight His London-made dark brown suit hangs slackly on him—but he wears his usual confident smile and keeps his chin up when standing. He displays fatigue only when he is sitting.

The former monarch, who fled from Spain last Monday with his red-haired companion of many years, Magda Lupescu, said he wished to express his gratitude to Portugal as well as to the American public for the interest and sympathy shown in his plight.

The interview took place at the resident of the wealthy Portuguese business man, Augusto Lopes Joly—the ex-king's long-time friend.

Even in exile, the former king is still very much the ruler and the interview was 100 per cent according to protocol.

Carol likes newspapermen, he said, and understands them.

"I admire your gallant profession which so often is misunderstood," he volunteered.

Discussion of controversial subjects was tabooed The conversation was in French until the ex-ruler referred in unaccented English to "the Associated Press," after which he shifted spontaneously into English for the remainder of the interview.

He was asked for a statement of his opinion of the present state of world affairs, but his only answer was a sad wave of a long, white hand.

Mme. Lupescu did not appear during the interview, but her voice could be heard in a nearby drawing room.

Former Governor Goes Home For Much Needed Rest.

CLEVELAND—(UP)—An attending physician reported today that former Gov. Martin L. Davey plans to leave the Cleveland clinic hospital next Tuesday to return to his home at Kent for a rest.

The former governor has been confined in the hospital for nearly a month following a serious heart attack. Physicians said Davey will have to spend at least another month in bed at home.

VOTE 7-DAY WEEK

Steel Plant Workers Adopt Extra-Hour Schedule.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Employes of the Midvale Steel Company's plant here have voted to work a seven-day, 56-hour week "in the interest of the national defense emergency," union leaders reported today.

Edward Kunz, secretary of Federal Labor Union No. 18 887 (AFL) said the approximately 2000 plant employes had voted "two to one" for the seven day work week.

TACKLE FINAL 3 AMENDMENTS TO LEND-LEASE

Senate Democrats Say Bill Will Be Passed Before Nightfall.

measure would pass today "without any doubt, probably without a night session." Some of the opposition leaders privately agreed with him.

But Sen. Bennett C. Clark (D., Mo.) said that there was "not a chance" of getting a final vote or a debate limitation.

As the senate resumed work, these three major tests remained:

1. An amendment by Sen. David I. Walsh (D., Mass.), naval affairs committee chairman, forbidding sale, leasing or lending of military or naval aircraft which cannot be replaced with superior equipment in three months—a proposal which Barkley said would "nullify the whole bill"

2. Substitute bills for direct dollars loans to Britain and Greece offered by Sens. Robert A. Taft (R., O.) and Charles W. Tobey, (R., N. H) Taft's bill would permit loans of $1,000,000,000 (B) to the United Kingdom, $500,000,000 (M) to Canada and $50,000,000 (M) to Greece. Tobey's measure would provide $3,000,000,000 (B) Britain in exchange for Caribbean islands and as loans, and a $100,000,000 (M) loan to Greece.

3. An opposition motion to recommit the entire administration bill to the foreign relations committee—a move which, if adopted, in effect would shelve the bill.

Opposition leaders believed the Walsh proposal had the best chance of passage but the administration, which beat down 12 amendments yesterday, was confident that it would be voted down.

Two amendments, satisfactory to the administration were adopted yesterday. They were designed to allay fears that the nation would be plunged into war by the delivery or convoying of munitions to warring nations, or that the measure changed any law relating to the movement of U. S. land, air or naval forces.

Without objection, the senate approved an amendment by Clark of Missouri changing the presidential power to "transfer" defense articles to give him the power to "transfer title" of defense articles

After rejecting iron-clad prohibitions on the use of American army or naval forces in European or Asiatic wars, administration forces then offered and adopted, 65 to 24, a compromise amendment submitted by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, (D., La.) declaring that "nothing in this act shall be construed to change existing law relating to the use of the land and naval forces of the United States, except insofar as such use relates to the manufacture, procurement and repair of defense articles, the communication of information and other non-combatant purposes enumerated in this act."

Mother's Heroism Fails, Second Son Dies of His Burns

AKRON —(UP)— A heroic rescue from a flaming house by a 23-year-old Akron mother proved in vain today when her two-year-old son died in a Barberton hospital at 4:30 a. m. A second son, 4, died in the flames.

The mother was Mrs. Margaret Bailey and the two boys were LeRoy, 2, and Donald, 4.

Mrs. Bailey had gone to a street corner to mail a letter yesterday afternoon. When she returned she saw her home in flames. She rushed in the back door and found Leroy but was unable to locate Donald.

Allen W. Gammon pulled Mrs. Bailey and the badly-burned LeRoy from the blazing house before the roof caved in. The mother had to be restrained from reentering the house in an effort to save Donald. His body was found later in the fire ruins.

All's Well That Ends Well

Deanna Durbin, youthful screen actress, is pictured in Hollywood as she presented Private Everett Scott with a six-week-old airedale puppy to replace — in a measure — his faithful old dog Laddi who died of a broken heart after Scott joined the army. Scott became the nation's most famous private during the life-and-death drama of Laddi who was flown to his master's barracks in an effort to save his life.

MANSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

Hold Meeting — The regular meeting of Courtney Camp No. 3505 Modern Woodmen of America will be held at Eagles hall, Monday at 7:30 p. m. according to G. L. Moore, secretary.

Committee To Meet—There will be a regular meeting of the executive committee of the Mansfield Community Fund at 7 p. m. Monday for secretaries of the agencies, followed by a regular business session at 7:30 p. m. at the new headquarters, 314 Walpark building.

ASHLANDER, HURT IN ACCIDENT, ONE OF 4 CITED INTO COURT

An Ashlander injured in an automobile-truck collision early today on U. S. route 42, northeast of Mansfield, was one of the four drivers cited into municipal court today by state highway patrolmen.

Arthur Lloyd, 27, of Ashland, lost his driving rights for a year and was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of unsafe driving.

State patrolmen said his machine collided head-on with a truck operated by Harry Williams, 46, of 274 South Main street, three miles northeast of Mansfield at 4:30 a. m. today. Lloyd was treated for minor injuries at General hospital and then released.

They said Lloyd could give no apparent cause for the crash.

Pleading guilty to a similar charge, Donald E. Boyce, 667 West Third street, was fined $10 and costs and his operator's license was suspended for 45 days.

Charles O. Tenney, Akron, pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding on U. S. route 42 and was fined $20 and costs, and James L. Roberts, Butler, R. D. 3, was fined $5 and costs of driving his car without a taillight.

Meanwhile in Ohio eight persons were killed in traffic accidents yesterday and last night.

Two schoolboys, Edmund Wallace Storey, 13 and Albert Topperzer, 12, were fatally injured when a stolen automobile went out of control on a hill in Youngstown and struck them as they walked home from school. Joseph Sikora, 13, one of three youthful occupants of the car, died early today of injuries.

The other two boys in the machine were injured, one critically.

John A. Perry, 67, a retired factory worker, was killed in Fremont as he crossed the street.

An automobile killed Edward W. Baad, 70, in North Canton.

Carl Biggs, 17, was killed and four young companions hurt in an auto collision eight miles south of Kent on route 18.

An automobile skidded into a utility pole in Cleveland, killing John Pataki, 19.

John Conley, 58, of East Palestine died in a Youngstown hospital today, the victim of a headon collision south of Youngstown.

Timely Announcements

That automobile trip would be much easier and safer with an Auto Club membership.

BLAME CAREER

Tallulah Bankhead and Husband Decide To Part.

WINSTON SALEM, N. C. —(AP) —After "long and conscientious thought," Tallulah Bankhead has announced, she and her actor husband, John Emery, have decided to part.

The actress daughter of the late speaker of the house of representatives said "there is no third party involved on either side. We choose rather to put the blame on that 'ole debbil' career.

CASH STOLEN

Downtown Office Entered as Employes Are at Lunch.

Police today were investigating the daylight burglary of the Continental Mortgage company in the Walpark building yesterday while employes of the office were at lunch.

Miss Frances Beck, a clerk, called police when she returned to the office shortly after noon and discovered the door standing open and the cash drawer looted of $35.

Police said entrance was apparently gained with a pass key. The cash drawer was pried open.

Meanwhile, Louis Fingeld, 390 First avenue, reported that an unidentified man assaulted him at Orange and Central avenue at 3 a. m. today while he was on his way home and robbed him of $5.

STAG DINNER

University Club Members Dine, Elect New Directors.

The annual stag dinner party of the Mansfield University club was held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel last night with 100 members in attendance. Three new directors, E. A. Eckert, E. H. Lockwood and Dr. Carl R. Damron, were elected to replace Tom Ford, Dr. C. L. Shafer and Paul Endriss. Dr. Wolfe of Kent, O., was the guest speaker, and the evening was spent in games.

Winners of the eleventh annual duplicate contract bridge tournament were announced. In order of standing they were Paul Cropper, F. G. Renkenberger, Lloyd Brown, Martin Brunner, Dr. R. D. Campbell, Gilbert Dobson, Thornton Moore, Dr. William R. Riester, E. H. Lockwood.

The final affair of the season will be a dance April 19. Details of the affair will be announced later.

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

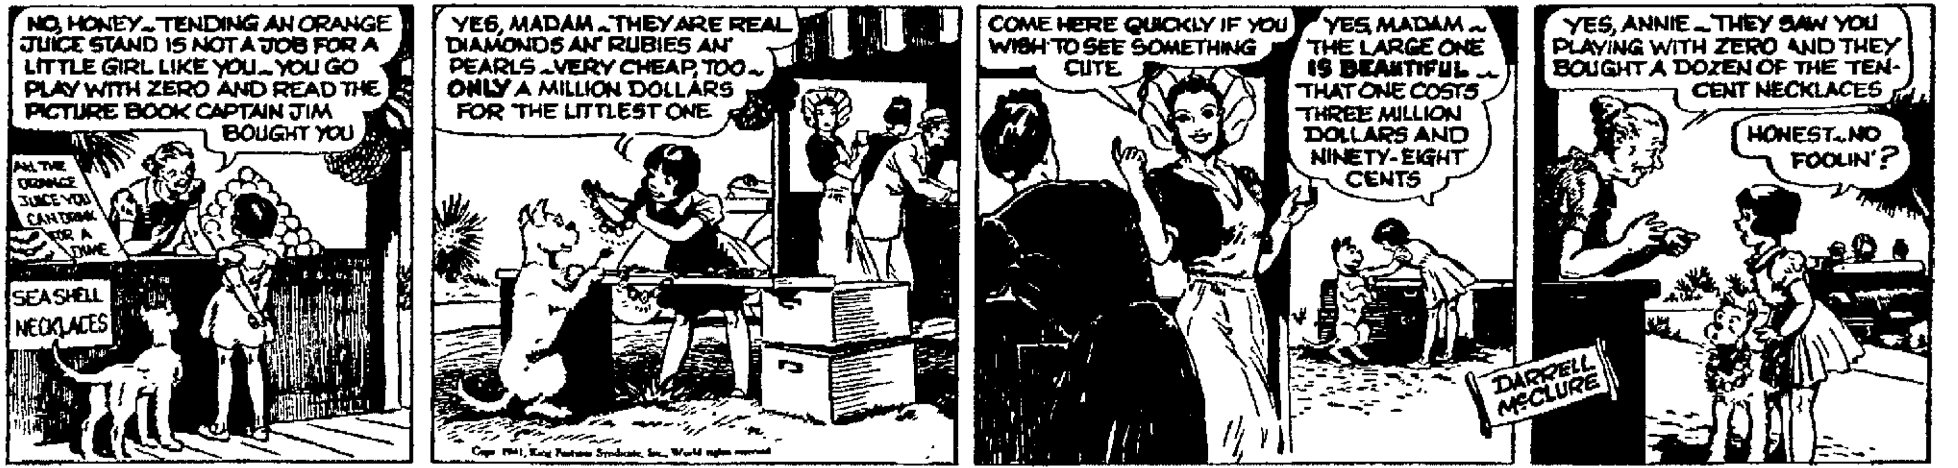
GLORYOSKY, ZERO, AIN'T EVERYTHING SWELL? WE GOTTA LOVELY ORANGE JUICE STAND WHERE WE KIN MAKE MONEY AN' BE PARTNERS WITH CAPTAIN AN' MRS. JIM—
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
JUST A FEW WEEKS AGO THE DOG-KETCHERS WAS CHASIN' US THRU THE ICE AN' SNOW—WHEN MR. SLABS CAME ALONG WITH A LOAD OF NEW CARS HE WAS TAKING SOUTH
HE PICKED US UP AN' TOOK US DOWN HERE WHERE IT'S NICE AN' SUNNY— ONLY YESTERDAY HE STOPPED WITH MORE NEW CARS—GEE, I WAS GLAD TO SEE HIM AN' HE WAS GLAD, TOO—
HE SAID WE HAD A SWELL ORANGE JUICE STAND—AN' THAT YOU WAS AN AWFUL SMART POOCH AN' I WAS A NICE LITTLE KID—EVEN IF HE DIDN'T MEAN IT— IT MADE ME FEEL GLAD ALL OVER!
ORANGE JUICE 10¢
DARRELL McCLURE



NO, HONEY—TENDING AN ORANGE JUICE STAND IS NOT A JOB FOR A LITTLE GIRL LIKE YOU—YOU GO PLAY WITH ZERO AND READ THE PICTURE BOOK CAPTAIN JIM BOUGHT YOU
ALL THE ORANGE JUICE YOU CAN DRINK FOR A DIME
SEA SHELL NECKLACES
YES, MADAM—THEY ARE REAL DIAMONDS AN' RUBIES AN' PEARLS—VERY CHEAP, TOO— ONLY A MILLION DOLLARS FOR THE LITTLEST ONE
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
COME HERE QUICKLY IF YOU WISH TO SEE SOMETHING CUTE
YES, MADAM— THE LARGE ONE IS BEAUTIFUL— THAT ONE COSTS THREE MILLION DOLLARS AND NINETY-EIGHT CENTS
DARRELL McCLURE
YES, ANNIE—THEY SAW YOU PLAYING WITH ZERO AND THEY BOUGHT A DOZEN OF THE TEN-CENT NECKLACES HONEST—NO FOOLIN'?

YOU KNOW, ABBIE, I'VE BEEN SITTING HERE THINKING OF ALL THE GOOD LUCK WE'VE HAD SINCE THE FIRST DAY WE MET LITTLE ANNIE
HEAVEN MUST HAVE HEARD MY PRAYERS—YOU KNOW WE WERE HAVING A HARD STRUGGLE UNTIL SLABS BROUGHT HER TO LIVE WITH US
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved. 3-5
SHE'S A REGULAR LITTLE FOUR-LEAF CLOVER—I DON'T LIKE TO ACT NOSEY— BUT I KEEP WONDERING WHERE SHE CAME FROM— AND —— DON'T YOU DARE BOTHER HER, JIM SALTEE —JUST LET SLEEPING DOGS LIE!!
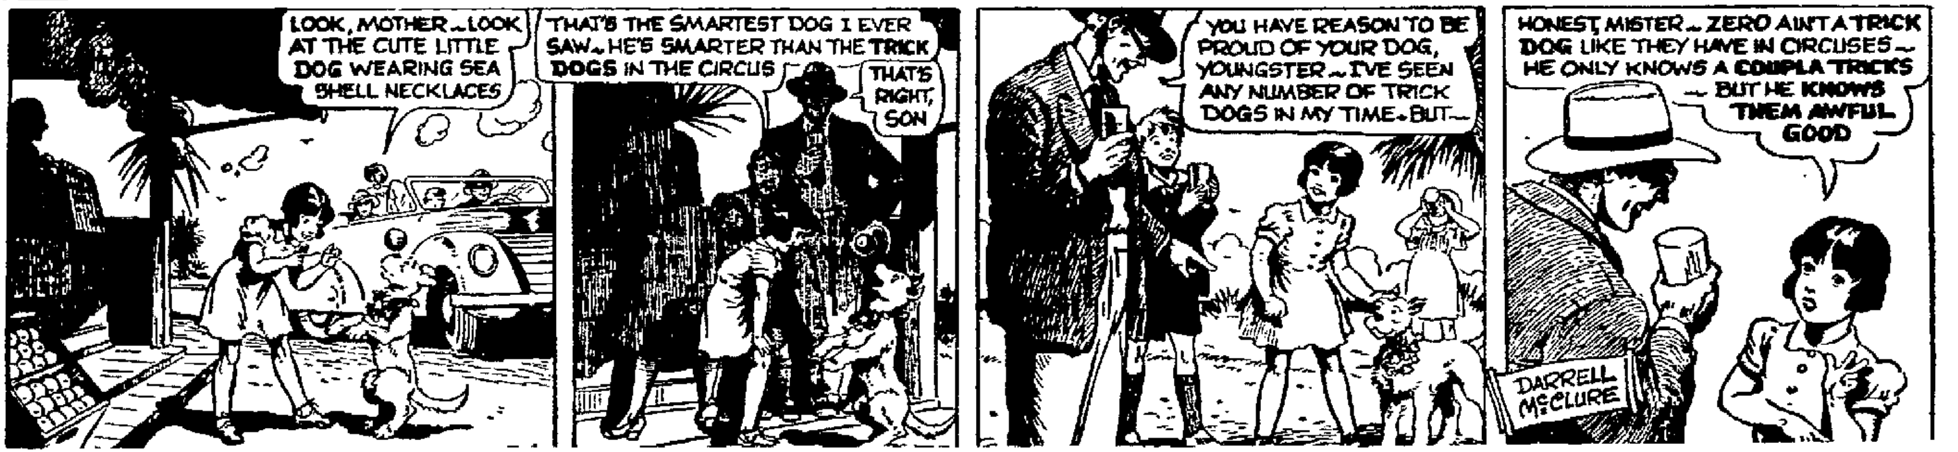
GEE, AIN'T IT PRETTY? THE WATER IS SO BRIGHT AN' SHINY AN' ALL THE STARS LOOK LIKE A LOTTA HAPPY LITTLE DIAMONDS PLAYIN' TAG UP IN THE SKY
DARRELL McCLURE



LOOK, MOTHER—LOOK AT THE CUTE LITTLE DOG WEARING SEA SHELL NECKLACES
THAT'S THE SMARTEST DOG I EVER SAW—HE'S SMARTER THAN THE TRICK DOGS IN THE CIRCUS
THAT'S RIGHT, SON
YOU HAVE REASON TO BE PROUD OF YOUR DOG, YOUNGSTER—I'VE SEEN ANY NUMBER OF TRICK DOGS IN MY TIME—BUT—HONEST, MISTER—ZERO AIN'T A TRICK DOG LIKE THEY HAVE IN CIRCUSES— HE ONLY KNOWS A COUPLA TRICKS —BUT HE KNOWS THEM AWFUL GOOD
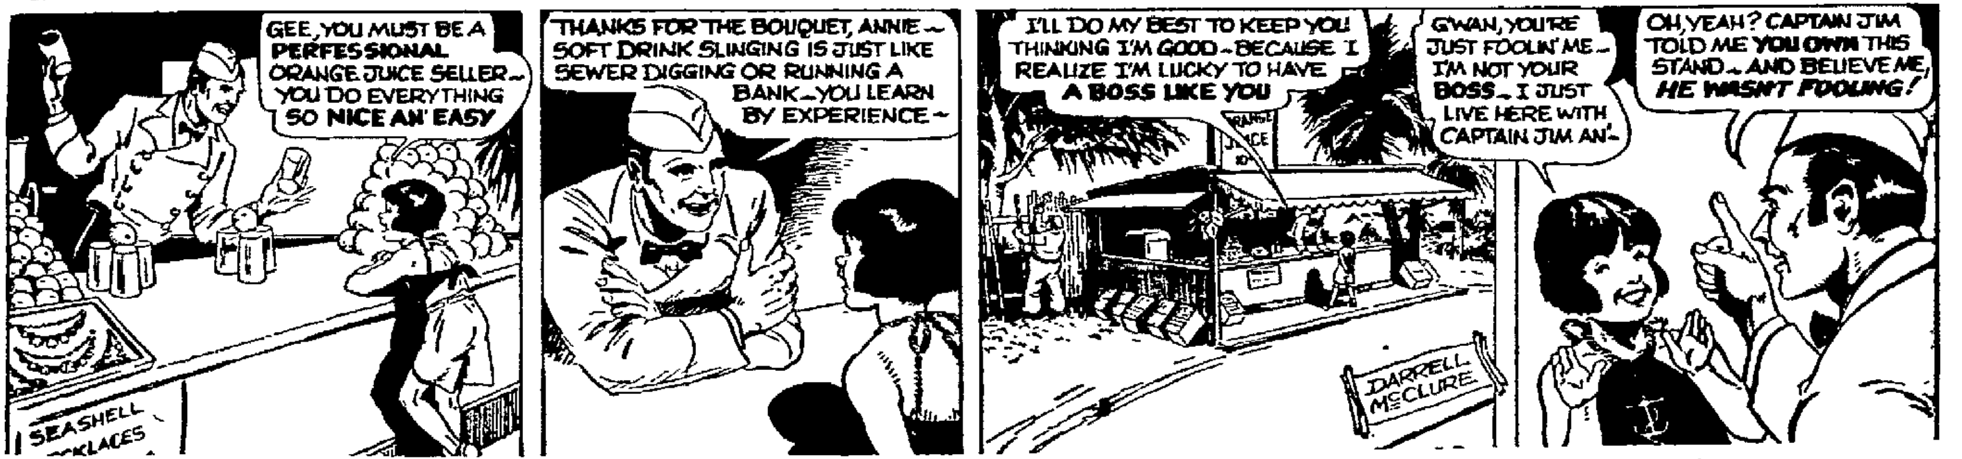
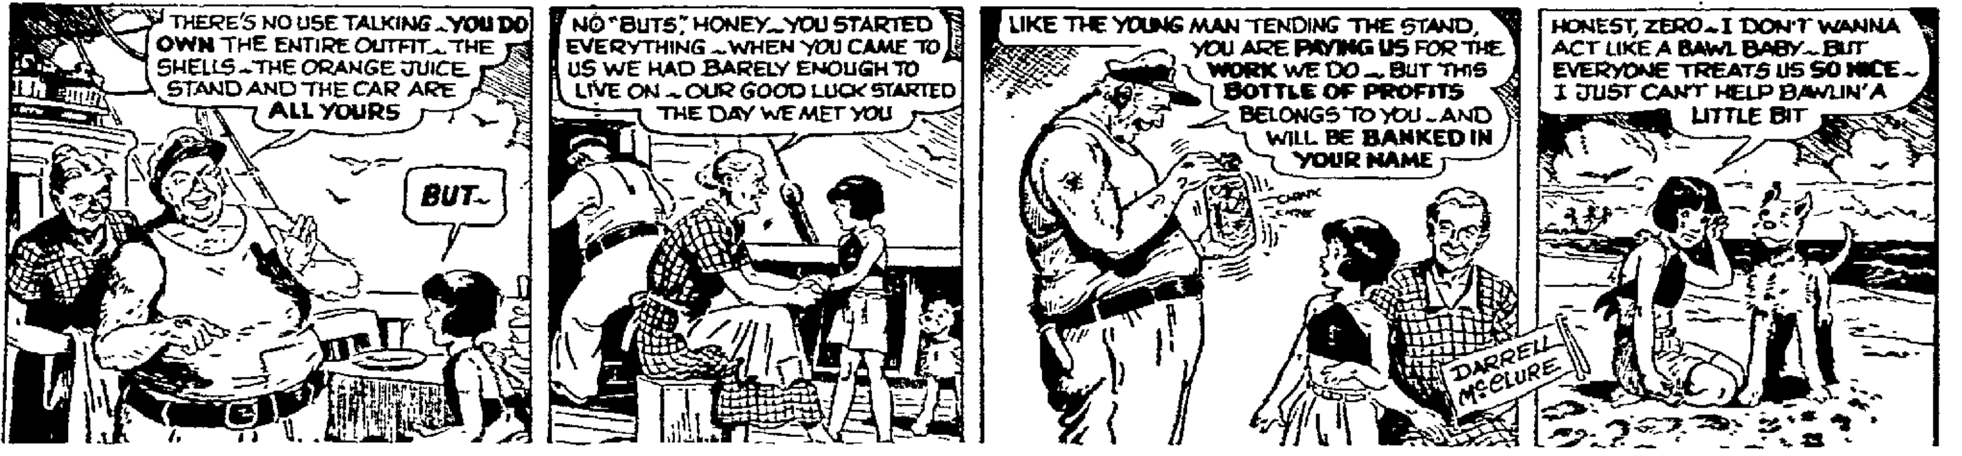
DARRELL McCLURE



GEE, YOU MUST BE A PERFESSIONAL ORANGE JUICE SELLER— YOU DO EVERYTHING SO NICE AN' EASY
SEASHELL NECKLACES
THANKS FOR THE BOUQUET, ANNIE— SOFT DRINK SLINGING IS JUST LIKE SEWER DIGGING OR RUNNING A BANK—YOU LEARN BY EXPERIENCE—
I'LL DO MY BEST TO KEEP YOU THINKING I'M GOOD—BECAUSE I REALIZE I'M LUCKY TO HAVE A BOSS LIKE YOU
ORANGE JUICE 10¢
DARRELL McCLURE
G'WAN, YOU'RE JUST FOOLIN' ME— I'M NOT YOUR BOSS—I JUST LIVE HERE WITH CAPTAIN JIM AN'—
OH, YEAH? CAPTAIN JIM TOLD ME YOU OWN THIS STAND—AND BELIEVE ME, HE WASN'T FOOLING!



THERE'S NO USE TALKING—YOU DO OWN THE ENTIRE OUTFIT—THE SHELLS—THE ORANGE JUICE STAND AND THE CAR ARE ALL YOURS
BUT—
NO "BUTS," HONEY—YOU STARTED EVERYTHING—WHEN YOU CAME TO US WE HAD BARELY ENOUGH TO LIVE ON—OUR GOOD LUCK STARTED THE DAY WE MET YOU
LIKE THE YOUNG MAN TENDING THE STAND, YOU ARE PAYING US FOR THE WORK WE DO—BUT THIS BOTTLE OF PROFITS BELONGS TO YOU—AND WILL BE BANKED IN YOUR NAME
CHINK CHINK
DARRELL McCLURE
HONEST, ZERO—I DON'T WANNA ACT LIKE A BAWL BABY—BUT EVERYONE TREATS US SO NICE— I JUST CAN'T HELP BAWLIN' A LITTLE BIT

MUGGS McGINNIS

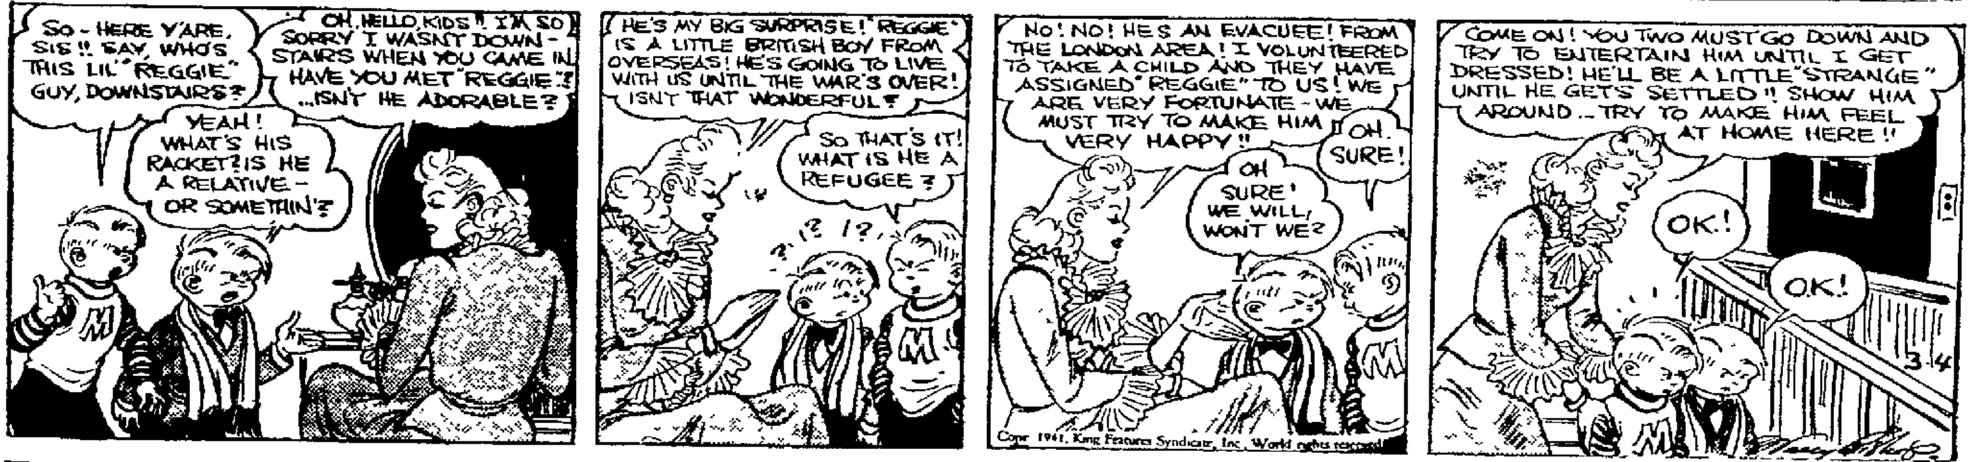
YOO-HOO, SISTER!! WE'RE HOME! WE'RE HOME FROM SCHOOL!!
OH HELLO!! YOUR KIND SISTER HAS RETIRED TO HER BOUDOIR TO FRESHEN UP A BIT AND CHANGE HER FROCK!
HUH?
WHO ARE YOU?
I'M "REGGIE"- H. REGINALD BULWARK!! I ASSUME YOU ARE MY HOSTS THE McGINNIS CHAPS?
YOUR WHAT?
MY HOSTS! I'M HERE FOR THE DURATION, Y'KNOW! SO DECENT OF YOU TO HAVE ME - I HOPE WE'LL BE FAST FRIENDS!!
SURE! SURE! SAY, MUGGS, WHO IS THIS GUY?
SEARCH ME! LET'S FIND SISTER!

Copr 1941 King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

3-3



SO - HERE Y'ARE, SIS!! SAY, WHO'S THIS LIL' "REGGIE" GUY, DOWNSTAIRS?
OH, HELLO, KIDS!! I'M SO SORRY I WASN'T DOWNSTAIRS WHEN YOU CAME IN! HAVE YOU MET "REGGIE"? ...ISN'T HE ADORABLE?
YEAH! WHAT'S HIS RACKET? IS HE A RELATIVE - OR SOMETHIN'?
HE'S MY BIG SURPRISE! "REGGIE" IS A LITTLE BRITISH BOY FROM OVERSEAS! HE'S GOING TO LIVE WITH US UNTIL THE WAR'S OVER! ISN'T THAT WONDERFUL?
SO THAT'S IT! WHAT IS HE A REFUGEE?
NO! NO! HE'S AN EVACUEE! FROM THE LONDON AREA! I VOLUNTEERED TO TAKE A CHILD AND THEY HAVE ASSIGNED "REGGIE" TO US! WE ARE VERY FORTUNATE - WE MUST TRY TO MAKE HIM VERY HAPPY!!
OH SURE! WE WILL, WON'T WE?
OH. SURE!
COME ON! YOU TWO MUST GO DOWN AND TRY TO ENTERTAIN HIM UNTIL I GET DRESSED! HE'LL BE A LITTLE "STRANGE" UNTIL HE GETS SETTLED!! SHOW HIM AROUND .. TRY TO MAKE HIM FEEL AT HOME HERE!!
OK!
OK!

Copr 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

SAY, MUGGS, BEFORE WE GO IN... WHAT ARE WE GOIN' TO TALK ABOUT TO THIS LIL' BRITISH GUY, REGGIE, THAT SISTER BROUGHT HOME?
SISTER SAYS TO MAKE HIM FEEL AT HOME HERE.. AND DON'T TALK ABOUT THE WAR... STICK TO TH' WEATHER 'N' STUFF LIKE THAT!
ER-AH- WE'RE GLAD TO HAVE YOU WITH US, REGGIE! ER-NICE-AH NICE WEATHER WE'RE HAVING?
DELIGHTFUL!! ER-WOULD YOU CARE TO HEAR MY IMITATION OF AN AIR RAID ALARM SIREN IN FULL BLAST?
WELL, ER-AH- -NO. THANKS!
HAVE YOU READ ANY GOOD BOOKS LATELY?
ONLY SCHOOL TEXTS! PERHAPS YOU'D BE INTERESTED IN THE "ACK-ACKS" SETTING UP A BARRAGE OVER LONDON! "ACK-ACKS" IS SHORT FOR ANTI-AIRCRAFT - I DO A RATHER CREDITABLE IMITATION OF THEM!!
ER- NO!! HOW ABOUT BIRDS? CAN YOU DO BIRDS?
OH, RATH-ER!! WAR BIRDS!! I DO ANY TYPE, AT ANY ALTITUDE! ..HERE'S A BRISTOL BLENHEIM BOMBER... DIVING FROM 10,000 FEET!!
ROARR-R-ROWOORRROAR

COME ON, REGGIE! WE'RE GOIN' TO TAKE YOU AROUND THE NEIGHBORHOOD 'N' INTRODUCE YOU TO SOME OF OUR GANG!
GANG? GANG?
Y'KNOW FRIENDS-PLAYMATES ER-AH-CHUMS!
EFFIE, MEET OUR NEW FRIEND, REGGIE BULWARK!
A PRIVILEGE, MISS BROADFOOT, DELIGHTED TO MAKE YOUR ACQUAINTENCE!
HI-YA, KNOTHAID! AH'M RITE PROUD TO MEET UP WIF Y'ALL!
WHAT A QUAINT PERSON - AND WHAT AN ODD PATOIS!! I SAY, DOES SHE ALWAYS SPEAK IN THAT MANNER?
WHAT MANNER? SHE HASN'T ANY MANNERS!
WELL.. WHAT DO YA THINK OF REGGIE, EFFIE?
HE SHOR IS A HANSOME 'N' PERLITE LEETLE SOMEBUDY... BUT GRET BALLS O'FIRE, DON'T HE TALK PECULIAR?

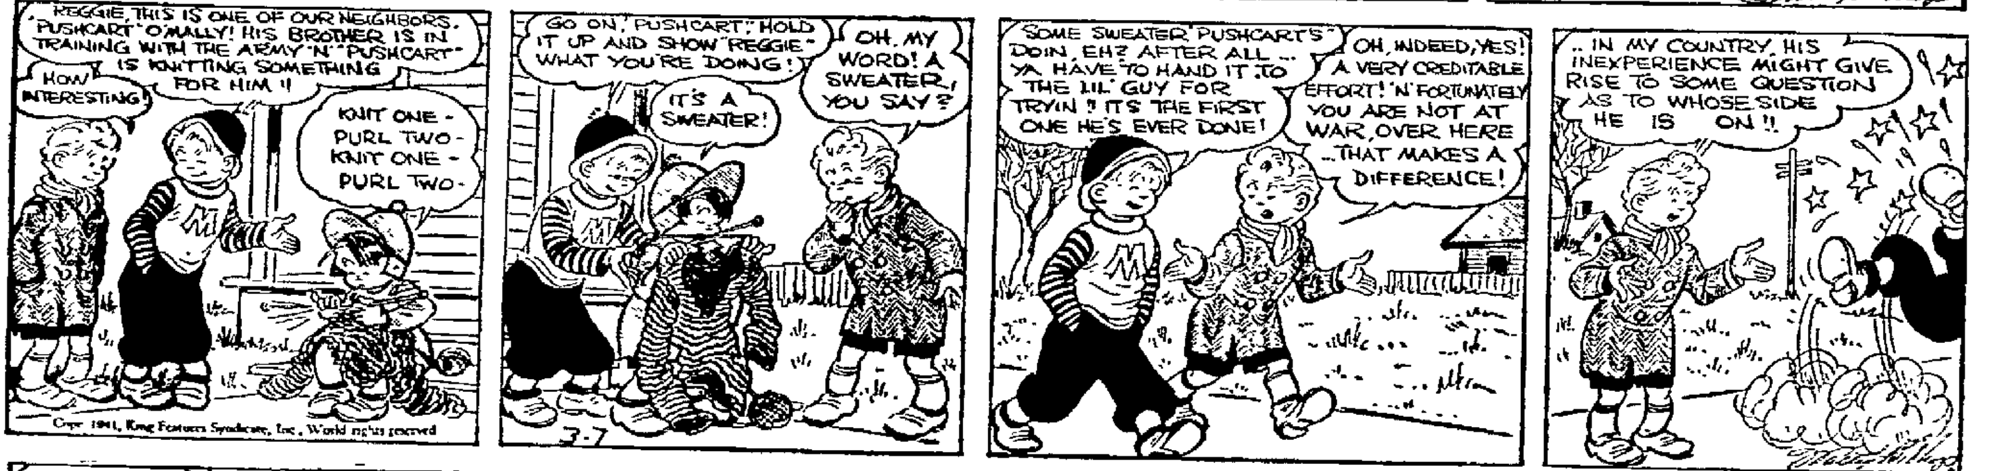
Copr 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.



REGGIE, THIS IS ONE OF OUR NEIGHBORS. "PUSHCART" O'MALLY! HIS BROTHER IS IN TRAINING WITH THE ARMY 'N' "PUSHCART" IS KNITTING SOMETHING FOR HIM!!
HOW INTERESTING!
KNIT ONE - PURL TWO - KNIT ONE - PURL TWO - GO ON, "PUSHCART," HOLD IT UP AND SHOW "REGGIE" WHAT YOU'RE DOING!
IT'S A SWEATER!
OH, MY WORD! A SWEATER, YOU SAY?
SOME SWEATER "PUSHCART'S" DOIN, EH? AFTER ALL .. YA HAVE TO HAND IT TO THE LIL' GUY FOR TRYIN!! IT'S THE FIRST ONE HE'S EVER DONE!
OH, INDEED, YES! A VERY CREDITABLE EFFORT! 'N' FORTUNATELY YOU ARE NOT AT WAR, OVER HERE ..THAT MAKES A DIFFERENCE!
.. IN MY COUNTRY, HIS INEXPERIENCE MIGHT GIVE RISE TO SOME QUESTION AS TO WHOSE SIDE HE IS ON!!

Copr 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved

WELL, G'NIGHT, REGGIE! THIS IS YOUR ROOM!! WE ARE JUST ACROSS THE HALL IF YOU NEED ANYTHING! I HOPE YOU SLEEP WELL!
I SAY, BEFORE I RETIRE THERE'S SOMETHING I'VE BEEN MEANING TO SAY TO YOU CHAPS... ER.. AH.. THANKS FOR THE SHIPS!!
SHIPS?
YES! THE SHIPS! AWFULLY DECENT OF YOU! A GREAT HELP, REALLY! ..THANKS SO MUCH!!
SHIPS?
WHAT SHIPS?
THE FIFTY OVERAGE DESTROYERS THAT YOU SENT!!... VERY SPORTING OF YOU! ... ER.. AH.. GOODNIGHT!!
OH, THEM!!
OH!! OH, SURE!! SURE!!! THINK NOTHING OF IT, REGGIE! .. ER.. G'NIGHT!!
GEE, WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US? WHY DIDN'T WE USE OUR HEADS? DO YA THINK WE OUGHT TO KNOCK ON HIS DOOR 'N' THANK HIM FOR THE BASES, BEFORE HE GETS TO SLEEP?
NAW IT WON'T LOOK RIGHT!! TOMORROW WE'LL THANK HIM FOR THE BASES!

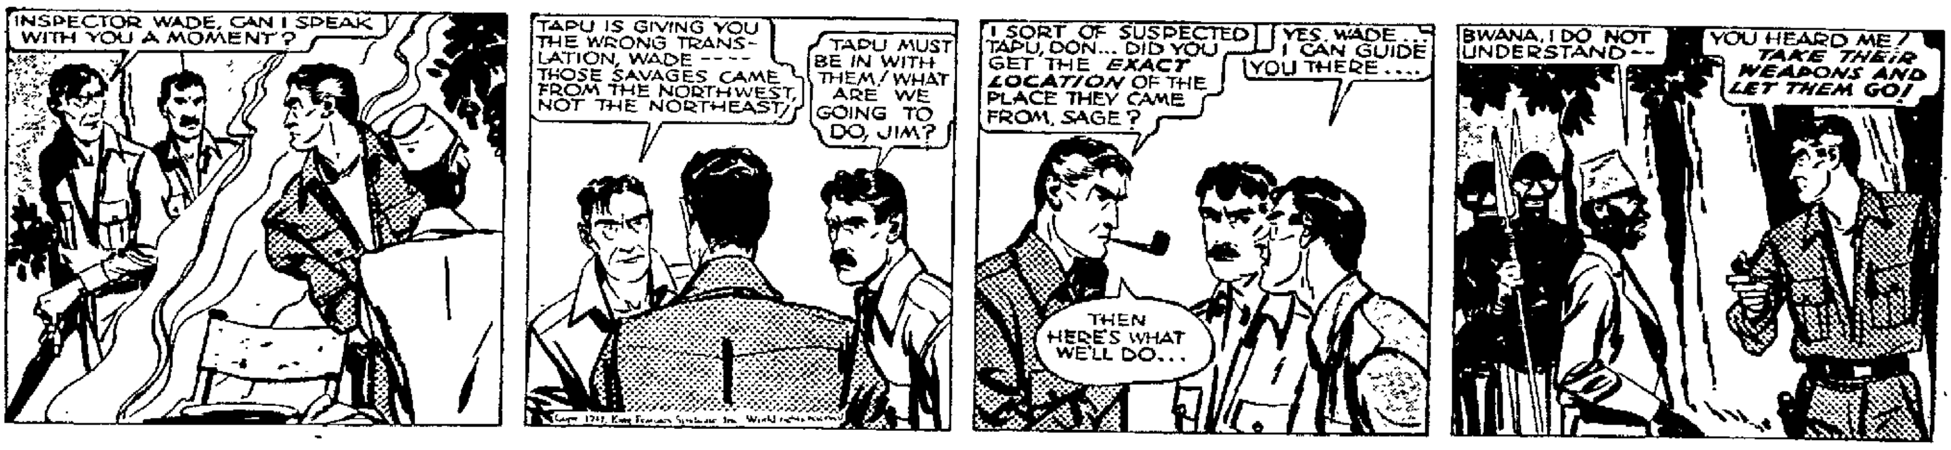
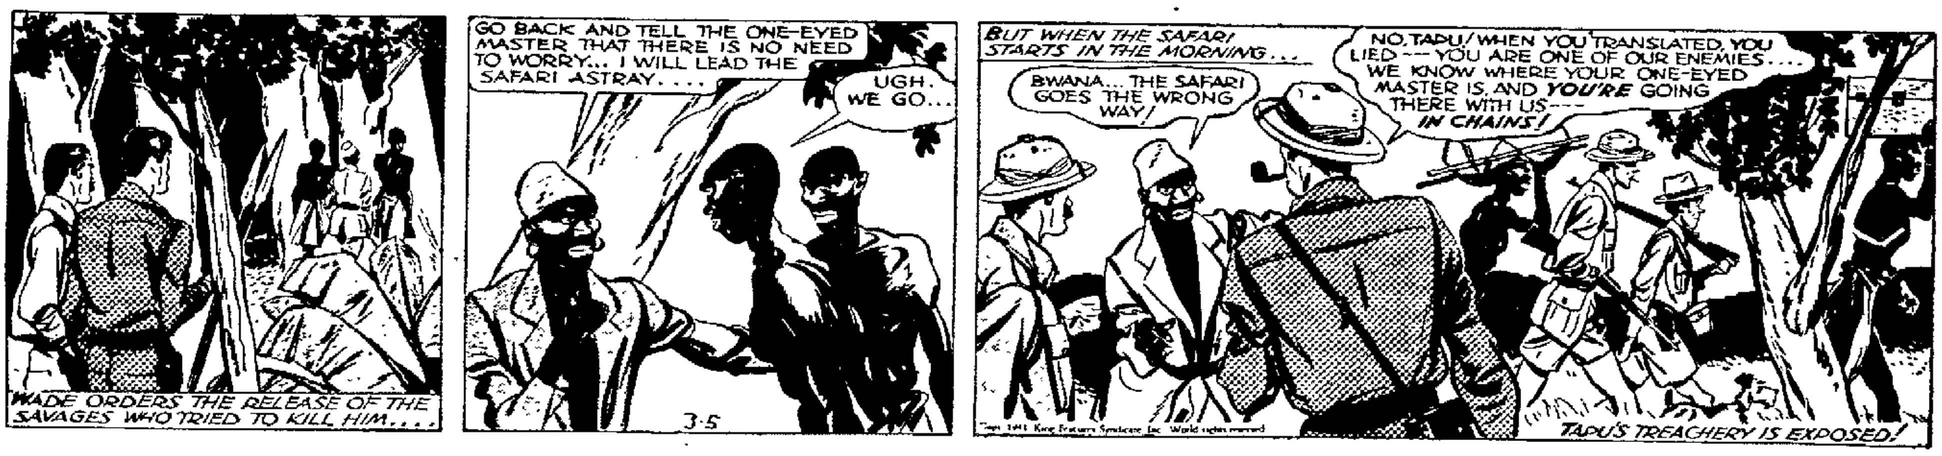
JIM! YOU WENT INTO THE JUNGLE AND GOT 'EM!
GET ME A TOWEL AND AN INTERPRETER... I WANT TO GET THIS GOO OFF MY FACE --AND I WANT TO HEAR WHO SENT THESE LITTLE PLAYMATES
3-3
TAPU, YOU KNOW THEIR LINGO?
YES, BWANA, THEY ARE SWAHILI ---I WILL ASK WHERE THEY COME FROM...
SWAHILI COME FROM THERE, BWANA. WHITE MAN SEND THEM.
DON, I KNOW THEIR LANGUAGE! TAPU IS LYING!
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved



INSPECTOR WADE, CAN I SPEAK WITH YOU A MOMENT?
TAPU IS GIVING YOU THE WRONG TRANSLATION, WADE ---- THOSE SAVAGES CAME FROM THE NORTHWEST, NOT THE NORTHEAST!
TAPU MUST BE IN WITH THEM! WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO, JIM?
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
I SORT OF SUSPECTED TAPU, DON... DID YOU GET THE EXACT LOCATION OF THE PLACE THEY CAME FROM, SAGE?
YES, WADE... I CAN GUIDE YOU THERE....
THEN HERE'S WHAT WE'LL DO...
BWANA, I DO NOT UNDERSTAND--
YOU HEARD ME! TAKE THEIR WEAPONS AND LET THEM GO!



WADE ORDERS THE RELEASE OF THE SAVAGES WHO TRIED TO KILL HIM....
GO BACK AND TELL THE ONE-EYED MASTER THAT THERE IS NO NEED TO WORRY... I WILL LEAD THE SAFARI ASTRAY....
UGH. WE GO...
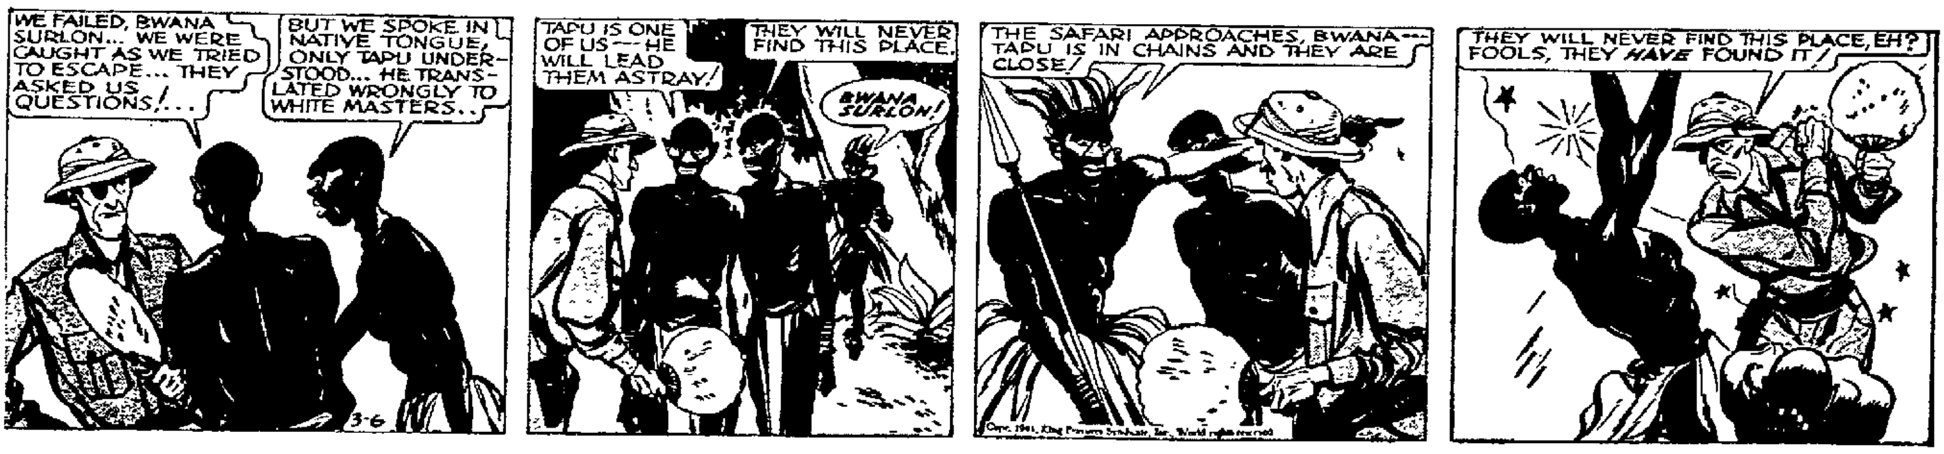
BUT WHEN THE SAFARI STARTS IN THE MORNING...
BWANA... THE SAFARI GOES THE WRONG WAY!
NO, TAPU! WHEN YOU TRANSLATED, YOU LIED --- YOU ARE ONE OF OUR ENEMIES.... WE KNOW WHERE YOUR ONE-EYED MASTER IS, AND YOU'RE GOING THERE WITH US--- IN CHAINS!
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
TAPU'S TREACHERY IS EXPOSED!



WE FAILED, BWANA SURLON... WE WERE CAUGHT AS WE TRIED TO ESCAPE... THEY ASKED US QUESTIONS!...
BUT WE SPOKE IN NATIVE TONGUE, ONLY TAPU UNDERSTOOD... HE TRANSLATED WRONGLY TO WHITE MASTERS..
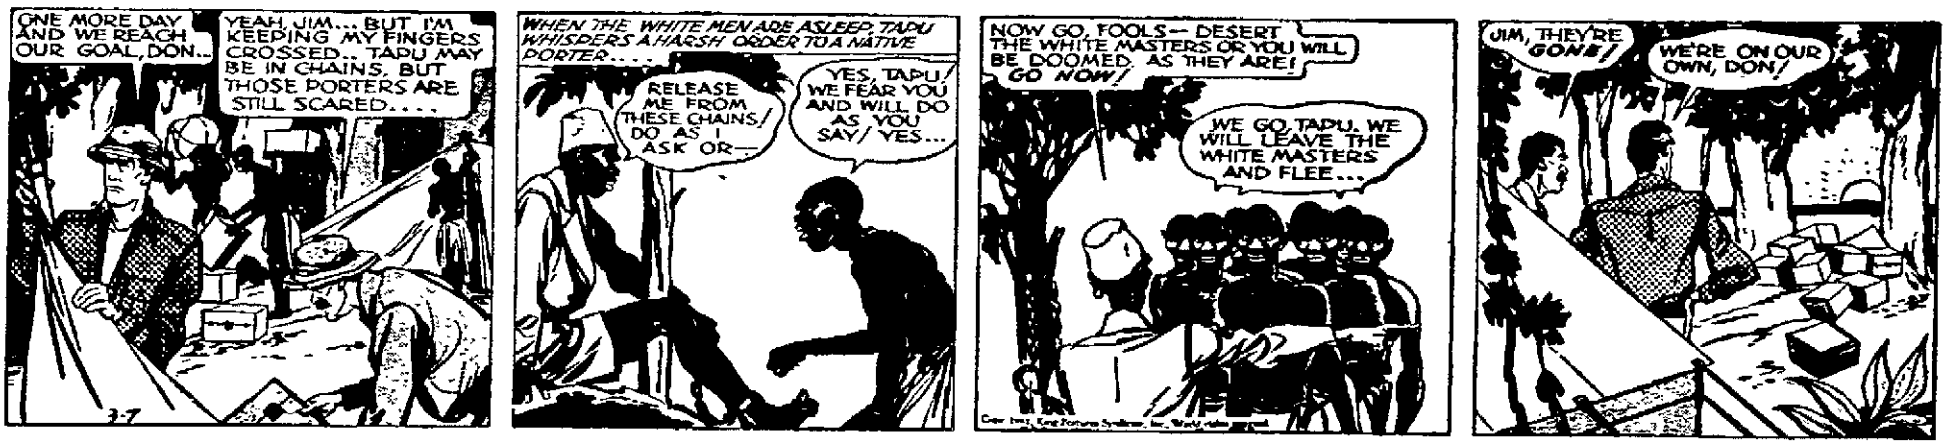
TAPU IS ONE OF US --- HE WILL LEAD THEM ASTRAY!
THEY WILL NEVER FIND THIS PLACE.
BWANA SURLON!
THE SAFARI APPROACHES, BWANA--- TAPU IS IN CHAINS AND THEY ARE CLOSE!
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
THEY WILL NEVER FIND THIS PLACE, EH? FOOLS, THEY HAVE FOUND IT!



ONE MORE DAY AND WE REACH OUR GOAL, DON...
YEAH, JIM... BUT I'M KEEPING MY FINGERS CROSSED.. TAPU MAY BE IN CHAINS, BUT THOSE PORTERS ARE STILL SCARED....
WHEN THE WHITE MEN ARE ASLEEP, TAPU WHISPERS A HARSH ORDER TO A NATIVE PORTER....
RELEASE ME FROM THESE CHAINS! DO AS I ASK OR--
YES, TAPU! WE FEAR YOU AND WILL DO AS YOU SAY! YES...
NOW GO, FOOLS-- DESERT THE WHITE MASTERS OR YOU WILL BE DOOMED AS THEY ARE! GO NOW!
WE GO, TAPU. WE WILL LEAVE THE WHITE MASTERS AND FLEE...

TOOTS AND CASPER

I'LL SEE YOU AT DINNER-TIME, DAN, AND STOP ASKING ME WHERE I GO!
OKAY, SOPHIE - WHERE ARE YA GOING?
CASPER, YOU'RE JUST THE GUY I WANT TO SEE! I NEED YOUR ADVICE!
FOR ONE THING, COLONEL HOOFER, I'D ADVISE YOU TO GET A SHAVE.
SOPHIE GOES OUT EVERY DAY FROM NOON TO SIX P.M. AND SHE WON'T SAY WHERE SHE GOES.
SHE PROBABLY GOES OUT TO GET AWAY FROM YOU, AND I DON'T BLAME HER FOR THAT YOU DON'T SUPPOSE--ER--SHE'S GOT SOME OTHER FELLER ON THE STRING, DO YOU? GOSH, I COULDN'T STAND TO LOSE MY SOPHIE--- (SNIFF)
IS THE SHADOW OF A TRIANGLE HOVERING OVER COLONEL HOOFER'S HAPPY HOME ?
JIMMY MURPHY
Copr 1941 King Features Syndicate Inc. World rights reserved
I'LL PAINT YOUR KITCHEN, PANTRY, FOYER, DINING-ROOM AND LIBRARY FOR $192.00
I'LL THINK IT OVER
YES'M, I'LL PAINT THE ROOMS YOU MENTION FOR $186.00
I'LL THINK IT OVER AND LET YOU KNOW.
THEY'RE BOTH RATHER HIGH, DAN! SEE IF YOU CAN GET AN ESTIMATE FROM SOME OTHER PAINTER---SO LONG. I MUST GO NOW..
I'D LIKE TO KNOW WHERE SOPHIE GOES EVERY DAY FROM NOON TO SIX P.M.---AND SHE ALWAYS WEARS HER BEST CLOTHES! HMM-M--- SAY, I'LL FIND OUT! I'VE GOT AN IDEA!
JIMMY MURPHY
YOUR HUSBAND PHONED ME FOR AN ESTIMATE, MA'AM! I'LL PAINT YOUR KITCHEN, PANTRY, FOYER, DINING-ROOM AND LIBRARY FOR $75.00
THAT'S VERY FAIR, BUT WILL YOU DO A GOOD JOB?
IF YOU AIN'T SATISFIED, MA'AM, YOU WON'T HAVE TO PAY ME A RED CENT.
OKAY, IT'S A DEAL! YOU CAN START WORK IN THE MORNING
SOPHIE DIDN'T RECOGNIZE ME IN THIS GET-UP! THIS MAY BE UNETHICAL, BUT I'VE GOT TO FIND OUT WHAT SHE'S UP TO EVERY AFTERNOON.
DAN THE PAINTER YOU GOT HOLD OF, MADE ME A SWELL PRICE--- HE STARTS IN TOMORROW MORNING! I MUST GO NOW, DEAR--- SEE YOU AT SIX.
I HAVE TO SKIP OUT IN THE MORNING, SOPHIE, BUT LET HIM START RIGHT IN!
JIMMY MURPHY
HELLO, SOPHIE! LET ME TALK TO COLONEL HOOFER!
HE'S NOT IN, CASPER! HE WENT OUT EARLY THIS MORNING
YES, I'M HAVING SEVERAL ROOMS PAINTED! THE PAINTER JUST STARTED IN!
HA! IF SOPHIE ONLY KNEW THAT I, THE PAINTER, AM HER HUSBAND, COLONEL HOOFER IN DISGUISE.
NOW SOPHIE IS PHONING SOMEBODY, HERSELF, AND SHE CLOSED THE DOOR SO I CAN'T HEAR HER CONVERSATION.
HELLO, IS THAT YOU, DARLING?
DARLING? HMM-M---THAT'S SOPHIE TALKIN'--- MEBBE THIS IS WHERE I FIND OUT WHERE SHE GOES EVERY DAY BETWEEN NOON AND SIX P.M., AND WHAT SHE'S UP TO! SH-H-H---
JIMMY MURPHY
YES, MABEL, I'M HAVING SEVERAL ROOMS PAINTED! BYE BYE, DARLING--- I'VE GOT TO GO TO WORK NOW!
I'M WORKING AFTERNOONS FOR A FEW WEEKS AT THE SPIFFY MILLINERY SHOP TO GET ENOUGH MONEY TO BUY A BIRTHDAY GIFT FOR COLONEL HOOFER TO SURPRISE HIM!
MY STARS! THAT PAINTER MUST BE AN ECCENTRIC OLD RASCAL!
Dear Lady- I'm Quitting this JoB. What I Done so Far Don't cost you Nothing The Painter
THERE I WAS, IMAGINING ALL SORTS OF THINGS--- AND SOPHIE IS DOING ALL THAT FOR ME! I'M ASHAMED OF MYSELF---SNIFF---WHY, SHE'S THE SWEETEST WOMAN IN ALL THE WORLD---
(BLUB)
JIMMY MURPHY
SOPHIE LOVES ME! SHE'S PROVED IT! GEE, I'LL NEVER QUESTION HER AGAIN.
CONFIDENTIALLY, CASPER, I FOUND OUT WHAT SOPHIE IS UP TO! SHE'S WORKING AFTERNOONS FOR A FEW WEEKS IN A MILLINERY SHOP TO GET ENOUGH MONEY TO BUY A BIRTHDAY PRESENT FOR ME.
HERE, SOPHIE DARLING, ARE SOME POSIES I BOUGHT FOR YOU
WHAT'S THE BIG OCCASION, DAN?
BECAUSE, MY PET, YOU'RE A JEWEL---THE MOST GORGEOUS FLOWER IN NATURE'S BEAUTIFUL GARDEN.
COLONEL HOOFER, MARCH YOURSELF BACK HERE AND LET ME SMELL YOUR BREATH!

HOLLYWOOD—It's old-home week for Nils Asther and Norman Kerry, both returned from abroad and both in movie jobs here—Nils in "The Man Who Lost Himself" and "The Night of January 16," Norman in 'Sergeant York." "Night" is practically a birthday picture for Asther, who was born January 17, 1901. . . .

ROBBIN COONS

The picture Bob Hope would like to do soon is "Who's Yehudi?"—a natural for a mystery comedy.

'Tain't-fair department: Ingrid Bergman, the dignified sweet girl type, is playing the loose one in 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and Lana Turner, the flaming youth gal, is doing Spencer Tracy's nice sweetheart. In "So Ends Our Night," Lional Royce, typed by many anti-Nazi films as a wicked Gestapo agent, is seen fish-eyeing the refugee hero and heroine in a bar. Scaring them, probably because they knew the kind of parts he played. Then he turns out to be a right guy, but you keep expecting him to show his swastika. . . .

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," progresses on a closed stage, the usual "mystery" over the make-up for the Hyde role. The make-up will depart drastically from previous movie and stage versions, little if any being used—indicating that Tracy, who wanted to show Hyde's personality without prop-teeth or wig, has won a point. . . .

* * *

You doubtless will have fun seeing "The Bride Came C. O. D." which is a comedy, but your fun then is Bette Davis's tedium now. She knits like mad between scenes, on intricate socks. "You can't give much thought to a part like this. If you do, you spoil it," she says. "It has to be spontaneous or it's no good. On serious pictures it's exciting, so much planning and discussion all the time."

Could that mean she doesn't like the part? "Oh, it's a cute script. If it weren't," she added with emphasis that left no doubt, "I wouldn't be doing it." (Pretty sure of herself? You're derned right she is. And why not?)

ARGUMENT DUE OVER BRICKER FUND ESTIMATE

Democrats Accuse Governor Of Minimizing Income Figure For Political Purposes.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — Gov. John W. Bricker's conservative estimates of state revenue for 1941-42 may provoke the most extensive argument in the 94th general assembly.

His predictions are somewhat gloomy, in comparison with the current industrial boom and increase in employment, but he insists they are well-founded.

The Democratic minority in the legislature is alarmed over the possible political effect in 1942, when it wants to elect a Democratic governor and become the majority.

They already are accusing the governor of deliberately minimizing the state's income. They feel that if the revenues greatly exceeded his estimates, there would be a surplus next year, the governor could reduce taxes and give himself a strong argument for reelection.

Bricker told the legislature that adoption of his program would provide a general revenue fund surplus of $46,451 at the end of 1942.

The Democrats contend there will be a surplus this year and that the excess should be given to the cities and counties.

Let's examine the budget figures.

Although the income of the general revenue fund last year increased $7,819,667 over 1939, Governor Bricker estimates it will go up only $2,820,792 additional this year and $3,536,490 in 1942.

Incidentally, he figures the federal government will give Ohio an extra $2,281,776 for old age pensions this year. Deduct that from this year's anticipated increase and the general revenue fund shows a gain of only $539,016.

Of the taxes and fees which go into the general fund, the governor estimates that nine will yield an increase, eight will decrease and four will remain unchanged.

The biggest argument is over the sales tax, the income from which last year increased $4,713,000 over 1939. The governor anticipated an additional increase of $1,382,300 this year, whereas Democratic leaders figure there should be a gain of at least $8,000,000.

COPS ARRESTED

2 Policemen Held In Beating Of Stanford Students.

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Two veteran police officers, pointed out in a lineup of 68 policemen, were suspended temporarily today, accused of beating two Stanford university freshmen picked up as "skid row" vagrants last Saturday night.

Deputy Police Chief Michael J. Riordan announced formal complaints charging unprovoked assault would be filed today against the officers, Patrolmen Joseph Francis Greene and John J. Desmond.

They were picked from the line-up of uniformed police yesterday by the two 18-year-old students, Don Allan of Redwood City, Calif., and Carter Barber, of Winnetka, Ill. Both officers denied the accusations.

Girl Scouts Out In Full Force for Sale of Cookies

Girl Scouts were in the midst of an annual cookie sale throughout Mansfield today.

Wearing official Girl Scout emblems, the girls were calling upon the house of their friends and working in five downtown stores to sell cookies.

Girl Scouts worked in two-hour shifts throughout the day in stations at the Ohio Public Service, the Ohio Fuel Gas company, the Montgomery and Ward store, the Third street market, and the Farmer's bank building.

A goal of $500 realized from the cookie sale has been set this year. Approximately 5,000 cookies must be sold to reach this sum. The funds obtained by the sale will be used for a new activity center for Girl Scouts.

Mrs. G. V. Smith is chairman of the cookie sale. Miss Eleanor Bond is Girl Scout executive.

THREATENS SON, ENDS LIFE

SCOUTERS MEET IN CITY TODAY

200 Expected For 21st Annual Session; Banquet to Be Held Tonight.

Scouters of the Johnny Appleseed Area Council met today at Mansfield Boy Scout headquarters for their twenty-first annual conference. Approximately 200 were expected to attend the program, according to Floyd Dent, area executive.

The conference opened at 2 p. m. with J. L. Turner, presiding. Perle L. Whitehead, deputy regional Scout executive, defined the aims of Scouting in an opening speech entitled, "The Program of Action." The aim of the program is to point the Boy Scout movement in the "strengthening and invigorating of Democracy."

Other speakers on the afternoon program are C. G. Silcott, neighborhood commissioner, C. I. Kimmel, area commissioner, F. R. Stahl, health director in the local Boy Scout movement, and C. G. Hillier, Scoutmaster of Troop 8.

A banquet will follow the afternoon session. L. A. Ott will preside. Scout awards will be given to Scoutmasters for years of service, and training. Entertainment will be provided by Mrs. Margery Swigert.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS OUT TO SET RECORD IN FINAL PLAY

With a third of the cast new to the group, the Mansfield Community Players are out to break a 14-year record in rehearsals for "What a Life," the comedy with which they will close the current season.

The play will be given March 18 at John Simpson auditorium and the Players' goal is to stage it after only 12 rehearsals—fewer than have been used for any previous major productions.

Not all of the cast, which last night finished work on the second act in a rehearsal at the courthouse, are new.

Herman Clingan who has the role of a veteran high school principal is himself a veteran player. He had a role in "Icebound" the first production by the group 14 years ago.

He also played the prodigal son in "Wappin' Wharf" the Players' second show. That performance, too, was under the direction of Mrs. E. K. Bacon who has announced she will close her career as director of the Players with the present play.

The six new members of the cast are:

Robert Mabee who has appeared in high school plays and is the first high school student ever to take a major role with the Community Players;

Mrs. Lewis Hartman who appeared in several productions in her home town, Mt. Vernon, before coming to Mansfield;

Mrs. Gerald Van Arnam, Patricia Palmer, who has a juvenile lead, James Eberle, Mansfield attorney, and William Zimmerman, another high school student.

Leading role as Henry Aldrich will be done by Richard Grudier who will probably be best remembered for his performance as the B. V. D.-clad youth who had lost his "lilac vegetal" in "Broken Dishes."

Other more or less familiar players in the cast are Martha King, Florence MacDonald, William Lewis, Mrs. Sherman Glessner, and Ken Woodman.

Lee Adams, Douglas Bacon, Patty Bancroft, and Ruth Lee complete the cast.

Sets for the play, which deals with the adventures of high school pupils and their instructors, are being designed and built by Harry Devine.

DIES AT AGE 54

Mrs. F. C. Peterson Succumbs At Hospital; Rites Monday.

A lingering illness resulted in the death yesterday afternoon at Mansfield General hospital of Mrs. Gertrude Daugherty Peterson, 54, Mansfield R. D. 3. She was the wife of Fred C. Peterson.

Mrs. Peterson was born in Lexington, Nov. 20, 1887. She came to Mansfield when she was a year old. Mrs. Peterson was a member of the United Brethren church and the Security Benefit association, here.

She is survived by her husband, Fred C. Peterson, one son, Frederick, and her mother, Mrs. Amanda Daugherty, of Mansfield; one sister, Mrs. Eva Frederick, of Cleveland; three brothers Harry Daugherty, of Steam Corners, Charles and Roy, both of Mansfield; and one grandson.

Funeral services will be held at the Finefrock funeral home Monday at 2 p. m. Rev. James L. Boyer, pastor of the United Brethren church, will officiate. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

OHIO PUBLISHER HURT IN CRASH

Auto Hits Parked Car, Wife Also Injured.

WASHINGTON, C. H.—(U.P.)—Forest F. Tipton, general manager of the Record-Herald here, and his wife were injured severely last night as their car hit a stalled automobile eight miles west of here.

Tipton was secretary to the late Gov. Frank Willis.

The other car belonged to Clem Moreland of Troy, who had been forced to stop by a flat tire.

KILLED BY TRAIN

DEFIANCE —(U.P.)— A streamlined Baltimore & Ohio passenger train hit an automobile at a crossing in the city here today, killing Carl Hesselschardt, 22, and injuring three others riding in the car.

Laff-a-Day

"Everything's the matter! In the first place, your new car won't do 120!"

Up and Down THE STREET

A line that extended in the downstairs lobby of the postoffice building marked the next to the last Saturday that Mansfielders will have an oportunity to pay income taxes. Although the Internal Revenue office closes at 4 p. m. today, deputy revenue collectors expect that next Saturday will find an even greater last minute rush of people who have waited to the closing minutes of the deadline date, March 15.

Police Chief Meade K. Bates is a believer of the old adage that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. So when officers of the department met in the municipal court room last night for their weekly police school session the chief had a spaghetti supper all prepared for them. It was served on paper plates with all the trimmings. It was admitted today, however, that there was little studying after the meal—the bluecoats were too full.

The Richland county marriage license office this week began to resemble the Nevada and Arizona gretna greens where movie stars go for their licenses. The county license clerks issued licenses to two Hollywood players in the past two days, one Thursday to A. Claude Potts, a western player, and another yesterday to Miss Julia Litz, who has played bit roles in pictures. Potts was married the same day to Miss Marjorie Fonkalsrud. Miss Litz, whose movie name is Judy Linn, will be married to Owen J. Miller, Mansfield.

The folks who get their auto license plates at the Chamberlain and Henry store in Olivesburg have become accustomed to WM prefix on their plates and they wouldn't stand for it this year when the state wanted to change it. So many protests were registered with Lee Henry, the Olivesburg deputy registrar, that he had to convince the state the old prefix was good enough. Consequently, the folks will have WM before their license numbers again.

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. Cordelia Weltmer, 80, Dies at Bellville.

BELLVILLE — A lingering illness ended yesterday in the death of Mrs. Cordelia Weltmer, 80, of Bellville. Mrs. Weltner had been a resident of Bellville for the past 53 years.

She was born in Shreve, Jan. 5, 1861. She was a member of the Church of Christ and the Jefferson Temple of Phythian sisters, in Bellville.

Mrs. Weltmer is survived by her husband, J. H. Weltmer, and three children, Eustace, living at home, Mrs. Reatha Emerick and Mrs. Ruth Welker, of Mansfield; four grandchildren and two great grand-children.

Funeral services will be held at the Shafer funeral home, Monday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. E. G. Hamilton will officiate. Burial will be in Bellville cemetery.

BAND MEMBERS GIVEN DINNER

Program Honors Musicians at Prospect Park.

Members of the Mansfield high school band and their families met last night at Prospect park for a covered-dish dinner and program.

The tables were decorated with flags, red and white flowers and favors and cakes which looked like drums. The table at which Director J. Merton Holcombe and the band members were seated was centered with large cutout letters "M. H. S. Band."

The president, Mrs. Fred Ohler, spoke and introduced Holcombe. The band members read poems on the various instruments. Music, games and cards followed.

BRIEF ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH

Mrs. Elva McConnell Succumbs At Home in New London.

SKY LIT FOR MILES AROUND BY RED GLARE

Owner of Plant Working on Defense Orders Unable To Determine Cause.

(By United Press)

CINCINNATI—An outlying glaze mill crib of the King Powder company at King's Mill, O., was blown to ruins shortly after 1:30 a. m. today by a terrific explision of unexplained origin.

There was no one working near the mill at the time and no injuries were reported. The plant, which covers 500 acres about 15 miles northeast of Cincinnati, has been engaged mostly in fulfillment of government defense contracts.

J. W. King, one of the owners, could give no estimate of the damage nor did he know the cause of the explosion pending a personal investigation.

The impact of the blast which lit up the night sky with a red glow was felt for several miles around, one Dayton resident, 30 miles away, said he felt it.

A woman office worker at the company said "I don't think there was much to the explosion. I doubt whether anyone was injured."

State highway patrolmen at Columbus said the shed that exploded was loaded with salt peter and black powder.

Workers at the WLW radio tower at Mason, O., which is several miles from King's Mill, said the explosion blew open the door of their office. They said they saw a big red flash in the sky.

Police at Lockland, O., reported that the blast was felt in Lockland. A deputy sent by the Hamilton county police was denied entrance to the mills.

King's Mill is located about 15 miles northeast of Cincinnati in Warren county between Mason and Foster.

RITES ARE SET

Funeral For W. F. Stepler to Be Held Monday.

Funeral services for William F. Stepler, 64, of 210 South Adams street, who fell dead of a heart attack yesterday in the Dillon garage on North Hammond avenue, will be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday at the Wappner Funeral Home.

Rev. Paul Saleste, pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. The body is at the funeral home.

Mr. Stepler, a carpenter, came to Mansfield five years ago from Indiana. He was a member of St. John's church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Rose Schmitz Stepler; one brother, Daniel Stepler of Monroe, Ind.; three sisters, Miss Sarah E. Stepler of Mansfield, Mrs. Jonas Hoffman of Decatur, Ind., and Mrs. Emma Erhart of Bluffton, Ind.

21 Boy Scouts Given Awards at Prospect Meeting

Awards were given 21 members of the Prospect school Cub Pack at a meeting held last night at the school. Approximately 80 parents and 30 Cubs were present.

Wolf badges were given to the following boys, George Warden, Niles Ohl, Thomas Pankow, Bernard Weaver, Martin Bricker, Sheldon Swank, Harold Butzloff, Thomas Hill, Kenneth Scott, Robert Bush, Donald Priess, Donald Desanze, Dennis Ryan, Paul Cook, Neal Topper.

Bear badges were awarded to Jack Dearman, William Mangan, Robert Mangan and James Gray. George Warden received a Gold Arrow badge.

Following the presentation of awards, Orville Redhair outlined a budget plan for the group. Paul Bush is Cub Master of the pack. George W. Taylor is chairman of the pack committee.

FUNERAL SET

Mrs. Alice Farnsworth, 63, to Be Buried at New London.

NEW LONDON — Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Alice Farnsworth, 63, who died Thursday evening at her home, Grant street, after a lingering illness, have been completed.

Services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Sackett funeral home in charge of Rev. G. L. Kettenring. Burial will be in Grove street cemetery.

Surviving are four daughters, three sons and three brothers. Her husband, George, preceded her in death.

BOYS KILLED

YOUNGSTOWN — (INS) — Edmund W. Storey, 14, and Albert Torpezer, 12, were dead today when a stolen automobile carrying three other teen-age youths skidded out of control and smashed into a tree at high speed.

Young Storey's body was catapulted 20 feet through the front door of a residence. The other boy's body was hurtled 30 feet, striking a tree. Both boys apparently died instantly.

Charges Roosevelt Tries to Keep Yugoslavia From Siding With Axis.

Monroe Doctrine as well as Roosevelt's own promise to the voters to keep America away from war."

Calls on Yugoslavia To Clarify Stand

ROME—(AP)—Virginio Gayda, a Fascist editorial spokesman, indicated today that Yugoslavia would be asked to "clarify her position and intentions" toward the Axis powers as a result of an Axis-reported attempt by President Roosevelt to keep the Balkan country out of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo camp.

Gayda, writing in Il Giornale D'Italia, said "the Anglo-Saxon actions tends to compromise her (Yugoslavia) in every form and create ambiguities every day on her relations with the Axis powers."

"The Belgrade government will not lack the occasion to fix its attitude beyond any possible present and future uncertainty," he added significantly.

A story from Budapest via Berlin reporting a purported offer of American aid to Yugoslavia was printed by Italian newspapers.

Yugoslav Officials Decline Comment

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (AP) Yugoslav official circles declined today to issue a denial of Hungarian press reports that the United States had offered aid to Yugoslavia. They said no denial was necessary "because the whole business is so ridiculous."

Jap Foreign Minister Going to Berlin

(By Associated Press)

A hint of tightening cooperation between Japan and her European Axis partners came today in an official German announcement that Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka would reach Berlin shortly for "personal deliberations on all questions arising from collaboration as set forth in the three-powers pact."

Dispatches from Tokyo said Maj. Gen. Eugen Ott, German ambassador to Japan, has started home to Berlin alone. No date was given for Matsuoka's trip.

One suggestion for Matsuoka's visit to Berlin and also Rome was that the Axis might be contemplating formulation of a common program of action against Britain and the United States, both in Europe and the Far East.

The possibility also was suggested that Japan is loath to participate actively in the war against Britain and wishes to explain her position to Adolf Hitler.

Three Nazi bombers were reported shot down today in dogfights off the English coast as the Luftwaffe resumed its attacks on Britain after a night of comparative quiet.

The German high command said a Nazi submarine and speedboats had sunk two British destroyers and 11 armed merchantmen totalling 61,400 tons in attacks on convoys.

The Italian high command reported a new British attack on the besieged garrison at the southeastern Libyan oasis of Giarabub has been repulsed.

In Madrid the press published a dispatch from Casablanca declaring groups of German officers believed to number more than 100 had arrived in French Morocco to observe the application of armistice terms. These officers, the dispatch said, will "control French Morocco's administrative life, economy and politics in all matters directly or indirectly related to the war and armistice."

Balkan observers intimated today Germany's price for staying a threatened attack on Greece would cost the Greeks every hard-won mile of their gains against Italy and return their troops within their old frontiers.

German diplomats were said by some sources to have promised Greece she could retain all the territory she held before Oct. 28 when the Italians first attacked if she would sign a peace giving Premier Mussolini a "paper victory" in Albania.

But despite 150,000 Nazi soldiers poised for action on the Greek-Bulgarian border, the Greeks battled grimly on in central Albania without a word of additional comment from Athens, where German diplomatic pressure so far apparently has fallen flat.

Greek diplomatic sources at Sofia declared yesterday their country would "fight any German invasion."

Foreign sources in Athens said without confirmation that Gen. Ugo Cavallero had been superseded as Italian commander by Gen. Carolo Gelloso in another shakeup of the Italian command.

Dispatches from Sofia, sent through a new Bulgarian censorship put into effect after Nazi troops took over, told of increasingly heavy diplomatic pressure, too, on Turkey and Yugoslavia.

Axis informants said Yugoslavia —prospective next signer of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact—was relatively a side issue, but intimated that offers of machinery, locomotives and other economic inducements were being held out in an effort to persuade Turkey to relinquish her ties with Britain.

Despite the belligerent anti-Nazi tone of Turkey's press and her defense precautions, there still was no indication she would back up Greece's vow of fighting should the Germans strike toward the Aegean.

German sources professed to believe neither Turkey nor Greece would challenge German arms.

Turkey Continues Defense Movements

(By Associated Press)

ISTANBUL, Turkey — Turkey continued urgent defense measures today as German troops massed on the Bulgarian border and Turkish statesmen made ready to state the country's position in the tense situation.

Istanbul authorities ordered gasoline and other inflammables stored underground, and several cities got set for air raid tests.

The government-inspired press expressed defiance of Germany and urged Yugoslavia to resist Axis overtures.

The newspaper Ikdam declared, however, that "there is only one way to keep Yugoslavia from throwing herself into the arms of her enemies. That is a British force of 300,000 in Salonika."

The newspaper Vatan declared that Turkish troops kept 6,000,000 soldiers occupied in the World war and asked "Will Germany fall into a trap" by inviting the same kind of opposition.

Turkey is stronger militarily than in the World war, the paper asserted, and in addition now has an ally, England, who has command of the seas.

If Germany does fall afoul of Turkey, the paper declared, she will be giving "England the chance she is waiting for."

Fifty carloads of goods for Turkey have been stopped at the Bulgarian border, other newspapers reported.

ance machinery . . . no machinery for discussing the speedup which overtakes men's strength and makes them old at forty."

Ford spokesmen previously have denied most of the union contentions expressed by Thomas.

A recess last night halted negotiations at Washington to settle strikes of the CIO-farm equipment workers organizing committee at four Illinois and Indiana plants of the International Harvester company.

Without disclosing details, President Roosevelt said yesterday he had under consideration the establishment of a special board which would mediate strikes and also consider general production problems.

The chief executive also took occasion to express disapproval of jurisdictional strikes such as the one which has tied up $5,900,000 worth of army air corps construction at Wright Field, Ohio.

Another Detroit strike involved 600 CIO employes of the Federal Motor Truck company, which has $5,000,000 in defense orders.

At Pittsburgh yesterday the CIO steel workers organizing committee, which asked the United States Steel corporation for a 10-cent an hour wage increase, rejected a compromise offer of 2½ cents and threatened to terminate its contract with the company.

OLD INJURIES KILL MAN, 91

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Complications arising from injuries received when he was struck by an auto two months ago were blamed today for the death of 91-year-old Francis A. Squires.

'Victorious Faith,' Subject of Sermon

The subject of Rev. H. S. Garnes' Sunday morning sermon will be "Victorious Faith." The choir, under the direction of Miss Florence MacDonald, will sing the anthem, "Holy Father, Hear My Prayer" by Chiaffin, and "O Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go" by Eggert.

There will be a meeting of the Luther Yeague at 7 p. m. Sunday at which time the pastor will give his lecture on "The Ten Commandments" which is the second of a series on catechism.

Members of the Women's Missionary society will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the parlors of the church. Mrs. David Martin will conduct the devotions and the lesson will be in charge of Miss Mary Beilstein. Hostesses are Mrs. J. A. Lantz and Mrs. Ernest Schafer.

The monthly meeting of the church council will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the parsonage.

There will be a meeting of the Women's Guild Thursday at 2 p. m. for the purpose of completing hospital work. At 4 p. m. Miss Elsie Smith, director of weekday religious instruction in the public schools, will speak on "The Religious Education of a Child." A social hour and dinner will conclude the program.

Another Family Worship Arranged

On Sunday there will be another family worship service at the regular morning worship hour at 10:45 in the First Congregational church. Children nine years of age and over are encouraged to come with their parents to this service. Many families are taking advantage of this period of family fellowship.

Young men of Fred Tracy's class will have part in the service and usher; Jim Edwards, Richard Sparks, David Gibson, Bob Soulen, Richard Burkholder, James Lichtenberger and Larry Osborne.

Rev. Peter Young, the pastor, will preach on "The Story of the Talents." Mrs. Fred A. Lewis, organist, will play "Peace Be with You" by Edmundson and "Marche Triomphal" by Wachs. The choir, under the direction of A. LeMoine Derr, will sing "Great and Marvelous" by Gaul; Bentley Ford will sing as offertory solo "The Publican" by Van de Water.

The youth fellowship will have a covered-dish supper at 6 p. m. Sunday. Rabbi Myron Jacobs will talk on "Christians and Jews Compare Notes." The Pilgrim Guild will have a luncheon meeting on March 11 at 1 p. m. in the church library. There will be a play review by Mrs. Paul Eliot, "The Male Animal" by Elliott Nugent and James Thurber. Mrs. Peter Young will furnish the music. The hostesses are Mrs. John Graham, chairman, Mrs. Harry Hawley, Mrs. F. G. Hart, Mrs. W. B. Hallum, Mrs. Fred Greenwood, Mrs. J. H. Gongwer, Mrs. Russell Gimble, Mrs. Roger Gray, Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. T. J. Patton, and Mrs. R. D. Lindsay.

The pastor will again conduct a training class for the boys and girls in the church school from 12 to 18 years of age who have not yet united with the church. The purpose of the class is to give instruction in the meaning of church membership. There will be five meetings on Sunday afternoons at 4:30 o'clock, beginning Sunday.

Conducts Revival

Mrs. Alice Hampp of Lima, above, missionary evangelist, who spent seven years in Africa, will conduct revival services at the Free Methodist church, Woodland avenue and Harker street, beginning Monday at 7:30 p. m., and continuing through March 23.

Temple to Hold Purim Service

Observance of the annual Purim celebration will be held at Temple Emanuel Sunday at 8 p. m. Rabbi Myron W. Jacobs will deliver a Purim message entitled, "Escaping Judaism."

The Purim observance is based upon the Book of Esther. The service of Mordecai and Esther in saving the people has been commemorated annually since that time.

Rabbi Jacobs will comment upon that text in his Sunday service. The annual observance of the celebration is March 13.

Lesson-Sermon at Scientist Church

"Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in the Church of Christ, scientist, Sunday.

The golden text is: "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is" (I John 3:2).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. . . . When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory" (Colossians 3:1,4).

Services Set at St. Mark's Church

"The Christ of Hearsay and the Christ of Experience" is the subject chosen for the sermon for Sunday morning at the St. Mark's Lutheran church. On Wednesday at 7:45 p. m. the third of the series on "Some Human Estimates Will Be Underestimating Christ" will be given.

There will be a meeting of the Golden Rule class Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wendland, 147 Bowman street, with Mrs. Mary Gilkinson as associate hostess. The meeting of the church guild was postponed to March 17 that members might attend the Mission Study Book Review at the St. Paul Lutheran church March 10 at 6 p. m.

Members of the Luther League will conduct a weekly devotional service Sunday at 6:30 p. m. in charge of Martha Piper. The topic will be "Christ's Kindness."

The monthly meeting of the church council will be held at the church Wednesday evening following the Lenten services. On Saturday at 10 a. m. the catechetical class will meet.

SPECIAL RITES AT LEXINGTON

In addition to its regular Sunday morning program of worship and Bible study, the Congregational church in Lexington, under the direction of Rev. Virgil B. Mayne, pastor, will conduct Sunday and Thursday evening special services throughout the remainder of Lent.

During the week of March 16-23 a preaching mission, with the following named Mansfield ministers as guest speakers: Sunday, Rev. Peter Young; Monday, Rev. Herman L. Gilbert; Tuesday, Rev. Glenn F. Lewis; Wednesday, Henry H. Ford; Thursday, Rev. E. G. Corwin; Friday, Rev. Roland L. Showalter. All evening services begin at 8 p. m.

'QUESTIONS' TO BE SUBJECT OF SUNDAY SERVICE

The Power to Make the World Ask Them to Be Topic of Rev. D. N. Roller.

Rev. D. N. Roller, pastor of First Presbyterian church, will speak Sunday at 10:30 a. m. on the topic, "The Power to Make the World Ask Questions." Appropriate selections have been prepared by the choir, which will sing the offertory number and the anthem. Organ selections will be played by the organist, Miss Mabel Zehner.

There will be an executive board meeting and session of the program committee of the Dunker's club in the church study Tuesday at 7:15 p. m.

The Christian Endeavor society for the high school age group will meet in the church parlors Sunday at 7 p. m. in charge of Miss Marjorie McClure. There will be a penny supper in the church parlors from 6 to 7 p. m. Monday.

Mrs. Dan R. Wolff, 516 Marion avenue, will entertain members of the Rachel France Guild Monday at 7:30 p. m., assisted by Mrs. George Ingram and Mrs. I. W. Basinger. Mrs. George Hout of the First Methodist church, will review the play, "There Shall Be No Night There" by Sherwood.

Mrs. L. J. Ott, 759 Woodhill road, will be hostess to members of the Bethany Circle for an Irish party and luncheon Tuesday at 1 p. m. Mrs. L. B. Bourns is chairman, to be assisted by Mrs. C. H. Moran, Mrs. Gordon Colby, Mrs. Paul Eliot, Mrs. A. H. Moellenkamp, Mrs. Paul Watts, Mrs. J. B. Simons, Mrs. Warren Fort and Mrs. D. C. Lavender. Rev. D. N. Roller will give "The History of the Church."

Members of the Judge Mansfield Bible class will meet in the church parlors at 2 p. m. Tuesday. Mrs. Edwin Mansfield and Mrs. Elizabeth Smythe will be hostesses.

On Wednesday at 6 p. m. the Guild of the Grace Episcopal church will serve dinner in the undercroft of the church. Later at 7:45 p. m. there will be union Lenten service. The choir of the First Presbyterian church will participate in the service and Rev. Roller will give the sermon.

Members of the Helping Hand Bible class of the church will hold a covered dish dinner at the church Friday at 12:30.

Resumes Series On Commandments

Continuing the series of sermons on "The Ten Commandments" by Dr. P. H. Saleste, pastor of the St. John's Evangelical church, the theme for Sunday at 10:30 a. m. will be "The Seventh Commandment." He will be assisted at this service by the junior choir of 35 voices, which once each month presents a sacred anthem, under the direction of John Klinger. On Sunday the choir will sing "Who Wilt Keep Him In Perfect Peace."

The third mid-week Lenten service is scheduled for Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at which time the theme will be "That Heavy Cross." The Men's chorus will sing "The Banner of the Cross."

Outstanding in the series of mid-week services for the church are a Brotherhood turkey supper Monday at 6:30 p. m. which is the annual ladies' night party. A musical program and colored travel pictures shown by Dr. C. F. Shafer will compose the entertainment. George Keil is chairman of the social hour.

Other meetings for the week include St. John's Guild Wednesday at 2 p. m.; Junior Young People's League meeting, Wednesday at 8:30 p. m.; Senior Young People's League, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. and choir rehearsals, Junior-Friday at 6:30 p. m. and Senior-Friday at 7:30 p. m.

Hold Mission Study Review

The Missionary societies of the St. Paul Lutheran church will sponsor the annual Mission Study Review Monday at 6:30 p. m. in the church parlors when members of the St. Mark's Lutheran church will be guests at a covered dish supper and program which is intended to reach the membership of both congregations.

Mrs. Martin W. Wappner will review the book, "Stand By For Christ," by Procat. Mrs. William Bolley, St. Paul society president, will present the devotions.

A double trio will sing several numbers. The singers are Mrs. Jone Brook, Miss Ruth Bollman, Mrs. Herman L. Gilbert, Miss Helen Boyer, Miss Louise Seybold, and Mrs. Russell Hawk, accompanied by Miss Lillian Damlos at the piano. Miss Seybold and Mrs. Gilbert will play a piano duet. Mrs. Henry Loesch and Mrs. Michael Loesch will form the dinner committee.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Roy F. Swaney, 26 Dunbilt court, will entertain the St. Paul's Guild. Mrs. Henry Fischer will give the devotions, and will later present Miss Eleanor Bond, Girl Scout executive, who will speak on "Girl Scout Activities in Mansfield."

The Lutheranites, intermediate young people's group, will gather Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the church when Harold Lash will lead the topic discussion. Arthur Zerbey, William Smith, Anna Marie Fischer, and Ann Marie Pasheilich will direct the social program.

Miss Helen Boyer, 512 Newman street, will open her home Thursday evening to the Mary Markley society. Mrs. Herman L. Gilbert is scheduled to give the evening's program.

Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor, will present the second of Christ's words from the cross, using the theme, "Today, Be With Me." The nursery program will be supervised by Mrs. Charles Hall and Marie Holzworth during the church hour. "Faith Triumphant" will be the subject of the sound motion picture film which will be shown Sunday at 7:30 p. m. as the second in the series of sound pictures on the "Life of the Apostle Paul." The church choir and O. L. Seybold, organist, will present special music in connection with this second vesper service.

Congregations to Hold Union Service

Congregations of Grace Episcopal and First Presbyterian churches will join in a union service at Grace Episcopal church Wednesday evening at 7:45 p. m.

Rev. D. N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be the preacher, and the First Presbyterian choir will join with the Grace church Boys choir in the musical portion of the services. Miss Mabel Zehner will be organist and Mrs. Charles Edlin, choir director. Rev. Glenn F. Lewis, rector of Grace Episcopal church, will conduct the service.

Preceding the service at 6 p. m. both congregations will join in a fellowship supper in the undercroft of the church. Mrs. Robert W. Jones is chairman of the committee in charge. Reservations will be made at the offices of both churches before Tuesday noon.

Sunday Rev. Lewis will preach at the 11 a. m. service on "Thou Shalt Put God First" and will give the fourth in a series of confirmation lectures on the church at 7:30 p. m. on the subject "The Prayer Book—Its History and Use." Kappa Beta Kappa will have a supper meeting in the undercroft at 5:30 p. m., David Talbot, jr., presiding.

The week day Holy Communion will be Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in the chapel.

Sermon To Be On 'Reality of Sin'

Sunday morning Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger will preach on the second in a series of Lenten sermons, "The Reality of Sin" at the worship hour at the First Christian church.

Mrs. H. H. Clingan, organist, will play "Meditation" by Kinder, "Idyll in D Flat" by Faulkes and "Allegro" by Steane, the anthem will be "Blessed Jesus" by D'Vorak.

The Christian Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m. Helen Hagelbarger will be the leader in the discussion on "The Development of the Disciples of Christ," Betty Pfleiderer will lead the devotions. The Homemakers class will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, 56 Chilton avenue.

Evangelists To Speak Sunday

Evangelistic services now being conducted at the South Main Street Evangelical church will continue through Sunday with services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Rev. Clyde R. Waudell of Toledo will conduct the services.

Members of the Workers' council of the Sunday school will meet Monday at the church at 7:30 p. m. The third quarterly conference of the church will take place Thursday at 8:30 p. m., following the prayer meeting service.

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1941.

Drive carefully tomorrow—remember that you might be badly injured instead of merely killed.

The American way has always been to license saloonkeepers, but Indiana proposes to license the customers.

Maybe it would be just as well to have the meek inherit the earth right away—except that they probably wouldn't stay meek.

Record-Breaking State Budget

AS AN ANSWER to suggestions that there could be tax reductions in Ohio this year, to partially offset higher federal taxes for defense purposes, Governor Bricker has just submitted to the legislature a two-year budget in which he recommends the highest expenditures in the history of the state.

The total called for in the budget is $352,308,606.80—an increase of more than eleven million dollars over the preceding two years.

While all of the expenditures recommended in the governor's budget message may come within the bounds of "reasonable needs" the fact remains that a number of these needs have existed for many years and, without doubt, another one or two hundred million dollars could be used to advantage in the improvement of penal and welfare institutions, state universities, fairgrounds, etc.

The federal government has shown, during the past eight years, that there is no end to ways in which public money can be spent and states have been inclined to follow along a similar carefree course.

Now, however, there are inescapable national defense costs which must be given first consideration and, while the legitimate functions of local, state and federal government must be carried on in a regular way, it would appear that taxpayers are justified in asking that all possible economies be introduced in non-defense expenditures.

This has not yet been done in the extravagantly bureaucratic operation of federal government, nor does Governor Bricker seem to intend that it shall be done in state government.

Ohio's share in the national defense budget of 35 billion dollars already provided for is $2,250,000,000—representing more than a thousand dollars a year during the next ten years, for each person working in this state.

After all, it is not what people would LIKE TO HAVE, but WHAT THEY CAN PAY FOR that counts, and it would appear that in proposing the highest budget and the largest building program in the history of the state, at a time like this, Governor Bricker is not "cutting the garment to the cloth."

Judging Future By the Past

WE HAVE no way of judging the future except by the past," said Daniel Webster in his "Supposed Speech of John Adams." Walter Lippman repeats that ancient truth with regard to American education.

"We must ask ourselves," he says in a New York Tribune article, "the question whether in fact there is any way, except by studying the past, of educating men in the present for the future."

American education now seems to be centering more and more on the present. So a generation is arising whose education seems based on modern science and ephemeral things rather than the history, culture, principles and verities that shaped the minds of former generations of Americans.

Mr. Lippman favors as much as ever, perhaps more, the principles and practices of the old culture. "The struggles between Hellas and Persia," he says, "between Athens and Sparta, between Rome and Carthage, are a better subject for the textbooks in the schools than are the communiques, broadcasts and comments of the present war."

This is true, he explains, because the past is more intelligible than the present. We can read the old records of how men much like us worked out their problems. The whole record is there, with its clear presentation of cause and effect, of good and evil. The issues are clearer, the results are conclusive. The student can study them without heat or bias. Then he is better able to grasp similar problems that are shaking the world today.

Straight Thinking On Income Tax

PAUL MALLON, in a recent column, warns income taxpayers that there is worse to come. Those inclined to tear their hair over this year's tax bill, he says, might save time by tearing it all out, because next year's bill will be higher.

The people addressed, if many reports are true, are likely to answer, "Who's tearing out hair? Not I. I'd a lot rather pay for some of this defense stuff now than later. And I'd rather contribute to Uncle Sam's defense purse than to Hitler's bag of loot. Furthermore, I think the income tax is about the fairest and most sensible tax there is."

That, at least, is the general trend of remarks reported by men at internal revenue collection offices. They've been surprised at the number of people who have said they were glad to help pay for defense, or thankful to have an income that put them in the taxpaying group, or something else of the sort.

The public wants to get its money's worth for taxes, but it seems to be more aware than congress that a government worth having and a freedom worth preserving deserves the financial as well as the vocal support of every citizen.

An Essential of Brotherhood

DR. DAWSON C. BRYAN, of Houston, Tex., finds racial prejudice and misunderstanding one of the most critical problems of the age. Addressing a Lenten congregation, he urged men to "recognize their common humanity and essential brotherhood with people of all races." He emphasized his idea with a striking comparison.

Since God created man as he created all else, said Dr. Bryan, men should be able to appreciate five colors in mankind as they recognize seven in the rainbow.

A rainbow certainly would not be so lovely and thrilling a sight if it lost any of its colors. It may be that the human race, by trying to divide itself into separate racial groups, has missed much that is lovely and thrilling in life. Such groups know only their own kind and impoverish their own cultures by shutting out the variety and stimulation of the others.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—In private life Elsa Lanchester is the wife of the actor Charles Laughton. A couple of years ago she wrote a book called "Charles Laughton and I" which, informally and in a series of chatty, rather sketchy episodes, set forth the principal chapters of Laughton's career as an actor.

I did not think so much of the book. After meeting Miss Lanchester at various parties and seeing her a couple of times on the screen, I remembered her as a slim, pleasant young woman who talked engagingly of life in the English countryside and of "laying by" a dozen or so quarts of sloe-gin for use on sultry summer nights when guests were at hand. But I was not too much impressed with her talents as an actress.

* * *

IT MAY be that this judgment will have to be revised. She has come east to play the leading role in a melodrama called "They Walk Alone," and, after sitting through a rehearsal at the Maxine Elliott theater, I am quite willing to cast aside earlier impressions and go on from here.

This play is a curious half-comedy, half-thriller, with an underlying somberness that leaves you wondering what mood precisely was Max Catto, the author, in when he thought it up.

It is the story of an English family near London. A series of murders is committed. All the victims are handsome young men with well set-up physiques and other similar attributes. Miss Lanchester plays the part of a not-so-simple Cornish servant girl with an eye for men. Her mistress half-fears her and suspects her of conduct not in keeping with the moral standards of young girls, servants or otherwise. The girl is patently a psychopathic case and subject to sudden and violent fits of surliness and of anger. There is an unmistakable quality of menace to this characterization. It is a part that requires real understanding and ability, and it seems to me that Miss Lanchester is a find for this important role. She certainly left this impression, not only with me, but with Berthold Viertel, her director, by her performance in this rehearsal.

* * *

VIERTEL tells me she will "play this role as if she owns it," and since he directed the English version of this play, which was a hit of seven months' duration, he should know.

Viertel is a striking character out of life himself. He is silver-haired and high foreheaded and wears blue double-breasted coats which always swing open. He is from Vienna, and from London and Hollywood and New York and is probably more truly an international than any of our Broadway directors. He has three sons and one, just 19, has already written a book. "We are all Americans now," he says proudly. "This is our home and here we will live and work and die." Viertel, besides his motion pictures, has directed more than 120 plays. His technique differs from most directors. Instead of bawling instructions from a podium, he goes to each player and whispers his instructions, then emphasizes his meaning by acting out the scene. It is a method that obtains results.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, March 8, 1921.

Y. M. C. A. offered special membership rate to men out of employment on account of the depression.

Young people of Central Methodist church were observing "Win My Chum" week.

Mrs. Paul Wingert, Altamont avenue, was surprised by friends on 68th birthday anniversary.

LeRoy Nunmaker, 42, former Mansfield resident, died in Chicago.

Ray Eggert, of Waterloo, Ia., visited here while enroute on an eastern business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Urich were appointed superintendent and matron of Richland county home.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, March 8, 1936.

C. H. Wagner was named general manager of Stroup Motors corporation.

Announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Rozella Lybarger of Plymouth and Clayton Frontz, Oct. 7, 1935 in Covington, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bowser returned home after spending the winter in Florida.

Jean Patou, 47, celebrated Parisian dressmaker, died.

It was predicted home building activity in Mansfield would reach a new high for the year.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Millard Fillmore, at the age of seventy-four, died in Buffalo, N. Y., on March 8, 1874. Fillmore succeeded to the presidency as the thirteenth president of the U. S. on the death of Zachary Taylor.

THE NEGLECTED NEST

Long-Drawn-Out War Probable

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—Belief increases here that the war will be long drawn out, and that the waste of time on the part of the senate in debating the lease-lend-aid-Britain bill will not make very much difference in the long run in view of the fact that the government is going ahead almost as though it had passed.

The move of Germany into the Balkans is regarded by experts here as a sign of weakness, not strength. It is taken to mean that Germany has abandoned the hope of winning the war with one knockout blow. Attacks on the British in the Mediterranean and intensified attacks on shipping in the North Atlantic may be serious, but they are not moves calculated to bring the war to an end in 1941.

* * *

THERE is no discounting the gravity of the shipping situation. Tonnage is being destroyed at an appalling rate. The slowness of this country to realize that this was certain to be so, as pointed out in these dispatches in the fall of 1939, is flabbergasting.

But even if the Germans were able to establish an airtight blockade of Britain immediately the British could live and fight for one full year. They have enough food, and while they might run very low on airplanes if they had a lot of air fighting, they would still be in there punching at the end of the year.

Now of course an airtight blockade of Britain will not happen, even if Hitler's blockade by air and sea is much more effective than anyone now believes it will be. Lots of ships will get through. Airplanes can be flown now, from Canada. It would be possible to fly the fighters by dividing the flight into hops with stops at Greenland and Iceland.

At present the British have been urging us to provide them with bombers, rather than fighters. The point is that in their fear of the invasion they themselves have been concentrating on fighters. Also, the fact that bombers could be flown over made more cargo space for food and munitions available.

But there is already an airfield, which the British have rushed to a fairly satisfactory state, in Iceland, and it would not be a terrific problem to establish another in Greenland, thus permitting the shorter range fighting planes to be flown to Britain.

This would mean, pretty nearly, that the only hope of the blockade would be to starve Britain out, and, as already pointed out, she has one year's stock of food, even not allowing for the most recent voluntary cut in rations for the soldiers and sailors in Britain.

* * *

LETTERS coming through from Britain show, moreover, that all sorts of expedients not considered when this one-year estimate was made (during the time Harry Hopkins was in Britain) are being tried. For instance, seagull eggs as a breakfast dish had not been thought of then. And no calculation was made on lots of little patches of ground which now are growing food inside the tight little island.

Conviction is here that Hitler is reconciled to not crushing Britain in 1941, and there are those who would not be surprised to see Germany march into the long coveted Ukraine before this calendar year is concluded.

Listen World!

Up-Hill All the Way

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I'M QUOTING again from Dr. James T. Nix's surprising book, "A Surgeon Reflects." Surgeons' reflections being generally about as comforting and inspiring as a dose of hives, I usually duck when I see them coming.

But here, as I said before, is something different. Not just one more gloomy assurance that if Dandruff doesn't get you, Diabetes will, but the healthy optimism of a man who dares to see things whole, dares to admit that the Spirit plays as great, or far greater part in sickness or health, victory or defeat, than bone, blood, gland or muscle.

But don't expect any consoling coos as you read his vital paragraphs. "Life is real" and plenty earnest to this man who has taken so many sick bodies apart and put them together again. He promises no picnics or easy panaceas . . . offers no pretty palaver. A surgeon can remove, says he, your gallbladder—but no one on earth can remove the temptations and tribulations which will make or break you as a man.

IF YOU WANT LIFE, YOU'LL HAVE TO FIGHT FOR IT EVERY STEP OF THE WAY, warns Dr. Nix. Then quotes Christian Rosetti's valiant lines:

"Does the road wind up-hill all the way?
"Yes, to the very end.
"Will the day's journeys last the whole, long way?
"From morn to night, my friend."

"The road winds up-hill all the way," there's a fact most of us need to face. Our fighting fathers didn't kid themselves or their children about the quality of human existence. They knew it was a tough and lifelong tussle, and if you couldn't meet the tests, it was Just Too Bad. They also knew, by grim experience, that there was no easy escape from these tests. Riches wouldn't help you . . . smartness and success couldn't insulate you . . . fun and friends couldn't pad the falls. The outcome depended on your own faith and fortitude, and nothing else but.

So they believed and so they taught their children, those hardy heros who tackled the wilderness, won the West and built the mightiest nation on earth.

But how far we moderns have drifted from their robust and realistic philosophy! Instead of frankly realizing, as they did, that human existence is bound to be a continuous bare-knuckle bout, we've come to believe that happiness is our natural lot. Everything should be merry and bright, and if it isn't something or someone is doing us dirt.

Where they placed their bets on pluck, prayer and perspiration, we place ours on giggles, graft and gadgets, play games and have pep talks. Then go off and have a good hard cry if life laughs at our trick program and knocks us for a goal.

That doesn't mean there aren't hard fighters and straight thinkers today!; there are! The finest ever. But most of us are still hanging on to a lot of juvenile notions. We're slaphappy . . . living from dream to dream . . . waiting for life to Do Right by us.

Well, it won't! Life isn't a bowl of cherries and you've no right to expect it to be. And there's no use talking about the "good old days when everyone was so happy." There never were any such good old days. Life always has and always will be a succession of whams. The only difference was, gramma and gramp knew how to take them!

Timely Editorial

Pedigreed Hot Dogs.

Hereafter the contents of the great American piece de resistance, familiarly known as the hot dog, will not be a mystery, as though anyone cared.

The government regulations require the hot dogs to carry labels revealing their contents, a sort of a pedigree as it were.

The fact that the great consuming public hasn't known specifically what meats composed this blushing delicacy didn't seem to interfere with its popularity. All that was asked was the right to specify what was to be slopped on the hot dog before it was eaten, chopped onions, sauce, or mustard.

Label or no label, man will continue to bite the dog.—Ohio State Journal.

This Is Ohio

THE Rome Beauty apple originated in Ohio accidentally.

Joel Gillett of Rome township, Lawrence county, received several fruit trees from the Putnam nursery near Marietta in 1816. Among them was a seedling which was given to his son, Alanson.

Set out near the Ohio river, the seedling in a few years produced apples of exceptional quality, beautifully colored and much different from any found in the vicinity.

Solomon Churchill, a fruit grower, made the first grafts from the original tree. Later nursery companies obtained scions. It was extensively propagated throughout southern Ohio, becoming a standard variety under the name of Rome Beauty, often miscalled Roman Beauty. The original tree was destroyed by a flood in 1860.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

Why We Call It a "Dime."

Having all the earmarks of an American colloquialism, the word "dime" for our ten-cent piece is intrinsically a church as well as a Latin legacy.

Directly we have it from the identical French dime tithe, used in past centuries in England as well as in France, to designate that portion of one's income—one-tenth—which was the church's due.

It is interesting to note that that part of Genesis 14:20 of the King James Bible which reads, "He gave him tithes of all," was translated by John Wycliffe as, "He gave him dymes of alle thingis."

Senate Majority Losing Patience Over Tactics of Lease-Lend Antis

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A RARELY-IMPOSED device, the cloture, restricts a senator to one speech of not more than an hour on the bill under discussion.

Aged, peppery Senator Glass came out for cloture during the lease-lend debate. He opined that "there have been too many speeches already." When cloture came to a showdown, however, the necessary two-thirds vote couldn't be mustered.

Administration strategists then began searching for other ways to light fires under the opposition speechmakers and force a final vote on the bill by this weekend. Opponents insisted there wasn't a chance of such action. There were more than 20 amendments to be disposed of first and the opposition hadn't concluded formal speechmaking. Consideration of amendments began Wednesday.

'Value Vague,' Says Wheeler.

Earlier two opposing leaders, Senator George (pro) and Senator Wheeler (anti) tangled verbally when George tried to interrupt a lengthy Wheeler speech. Wheeler snapped, "I have the floor."

"Yes," shot back George, "and you've had it for almost two weeks."

"I'll have it for two more weeks if I want it," Wheeler retorted.

"Then it's a filibuster," George shouted.

Returning to his speech, Wheeler asserted that the bill's provision that no more than $1,300,000,000 worth of our existing arms could be transferred to another nation was meaningless. He said the president could give away what he wished and place any value he wished on the material.

Thereupon he picked up a law book, "Corpus Jeris," and read that there were various kinds of value: market value, use value, sentimental value. He wanted value defined. George replied that "value" was "value."

Walsh's Four Points.

Senator Walsh listed four aspects of the bill that he said might get us into war:

1. "There is nothing in the bill to prevent the use of our navy or air force by Great Britain.

2. "There is nothing in the bill to prevent the use of our navy in convoy service.

3. "There is apparently nothing in the bill to prevent sending our armed forces to the scene of the European conflict.

4. "There is nothing in the bill to prevent alien ships now in sanctuary in our harbors from being seized and transferred to other belligerents."

Thereupon Senator Smathers said he was tired of "parrot-like prattle" that the bill's passage meant war.

To eliminate one obstacle to speedy enactment, the administration began considering seriously an amendment of Senator O'Mahoney which would guarantee that neither the army nor navy would be utilized in the delivery of war supplies to Britain. O'Mahoney's amendment was generally regarded as a compromise for the Ellender amendment which provided that nothing in the bill could be construed as giving FDR any new authority to send troops out of this hemisphere.

Secretary Hull warned that passage of the Ellender amendment would be a green light to Japan.

Quotes

Dr. L. M. Birckhead, national director of the Friends of Democracy, scores subversive elements: "It's time for all Americans to stand up and be counted on one side or the other."

Dr. Charles Seymour, president of Yale University, urges America to accept responsibility in the battle to maintain democracy: "It is the lesson of history that if you want something of value you must be willing to pay for it."

At Home

America Arms.

Because of an "extremely urgent" need for machine tools, the Office of Production Management appealed for idle equipment to be sold to armament makers as a "patriotic service." (Machine tools are those used to make the machines which in turn make finished products.)

Washingtonians heard that FDR was preparing to set up a supercommittee of four cabinet members and perhaps Harry Hopkins to dovetail our own defense program with the program to send aid to Britain. The group would determine the combined British-U. S. needs and decide what portion of the total should be released to Britain. Full responsibility for production, however, would still rest with the OPM, co-directed by William Knudsen and Sidney Hillman.

* * *

Strike Effects.

President Roosevelt told his press conference about a Florida man who had written him that he was horrified at how strikes had broken down defense production.

That was of course an erroneous impression, the president said. Actually, Mr. Roosevelt said, only a quarter of one per cent—a 400th part—of defense projects were affected by strikes.

Undersecretary of War Patterson proposed that strike-prevention machinery be set up similar to the World war labor board. And OPM Director Knudsen suggested a plan to prevent minority strikes and require a "cooling off" period in defense industry labor disputes.

The Bethlehem Steel strike at Buffalo, N. Y., ended with a settlement which provided for a conference to seek adjustment of differences, and for an exploration of the possibility of holding a collective bargaining election.

* * *

Forecast.

Employment experts told an AP writer that the backbone of unemployment will be broken by mid-Summer of this year and that by 1942 competitive bidding for all types of labor will be the rule. Manufacturers will be vying with one another for the services of the ordinary healthy worker, they said.

Abroad

Winant's Receptionists.

When Britain's ambassador, Lord Halifax, came to America, President Roosevelt upset tradition by going to the Chesapeake Bay to meet him.

When FDR's new ambassador to Britain, shaggy-haired John Winant, reached Bristol, England, by plane, he was greeted by boyish, chubby-cheeked Brendan Bracken, Prime Minister Churchill's personal representative.

Five minutes later the Duke of Kent, brother of King George VI, puffed up, apologized for being late. Winant and Kent went to the plane. They posed for pictures just as though the duke had been on time. Nervously Winant tugged at his crumbled clothing and said: "There's no place I'd rather be than in England."

On the trip across England, the party stopped off at a railway station where the king himself—having abandoned protocol—was waiting. The king pumped Winant's hand. Upon reaching London George whisked Winant to his palace to have tea with Queen Elizabeth.

* * *

Bicycles and 'Bad' Bread.

A bicycle hanging from a tree doesn't mean Halloween in Holland. It may mean that Hollanders are taking mild revenge on a neighbor suspected of being too friendly with the Nazi conquerors. The bike is the most common method of transportation in Holland now.

After the strikes and riots in Amsterdam were quelled the Germans fined the city 15,000,000 guilders, nominally about $8,000,000. Eighteen Dutch men were sentenced to death for such stunts as pushing Nazis into canals.

Stories of growing disorder in Paris were brought across the Atlantic by steamboat passengers. All silk was reported confiscated for parachutes and one couple said they had to leave because the bread was so bad "it gave us cramps."

* * *

South of El Paso.

At Havana last summer the American republics agreed to work together for mutual defense.

Already the U. S. has joined with Canada—a non-republic—in a joint defense board for working out methods of mutual defense. During the past week, U. S. defense agreements were being extended south to Mexico and Panama.

Mexican and U. S. army, navy and air experts began discussing mutual aid ideas which may include construction of American naval bases on the Mexican coast.

President Arnulfo Arias of Panama proclaimed solidarity of his nation with the U. S. in defending the Panama Canal and disclosed an agreement permitting establishment of anti-aircraft sites outside the limits of the ten-mile-wide Canal Zone.

In Short

Ordered: Italy, to close its consulates at Detroit and Newark for reasons of national policy, by the U. S.

Escaped: Former King Carol of Rumania, from protective custody in Spain to Portugal. His red-haired friend, Mme. Magda Lupescu, reportedly fled with him.

Died: Former King Alfonso XIII of Spain (he died in Rome in exile, but Spain granted permission for his burial in the royal pantheon in the Escorial); Walter O'Hara, mercurial erstwhile Rhode Island horseracing and political figure; Ruby Laffoon, who as governor of Kentucky created thousands of "Kentucky colonels;" Gutzon Borglum, mountainside sculptor.

Everyday Poem

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

"I Haven't Had a Show."

"I haven't had a show," he said.
How much we like to blame
Fate, if we fail and do not gain
Our wishes, wealth or fame.

And yet most often it is not
In any outside thing,
This loss and failure, but within
Ourselves. The answering

To why success has failed us, if
We will admit it, lies
With us, and in the end this truth
None but a fool denies.

STUDY DEMANDS ON U. S. STEEL

SWOC Committee Seeks Way To Enforce Its Call For 10-Cent Increase.

PITTSBURGH—A steel workers organizing committee "policy" conference today considered steps to enforce demands on U. S. Steel corporation for a flat 10 cent hourly wage increase after formally rejecting a counter-proposal for a pay boost of one fourth that amount.

Philip Murray, CIO president and SWOC chairman, informed the corporation that presidents of 66 local unions in U. S. Steel plants employing 261,000 workers, had rejected the proposal of a flat two and a half cent increase, conditioned upon the corporation's operating rate remaining above 85 per cent of capacity.

He said the conference would consider invocation of an "escape" clause in the existing agreement if a satisfactory answer is not forthcoming. The contract may be opened on 10 days' notice and would expire if a new agreement was not reached in another 10 days.

Such action would bring serious production threats to the steel industry, now boomed to about 96 per cent of capacity by defense orders, at virtually the same time the CIO will be seeking wage concessions from the soft coal industry.

United Mine Workers representatives will meet with Appalachian district operators in New York Tuesday to negotiate an agreement to replace the present one, which expires April 1.

STRIKE ENDED

Die Casters Go Back to Work At Cleveland Plant.

CLEVELAND—(UP)—Termination of a four-day strike called by the National Association of Die Casting Workers (CIO) at Pressure Castings, Inc., Euclid, was announced today by George H. Ralls, company president. Some of the 120 strikers returned to work this morning.

Wage increases, vacations with pay and machinery to settle grievances are provided for in the contract, according to Alex Balint, union regional director.

ANNUAL GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE PLANNED BY CRESTLINE GROUP

CRESTLINE—At a meeting of the Crestline Ministerial association held this week at the home of Rev. W L. Margard, in the Calvary Reformed parsonage, arrangements were made for the annual observance of Good Friday services

A three-hour union service starting at noon was again agreed upon According to established custom of rotating the service at each church, it would this year be at the Presbyterian church, but since that congregation is at present without a pastor, the service will be held at the Methodist church and the pastor, Rev O. F. Hull, will arrange the program. He will be assisted by Rev. Margard and Rev. S A. Metzger, of the English Lutheran church.

The annual election of officers of the association was held at this meeting and Rev. Margard and Rev. C. H. Lange of Trinity Lutheran church, were re-elected president and secretary, respectively.

* * *

Pins were chosen for the Hi-Y members when that group met in regular session Thursday evening in the Young Men's club rooms. Herbert Jackson, president, presided and led devotionals, after which Earl Remy gave a talk on Camp Nelson Dodd.

* * *

Rev. C. H. Lange led the devotionals for the monthly meeting of the Trinity Lutheran Aid society at the church Thursday. The president, Mrs. Harry Kraner was in charge of the business. Mrs. William Kress was named chairman of next month's committee. Supper was served by a committee composed of Mrs. R. P. Kraner, Mrs Ed Bletz, Mrs. Devore and Mrs John Krichbaum.

FIREMEN ELECT

THEATERS

Drama of Modern South.

Together as a team for the third time, the stars of "Virginia," Madeleine Carroll and Fred MacMurray, present a charming southern couple in a beautiful setting. The story tells of a difficult decision a woman, born in Virginia and reared in the North, has to make when she falls in love with a Southerner offering her only the hardships and traditions of plantation life. Stirling Hayden, a newcomer, is seen in this technicolor film. As a prologue to the picture members of the A cappella choir of the Senior high school will sing "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginy" at 7 and 9.45 p m. tonight at the Ohio.

* * *

Legal Complications.

A legal technicality by which a scrappy married young couple suddenly discover they're not married at all, forms the theme of the new Carole Lombard-Robert Montgomery film, "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," showing at the Madison. Gene Raymond plays the top-featured role of the partner of Montgomery's. The film was produced from the Norman Krasna's original screen-play.

* * *

Fred Astaire Film.

Paulette Goddard is teamed with Fred Astaire as the dancing partner of the swing-time comedy, "Second Chorus," opening Sunday at the Ritz. It's a fast-moving picture which also features Artie Shaw and his band, and supplies Charles Butterworth for comedy. Four hit tunes are heard in the picture, "Love of My Life," "Poor Mr. Chisholm," "I Ain't Hep To That Step But I'll Dig It," and "Hot Concerto." Co-feature is "Flight Command" starring Ruth Hussey, Walter Pidgeon and Robert Taylor.

* * *

Life Begins.

The hilarious career of a woman whose life really began at 60 and how her fame brought romance to two young people, forms the theme of "Let's Make Music," which marks the debut of Bob Crosby, No. 1 swing band leader. The picture co-starring Jean Rogers with Crosby, opens Sunday at the Park. Also in the cast are Elizabeth Risdon, Joyce Compton and Joseph Buloff. Co-feature is "Friendly Neighbors," with the Weaver brothers and Elviry in the lead.

Two Big Shows.

"Boom Town" returns to Mansfield again, this time to the Majestic beginning Tuesday. On the bill for Sunday and Monday are "Mortal Storm," starring Margaret Sullavan and James Stewart, and "I Love You Again" with William Powell and Myrna Loy cast in the leading roles. The latter picture is one of the team's funniest pictures, without the "Thin Man" tag. They are cast as husband and wife but the many complications that develop for them make for an interesting plot

TWO INSURANCE OFFICES ROBBED AT NOON HOUR

Galion Police Report Theft Of Approximately $30; Say Doors Forced.

GALION — During the noon hour, Friday, two insurance offices in the Wyandot building, public square, were entered and approximately $30 was taken from the cash drawers, police reported today.

In the office of the Prudential Insurance company, the burglary was discovered by Evelynne Kreps, an employe, when she returned to the offices shortly before one p m. Further investigation revealed that the Jay Wirick office which is located in the same building, had been entered.

The amount of money reported taken in the Wirick office was estimated at between $20 and $25, while the manager of the Prudential office, Ralph Edwards, reported that $8.20 was mising from the cash drawer in that office.

Both offices were locked and entrance was made by either unlocking or forcing the doors from the main hallway

PLAN SERVICES

BUCYRUS — Beginning Sunday night, Epworth Methodist church will hold special services for a two weeks' series with the exception of Saturday nights.

Rev. B. O. Van Syoc of the Sycamore charge will be the speaker at each service and special music arranged by the choirs and the organist, Mrs. Paul Kuehnle, will be featured each evening.

PET HAS QUADRUPLETS

GALION — A ewe, which had been raised as a pet, by the daughters of Clyde Winch, gave birth to quadruplets Thursday on the Winch farm northwest of Galion.

WED TODAY IN GALION CHURCH

Dorothy Tyner Becomes Bride Of Lester Caldwell In Ceremony.

GALION — Marriage vows were exchanged today at 10:30 a. m. by Dorothy Louise Tyner, daughter of Mr and Mrs. George Tyner of 1019 Harding Way East, and Lester Darrel Caldwell, son of Curt Caldwell of route 1, Galion, and the late Mrs. Caldwell.

The single ring ceremony was read in the Peace Lutheran church by Rev. Philip E. Auer.

Only the attendants, Juanita Tyner, sister of the bride, Donald Caldwell, brother of the bridegroom, were present for the ceremony.

The bride wore a navy blue frock with navy accessories and pin roses were used in her corsage. Her sister wore a dress of riverblue with wine accessories and a corsage of sweetpeas.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to Detroit, Mich. Then they return they will make their home with the bridegroom's father.

Mr. Caldwell is a truck driver. Both he and the new bride attended Galion high school.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1941.

Drive carefully tomorrow—remember that you might be badly injured instead of merely killed.

The American way has always been to license saloon-keepers, but Indiana proposes to license the customers.

Maybe it would be just as well to have the meek inherit the earth right away—except that they probably wouldn't stay meek.

Record-Breaking State Budget

AS AN ANSWER to suggestions that there could be tax reductions in Ohio this year, to partially offset higher federal taxes for defense purposes, Governor Bricker has just submitted to the legislature a two-year budget in which he recommends the highest expenditures in the history of the state.

The total called for in the budget is $352,308,606.80—an increase of more than eleven million dollars over the preceding two years.

While all of the expenditures recommended in the governor's budget message may come within the bounds of "reasonable needs" the fact remains that a number of these needs have existed for many years and, without doubt, another one or two hundred million dollars could be used to advantage in the improvement of penal and welfare institutions, state universities, fairgrounds, etc.

The federal government has shown, during the past eight years, that there is no end to ways in which public money can be spent and states have been inclined to follow along a similar carefree course.

Now, however, there are inescapable national defense costs which must be given first consideration and, while the legitimate functions of local, state and federal government must be carried on in a regular way, it would appear that taxpayers are justified in asking that all possible economies be introduced in non-defense expenditures.

This has not yet been done in the extravagantly bureaucratic operation of federal government, nor does Governor Bricker seem to intend that it shall be done in state government.

Ohio's share in the national defense budget of 35 billion dollars already provided for is $2,250,000,000—representing more than a thousand dollars a year during the next ten years, for each person working in this state.

After all, it is not what people would LIKE TO HAVE, but WHAT THEY CAN PAY FOR that counts, and it would appear that in proposing the highest budget and the largest building program in the history of the state, at a time like this, Governor Bricker is not "cutting the garment to the cloth."

Judging Future By the Past

"WE HAVE no way of judging the future except by the past," said Daniel Webster in his "Supposed Speech of John Adams." Walter Lippman repeats that ancient truth with regard to American education.

"We must ask ourselves," he says in a New York Tribune article, "the question whether in fact there is any way, except by studying the past, of educating men in the present for the future."

American education now seems to be centering more and more on the present. So a generation is arising whose education seems based on modern science and ephemeral things rather than the history, culture, principles and verities that shaped the minds of former generations of Americans.

Mr. Lippman favors as much as ever, perhaps more, the principles and practices of the old culture. "The struggles between Hellas and Persia," he says, "between Athens and Sparta, between Rome and Carthage, are a better subject for the textbooks in the schools than are the communiques, broadcasts and comments of the present war."

This is true, he explains, because the past is more intelligible than the present. We can read the old records of how men much like us worked out their problems. The whole record is there, with its clear presentation of cause and effect, of good and evil. The issues are clearer, the results are conclusive. The student can study them without heat or bias. Then he is better able to grasp similar problems that are shaking the world today.

Straight Thinking On Income Tax

PAUL MALLON, in a recent column, warns income taxpayers that there is worse to come. Those inclined to tear their hair over this year's tax bill, he says, might save time by tearing it all out, because next year's bill will be higher.

The people addressed, if many reports are true, are likely to answer, "Who's tearing out hair? Not I. I'd a lot rather pay for some of this defense stuff now than later. And I'd rather contribute to Uncle Sam's defense purse than to Hitler's bag of loot. Furthermore, I think the income tax is about the fairest and most sensible tax there is."

That, at least, is the general trend of remarks reported by men at internal revenue collection offices. They've been surprised at the number of people who have said they were glad to help pay for defense, or thankful to have an income that put them in the taxpaying group, or something else of the sort.

The public wants to get its money's worth for taxes, but it seems to be more aware than congress that a government worth having and a freedom worth preserving deserves the financial as well as the vocal support of every citizen.

An Essential of Brotherhood

DR. DAWSON C. BRYAN, of Houston, Tex., finds racial prejudice and misunderstanding one of the most critical problems of the age. Addressing a Lenten congregation, he urged men to "recognize their common humanity and essential brotherhood with people of all races." He emphasized his idea with a striking comparison.

Since God created man as he created all else, said Dr. Bryan, men should be able to appreciate five colors in mankind as they recognize seven in the rainbow.

A rainbow certainly would not be so lovely and thrilling a sight if it lost any of its colors. It may be that the human race, by trying to divide itself into separate racial groups, has missed much that is lovely and thrilling in life. Such groups know only their own kind and impoverish their own cultures by shutting out the variety and stimulation of the others.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—In private life Elsa Lanchester is the wife of the actor Charles Laughton. A couple of years ago she wrote a book called "Charles Laughton and I" which, informally and in a series of chatty, rather sketchy episodes, set forth the principal chapters of Laughton's career as an actor.

I did not think so much of the book. After meeting Miss Lanchester at various parties and seeing her a couple of times on the screen, I remembered her as a slim, pleasant young woman who talked engagingly of life in the English countryside and of "laying by" a dozen or so quarts of sloe-gin for use on sultry summer nights when guests were at hand. But I was not too much impressed with her talents as an actress.

* * *

IT MAY be that this judgment will have to be revised. She has come east to play the leading role in a melodrama called "They Walk Alone," and, after sitting through a rehearsal at the Maxine Elliott theater, I am quite willing to cast aside earlier impressions and go on from here.

This play is a curious half-comedy, half-thriller, with an underlying somberness that leaves you wondering what mood precisely was Max Catto, the author, in when he thought it up.

It is the story of an English family near London. A series of murders is committed. All the victims are handsome young men with well set-up physiques and other similar attributes. Miss Lanchester plays the part of a not-so-simple Cornish servant girl with an eye for men. Her mistress half-fears her and suspects her of conduct not in keeping with the moral standards of young girls, servants or otherwise. The girl is patently a psychopathic case and subject to sudden and violent fits of surliness and of anger. There is an unmistakable quality of menace to this characterization. It is a part that requires real understanding and ability, and it seems to me that Miss Lanchester is a find for this important role. She certainly left this impression, not only with me, but with Berthold Viertel, her director, by her performance in this rehearsal.

* * *

VIERTEL tells me she will "play this role as if she owns it," and since he directed the English version of this play, which was a hit of seven months' duration, he should know.

Viertel is a striking character out of life himself. He is silver-haired and high foreheaded and wears blue double-breasted coats which always swing open. He is from Vienna, and from London and Hollywood and New York and is probably more truly an international than any of our Broadway directors. He has three sons and one, just 19, has already written a book. "We are all Americans now," he says proudly. "This is our home and here we will live and work and die." Viertel, besides his motion pictures, has directed more than 120 plays. His technique differs from most directors. Instead of bawling instructions from a podium, he goes to each player and whispers his instructions, then emphasizes his meaning by acting out the scene. It is a method that obtains results.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, March 8, 1921.

Y. M. C. A. offered special membership rate to men out of employment on account of the depression.

Young people of Central Methodist church were observing "Win My Chum" week.

Mrs. Paul Wingert, Altamont avenue, was surprised by friends on 68th birthday anniversary.

LeRoy Nunmaker, 42, former Mansfield resident, died in Chicago.

Ray Eggert, of Waterloo, Ia., visited here while enroute on an eastern business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Urich were appointed superintendent and matron of Richland county home.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, March 8, 1936.

C. H. Wagner was named general manager of Stroup Motors corporation.

Announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Rozella Lybarger of Plymouth and Clayton Frontz, Oct. 7, 1935 in Covington, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bowser returned home after spending the winter in Florida.

Jean Patou, 47, celebrated Parisian dressmaker, died.

It was predicted home building activity in Mansfield would reach a new high for the year.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Millard Fillmore, at the age of seventy-four, died in Buffalo, N. Y., on March 8, 1874. Fillmore succeeded to the presidency as the thirteenth president of the U. S. on the death of Zachary Taylor.

Long-Drawn-Out War Probable

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—Belief increases here that the war will be long drawn out, and that the waste of time on the part of the senate in debating the lease-lend-aid-Britain bill will not make very much difference in the long run in view of the fact that the government is going ahead almost as though it had passed.

The move of Germany into the Balkans is regarded by experts here as a sign of weakness, not strength. It is taken to mean that Germany has abandoned the hope of winning the war with one knockout blow. Attacks on the British in the Mediterranean and intensified attacks on shipping in the North Atlantic may be serious, but they are not moves calculated to bring the war to an end in 1941.

* * *

THERE is no discounting the gravity of the shipping situation. Tonnage is being destroyed at an appalling rate. The slowness of this country to realize that this was certain to be so, as pointed out in these dispatches in the fall of 1939, is flabbergasting.

But even if the Germans were able to establish an airtight blockade of Britain immediately the British could live and fight for one full year. They have enough food, and while they might run very low on airplanes if they had a lot of air fighting, they would still be in there punching at the end of the year.

Now of course an airtight blockade of Britain will not happen, even if Hitler's blockade by air and sea is much more effective than anyone now believes it will be. Lots of ships will get through. Airplanes can be flown now, from Canada. It would be possible to fly the fighters by dividing the flight into hops with stops at Greenland and Iceland.

At present the British have been urging us to provide them with bombers, rather than fighters. The point is that in their fear of the invasion they themselves have been concentrating on fighters. Also, the fact that bombers could be flown over made more cargo space for food and munitions available.

But there is already an airfield, which the British have rushed to a fairly satisfactory state, in Iceland, and it would not be a terrific problem to establish another in Greenland, thus permitting the shorter range fighting planes to be flown to Britain.

This would mean, pretty nearly, that the only hope of the blockade would be to starve Britain out, and, as already pointed out, she has one year's stock of food, even not allowing for the most recent voluntary cut in rations for the soldiers and sailors in Britain.

* * *

LETTERS coming through from Britain show, moreover, that all sorts of expedients not considered when this one-year estimate was made (during the time Harry Hopkins was in Britain) are being tried. For instance, seagull eggs as a breakfast dish had not been thought of then. And no calculation was made on lots of little patches of ground which now are growing food inside the tight little island.

Conviction is here that Hitler is reconciled to not crushing Britain in 1941, and there are those who would not be surprised to see Germany march into the long coveted Ukraine before this calendar year is concluded.

Up-Hill All the Way

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I'M QUOTING again from Dr. James T. Nix's surprising book, "A Surgeon Reflects." Surgeons' reflections being generally about as comforting and inspiring as a dose of hives, I usually duck when I see them coming.

But here, as I said before, is something different. Not just one more gloomy assurance that if Dandruff doesn't get you, Diabetes will, but the healthy optimism of a man who dares to see things whole, dares to admit that the Spirit plays as great, or far greater part in sickness or health, victory or defeat, than bone, blood, gland or muscle.

But don't expect any consoling coos as you read his vital paragraphs. "Life is real" and plenty earnest to this man who has taken so many sick bodies apart and put them together again. He promises no picnics or easy panaceas . . . offers no pretty palaver. A surgeon can remove, says he, your gallbladder—but no one on earth can remove the temptations and tribulations which will make or break you as a man.

IF YOU WANT LIFE, YOU'LL HAVE TO FIGHT FOR IT EVERY STEP OF THE WAY, warns Dr. Nix. Then quotes Christian Rosetti's valiant lines:

"Does the road wind up-hill all the way?
"Yes, to the very end.
"Will the day's journeys last the whole, long way?
"From morn to night, my friend."

"The road winds up-hill all the way," there's a fact most of us need to face. Our fighting fathers didn't kid themselves or their children about the quality of human existence. They knew it was a tough and lifelong tussle, and if you couldn't meet the tests, it was Just Too Bad. They also knew, by grim experience, that there was no easy escape from these tests. Riches wouldn't help you . . . smartness and success couldn't insulate you . . . fun and friends couldn't pad the falls. The outcome depended on your own faith and fortitude, and nothing else but.

So they believed and so they taught their children, those hardy heros who tackled the wilderness, won the West and built the mightiest nation on earth.

But how far we moderns have drifted from their robust and realistic philosophy! Instead of frankly realizing, as they did, that human existence is bound to be a continuous bare-knuckle bout, we've come to believe that happiness is our natural lot. Everything should be merry and bright, and if it isn't something or someone is doing us dirt.

Where they placed their bets on pluck, prayer and perspiration, we place ours on giggles, craft and gadgets, play games and have pep talks. Then go off and have a good hard cry if life laughs at our trick program and knocks us for a goal.

That doesn't mean there aren't hard fighters and straight thinkers today!; there are! The finest ever. But most of us are still hanging on to a lot of juvenile notions. We're slaphappy . . . living from dream to dream . . . waiting for life to Do Right by us.

Well, it won't! Life isn't a bowl of cherries and you've no right to expect it to be. And there's no use talking about the "good old days when everyone was so happy." There never were any such good old days. Life always has and always will be a succession of whams. The only difference was, gramma and gramp knew how to take them!

Timely Editorial

Pedigreed Hot Dogs.

Hereafter the contents of the great American piece de resistance, familiarly known as the hot dog, will not be a mystery, as though anyone cared.

The government regulations require the hot dogs to carry labels revealing their contents, a sort of a pedigree as it were.

The fact that the great consuming public hasn't known specifically what meats composed this blushing delicacy didn't seem to interfere with its popularity. All that was asked was the right to specify what was to be sloshed on the hot dog before it was eaten, chopped onions, sauce, or mustard.

Label or no label, man will continue to bite the dog.—Ohio State Journal.

This Is Ohio

THE Rome Beauty apple originated in Ohio accidentally.

Joel Gillett of Rome township, Lawrence county, received several fruit trees from the Putnam nursery near Marietta in 1816. Among them was a seedling which was given to his son, Alanson.

Set out near the Ohio river, the seedling in a few years produced apples of exceptional quality, beautifully colored and much different from any found in the vicinity.

Solomon Churchill, a fruit grower, made the first grafts from the original tree. Later nursery companies obtained scions. It was extensively propagated throughout southern Ohio, becoming a standard variety under the name of Rome Beauty, often miscalled Roman Beauty. The original tree was destroyed by a flood in 1860.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

Why We Call It a "Dime."

Having all the earmarks of an American colloquialism, the word "dime" for our ten-cent piece is intrinsically a church as well as a Latin legacy.

Directly we have it from the identical French dime tithe, used in past centuries in England as well as in France, to designate that portion of one's income—one-tenth—which was the church's due.

It is interesting to note that that part of Genesis 14:20 of the King James Bible which reads, "He gave him tithes of all," was translated by John Wycliffe as, "He gave him dymes of alle thingis."

Summary of Week's Happenings

Senate Majority Losing Patience Over Tactics of Lease-Lend Antis

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A RARELY-IMPOSED device, the cloture, restricts a senator to one speech of not more than an hour on the bill under discussion.

Aged, peppery Senator Glass came out for cloture during the lease-lend debate. He opined that "there have been too many speeches already." When cloture came to a showdown, however, the necessary two-thirds vote couldn't be mustered.

Administration strategists then began searching for other ways to light fires under the opposition speechmakers and force a final vote on the bill by this weekend. Opponents insisted there wasn't a chance of such action. There were more than 20 amendments to be disposed of first and the opposition hadn't concluded formal speechmaking. Consideration of amendments began Wednesday.

'Value Vague,' Says Wheeler.

Earlier two opposing leaders, Senator George (pro) and Senator Wheeler (anti) tangled verbally when George tried to interrupt a lengthy Wheeler speech. Wheeler snapped, "I have the floor."

"Yes," shot back George, "and you've had it for almost two weeks."

"I'll have it for two more weeks if I want it," Wheeler retorted.

"Then it's a filibuster," George shouted.

Returning to his speech, Wheeler asserted that the bill's provision that no more than $1,300,000,000 worth of our existing arms could be transferred to another nation was meaningless. He said the president could give away what he wished and place any value he wished on the material.

Thereupon he picked up a law book, "Corpus Jeris," and read that there were various kinds of value: market value, use value, sentimental value. He wanted value defined. George replied that "value" was "value."

Walsh's Four Points.

Senator Walsh listed four aspects of the bill that he said might get us into war:

1. "There is nothing in the bill to prevent the use of our navy or air force by Great Britain.
2. "There is nothing in the bill to prevent the use of our navy in convoy service.
3. "There is apparently nothing in the bill to prevent sending our armed forces to the scene of the European conflict.
4. "There is nothing in the bill to prevent alien ships now in sanctuary in our harbors from being seized and transferred to other belligerents."

Thereupon Senator Smathers said he was tired of "parrot-like prattle" that the bill's passage meant war.

To eliminate one obstacle to speedy enactment, the administration began considering seriously an amendment of Senator O'Mahoney which would guarantee that neither the army nor navy would be utilized in the delivery of war supplies to Britain. O'Mahoney's amendment was generally regarded as a compromise for the Ellender amendment which provided that nothing in the bill could be construed as giving FDR any new authority to send troops out of this hemisphere.

Secretary Hull warned that passage of the Ellender amendment would be a green light to Japan.

At Home

America Arms.

Because of an "extremely urgent" need for machine tools, the Office of Production Management appealed for idle equipment to be sold to armament makers as a "patriotic service." (Machine tools are those used to make the machines which in turn make finished products.)

Washingtonians heard that FDR was preparing to set up a supercommittee of four cabinet members and perhaps Harry Hopkins to dovetail our own defense program with the program to send aid to Britain. The group would determine the combined British-U. S. needs and decide what portion of the total should be released to Britain. Full responsibility for production, however, would still rest with the OPM, co-directed by William Knudsen and Sidney Hillman.

* * *

Strike Effects.

President Roosevelt told his press conference about a Florida man who had written him that he was horrified at how strikes had broken down defense production.

That was of course an erroneous impression, the president said. Actually, Mr. Roosevelt said, only a quarter of one per cent—a 400th part—of defense projects were affected by strikes.

Undersecretary of War Patterson proposed that strike-prevention machinery be set up similar to the World war labor board. And OPM Director Knudsen suggested a plan to prevent minority strikes and require a "cooling off" period in defense industry labor disputes.

The Bethlehem Steel strike at Buffalo, N. Y., ended with a settlement which provided for a conference to seek adjustment of differences, and for an exploration of the possibility of holding a collective bargaining election.

* * *

Forecast.

Employment experts told an AP writer that the backbone of unemployment will be broken by mid-Summer of this year and that by 1942 competitive bidding for all types of labor will be the rule. Manufacturers will be vying with one another for the services of the ordinary healthy worker, they said.

Abroad

Winant's Receptionists.

When Britain's ambassador, Lord Halifax, came to America, President Roosevelt upset tradition by going to the Chesapeake Bay to meet him.

When FDR's new ambassador to Britain, shaggy-haired John Winant, reached Bristol, England, by plane, he was greeted by boyish, chubby-cheeked Brendan Bracken, Prime Minister Churchill's personal representative.

Five minutes later the Duke of Kent, brother of King George VI, puffed up, apologized for being late. Winant and Kent went to the plane. They posed for pictures just as though the duke had been on time. Nervously Winant tugged at his crumbled clothing and said: "There's no place I'd rather be than in England."

On the trip across England, the party stopped off at a railway station where the king himself—having abandoned protocol—was waiting. The king pumped Winant's hand. Upon reaching London George whisked Winant to his palace to have tea with Queen Elizabeth.

Bicycles and 'Bad' Bread.

A bicycle hanging from a tree doesn't mean Halloween in Holland. It may mean that Hollanders are taking mild revenge on a neighbor suspected of being too friendly with the Nazi conquerors. The bike is the most common method of transportation in Holland now.

After the strikes and riots in Amsterdam were quelled the Germans fined the city 15,000,000 guilders, nominally about $8,000,000. Eighteen Dutch men were sentenced to death for such stunts as pushing Nazis into canals.

Stories of growing disorder in Paris were brought across the Atlantic by steamboat passengers. All silk was reported confiscated for parachutes and one couple said they had to leave because the bread was so bad "it gave us cramps."

South of El Paso.

At Havana last summer the American republics agreed to work together for mutual defense.

Already the U. S. has joined with Canada—a non-republic—in a joint defense board for working out methods of mutual defense. During the past week, U. S. defense agreements were being extended south to Mexico and Panama.

Mexican and U. S. army, navy and air experts began discussing mutual aid ideas which may include construction of American naval bases on the Mexican coast.

President Arnulfo Arias of Panama proclaimed solidarity of his nation with the U. S. in defending the Panama Canal and disclosed an agreement permitting establishment of anti-aircraft sites outside the limits of the ten-mile-wide Canal Zone.

Escaped: Former King Carol of Rumania, from protective custody in Spain to Portugal. His red-haired friend, Mme. Magda Lupescu, reportedly fled with him.

Died: Former King Alfonso XIII of Spain (he died in Rome in exile, but Spain granted permission for his burial in the royal pantheon in the Escorial); Walter O'Hara, mercurial erstwhile Rhode Island horseracing and political figure; Ruby Laffoon, who as governor of Kentucky created thousands of "Kentucky colonels;" Gutzon Borglum, mountainside sculptor.

Everyday Poem

"I Haven't Had a Show."

"I haven't had a show," he said.
How much we like to blame
Fate, if we fail and do not gain
Our wishes, wealth or fame.

And yet most often it is not
In any outside thing,
This loss and failure, but within Ourselves. The answering

To why success has failed us, if
We will admit it, lies
With us, and in the end this truth
None but a fool denies.

STUDY DEMANDS ON U. S. STEEL

SWOC Committee Seeks Way To Enforce Its Call For 10-Cent Increase.

PITTSBURGH—A steel workers organizing committee "policy" conference today considered steps to enforce demands on U. S. Steel corporation for a flat 10 cent hourly wage increase after formally rejecting a counter-proposal for a pay boost of one fourth that amount.

Philip Murray, CIO president and SWOC chairman, informed the corporation that presidents of 66 local unions in U. S. Steel plants employing 261,000 workers, had rejected the proposal of a flat two and a half cent increase, conditioned upon the corporation's operating rate remaining above 85 per cent of capacity.

He said the conference would consider invocation of an "escape" clause in the existing agreement if a satisfactory answer is not forthcoming. The contract may be opened on 10 days' notice and would expire if a new agreement was not reached in another 10 days.

Such action would bring serious production threats to the steel industry, now boomed to about 96 per cent of capacity by defense orders, at virtually the same time the CIO will be seeking wage concessions from the soft coal industry.

United Mine Workers representatives will meet with Appalachian district operators in New York Tuesday to negotiate an agreement to replace the present one, which expires April 1.

STRIKE ENDED

Die Casters Go Back to Work At Cleveland Plant.

CLEVELAND— (U.P) —Termination of a four-day strike called by the National Association of Die Casting Workers (CIO) at Pressure Castings, Inc., Euclid, was announced today by George H. Ralls, company president. Some of the 120 strikers returned to work this morning.

Wage increases, vacations with pay and machinery to settle grievances are provided for in the contract, according to Alex Balint, union regional director.

ANNUAL GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE PLANNED BY CRESTLINE GROUP

CRESTLINE—At a meeting of the Crestline Ministerial association held this week at the home of Rev. W. L. Margard, in the Calvary Reformed parsonage, arrangements were made for the annual observance of Good Friday services.

A three-hour union service starting at noon was again agreed upon. According to established custom of rotating the service at each church, it would this year be at the Presbyterian church, but since that congregation is at present without a pastor, the service will be held at the Methodist church and the pastor, Rev. O. F. Hull, will arrange the program. He will be assisted by Rev. Margard and Rev. S. A. Metzger, of the English Lutheran church.

The annual election of officers of the association was held at this meeting and Rev. Margard and Rev. C. H. Lange of Trinity Lutheran church, were re-elected president and secretary, respectively.

THEATERS

Drama of Modern South.

Together as a team for the third time, the stars of "Virginia," Madeleine Carroll and Fred MacMurray, present a charming southern couple in a beautiful setting. The story tells of a difficult decision a woman, born in Virginia and reared in the North, has to make when she falls in love with a Southerner offering her only the hardships and traditions of plantation life. Stirling Hayden, a newcomer, is seen in this technicolor film. As a prologue to the picture members of the A cappella choir of the Senior high school will sing "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginy" at 7 and 9:45 p. m. tonight at the Ohio.

Fred Astaire Film.

Paulette Goddard is teamed with Fred Astaire as the dancing partner of the swing-time comedy, "Second Chorus," opening Sunday at the Ritz. It's a fast-moving picture which also features Artie Shaw and his band, and supplies Charles Butterworth for comedy. Four hit tunes are heard in the picture, "Love of My Life," "Poor Mr. Chisholm," "I Ain't Hep To That Step But I'll Dig It," and "Hot Concerto." Co-feature is "Flight Command" starring Ruth Hussey, Walter Pidgeon and Robert Taylor.

Two Big Shows.

"Boom Town" returns to Mansfield again, this time to the Majestic, beginning Tuesday. On the bill for Sunday and Monday are "Mortal Storm," starring Margaret Sullavan and James Stewart, and "I Love You Again," with William Powell and Myrna Loy cast in the leading roles. The latter picture is one of the team's funniest pictures, without the "Thin Man" tag. They are cast as husband and wife but the many complications that develop for them make for an interesting plot.

TWO INSURANCE OFFICES ROBBED AT NOON HOUR

Galion Police Report Theft Of Approximately $30; Say Doors Forced.

GALION — During the noon hour, Friday, two insurance offices in the Wyandot building, public square, were entered and approximately $30 was taken from the cash drawers, police reported today.

In the office of the Prudential Insurance company, the burglary was discovered by Evelynne Kreps, an employe, when she returned to the offices shortly before one p. m. Further investigation revealed that the Jay Wirick office which is located in the same building, had been entered.

The amount of money reported taken in the Wirick office was estimated at between $20 and $25, while the manager of the Prudential office, Ralph Edwards, reported that $8.20 was mising from the cash drawer in that office.

Both offices were locked and entrance was made by either unlocking or forcing the doors from the main hallway.

PLAN SERVICES

BUCYRUS — Beginning Sunday night, Epworth Methodist church will hold special services for a two weeks' series with the exception of Saturday nights.

Rev. B. O. Van Syoc of the Sycamore charge will be the speaker at each service and special music arranged by the choirs and the organist, Mrs. Paul Kuehnle, will be featured each evening.

PET HAS QUADRUPLETS

GALION — A ewe, which had been raised as a pet, by the daughters of Clyde Winch, gave birth to quadruplets Thursday on the Winch farm northwest of Galion.

WED TODAY IN GALION CHURCH

Dorothy Tyner Becomes Bride Of Lester Caldwell In Ceremony.

GALION — Marriage vows were exchanged today at 10:30 a. m. by Dorothy Louise Tyner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tyner of 1019 Harding Way East, and Lester Darrel Caldwell, son of Curt Caldwell of route 1, Galion, and the late Mrs. Caldwell.

The single ring ceremony was read in the Peace Lutheran church by Rev. Philip E. Auer.

Only the attendants, Juanita Tyner, sister of the bride, Donald Caldwell, brother of the bridegroom, were present for the ceremony.

The bride wore a navy blue frock with navy accessories and pin roses were used in her corsage. Her sister wore a dress of riverblue with wine accessories and a corsage of sweetpeas.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to Detroit, Mich. Then they return they will make their home with the bridegroom's father.

Mr. Caldwell is a truck driver. Both he and the new bride attended Galion high school.

GARDEN CLUB OPENS SEASON, PLANS EVENTS

Several Flower Shows, Picnics Scheduled By Cottage Group In Coming Year; Members Will Present Programs.

SNOW may have blanketed the Mansfield area today, but the new garden club season was officially launched yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Frank Forshee, 87 Maple street, entertained members of the Cottage Garden club with a 1 o'clock luncheon. Mrs. Ernest Ihrig was associate hostess.

There were 19 members and one guest, Mrs. R. H. Jordan, present. Lavender, purple and yellow flowers centered the table when luncheon was served, after which Mrs. B. F. Hagelbarger, secretary, conducted the meeting.

"Preservation of Wildflowers" was the subject of the paper given by Mrs. Lyman Lantz. Mrs. F. A. Greenwood, 388½ Park avenue west, assisted by Mrs. S. D. Hoover will entertain March 21. Mrs. T. J. Patton will have the paper.

Meetings of the organization will be held twice monthly throughout the season. For the first April session Mrs. E. G. Corwin, guest speaker, will discuss "Biblical Gardens" at the home of Mrs. George Smith.

Mrs. George Fort will lead a discussion of garden pointers for limited budgets later next month at the meeting held at Mrs. Tolman Burns' home. "Herbs and Herb Gardening" will be the paper presented by Mrs. S. A. Wentz at the first meeting in May when Mrs. Stanley A. Richardson entertains, while a quiz on horticulture information will be conducted later in the month at the home of Mrs. C. C. Blair.

On June 27 the club will have a picnic with Mrs. I. L. Bronson and Mrs. Burns in charge, while a flower show will be the feature of the July 11 meeting when Mrs. J. H. Petree entertains. A summer style show of hats trimmed with real flowers will be an event of July 25 when Mrs. A. C. Tuttle entertains. At the Aug. 8 meeting the Junior Garden club will present the program at the Hoover home.

Another flower show will be held Sept. 5 with Mrs. P. M. Eliot as hostess, and on Sept. 19 the members will picnic with Mrs. Lantz and Mrs. Patton in charge. Another information on horticulture quiz will be held Oct. 17 with Mrs. D. J. Lamneck.

Members will hold the annual meeting Nov. 21 with Mrs. H. D. Smith while a Christmas party and gift exchange will be a feature of the Dec. 12 meeting. Miss Florence Gernhardt will be the hostess. Mrs. Bronson, Mrs. J. B. Conard, Mrs. Eliot, who will read the Christmas story, Mrs. H. D. Smith, Mrs. Forshee, Mrs. E. C. Frampton, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. George Smith will assist. Miss Gernhardt will also present season music.

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, March 9.

Sunday's horoscope is an exceptionally delightful, promising and propitious one, which should make glad the heart, soul and the more material riches of talent, merit, high aspiration and humanitarian impulses. There are subtle and intriguing aspects to these perhaps unique or mysterious expressions, manifesting in love, religious or spiritual satisfactions as well as material forms of attainment and gratification.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of extraordinary achievements and satisfaction, with all phases and desires of life rising to advanced levels of gratification. The financial, domestic and social, as well as psychological and aspirational aims and ambitions, are sure to come to happy fruition.

A child born on this day should be richly endowed with the talents, skills and aspirations of great achievement. This equipment may have deep spiritual or emotional sources expressed in genius, and sure to attain due acclaim.

For Monday, March 10.

Monday's astrological forecast is for certain reactionary experiences, with a slowing down of high exurberations, by sober reflection calm attention to workaday affairs, like possessions, investments and financial "balancing the budget." There may be some pressure in this direction, with hints of litigation, and the menace of an elder or superior.

Those whose birthday it is should be ready for rather trying though not disastrous situations to be negotiated, with determination, sound judgment, industry and fortitude. Perhaps financial anxiety with litigation in view, from threatening superiors or elders. Possessions may be imperiled.

A child born on this day should be steady, persistent, ambitious and fairly fortunate, although it may have to placate an elder or superior. Its private life should be satisfactory.

Booster Class Holds Dinner At Church

A covered-dish dinner was an event of yesterday evening for approximately 50 members of the Booster class of the Central Methodist church in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Almendinger and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher were the hosts and hostesses.

During the evening, Kenneth Weimer showed motion pictures of the United States. The next meeting has been scheduled for April 4, with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Oswald, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Smaltz and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hecker in charge. Mr. and Mrs. William Wirt and Mr. and Mrs. Verne Hoffman will plan the program for that time.

Nature Club Has School Party at Park Pavilion

Members of the Mansfield Nature club attended the "Village Skule" last evening during a meeting in the pavilion at North Lake park. Miss Edith Stukey presided as teacher, and prizes for the contests conducted in various "classes" were won by Mrs. Albert Wiseman, Miss Leona Miles and Mrs. Harry Constance.

In addition to Miss Stukey, hostesses included the Misses Marie Hoover, Virginia Howard, Isabel Mosey and Ruth Motz. Poke lunches were served during the "recess."

A short business session followed, and it was announced that the club will sponsor a lecture by Allan Cruickshank on March 21 at John Simpson Junior high school at 8 p. m. Mr. Cruickshank of the National Association of Audubon societies is well known as one of the most expert bird photographers in New York and an imitator of bird calls.

The club members will meet again on March 22 for a hike. The meeting place will be the pavilion in South park at 1:30 p. m. that day.

Missionary Unit Meets at Church

Miss Jean Shivley was hostess for a meeting of Gamma Mu Sigma Missionary society of the First Christian church last evening at her home on West Fourth street. Seventeen members and two guests, Mrs. R. H. Hannell and Miss Sara Honer, were in attendance.

The Chinese people were discussed during the evening, and papers on the subject were presented by Mrs. Joe Bertka, Mrs. Glenn Heldenbrand, Mrs. Adam Takos and Miss Frances Carter. Mrs. William Joiner led the devotions.

The group honored Mrs. William Hallum, the former Miss Mary Ruth Carter, with a wedding gift. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening, and Mrs. Dorris Ruark invited the members to her home on Rowland avenue for the next meeting, April 4.

* * *

HOSTESS TO CLUB.

Members of the Neighborhood Bible club were guests of Mrs. Ray Jenkins, 618 Arlington avenue, when 11 were present. Mrs. J. R. Turner led the devotions, and Mrs. D. L. Arehart read the lesson. The next meeting will be held March 21 with Mrs. Arehart, 742 West Fourth street.

Banana Cream Pie.

1 baked 8-inch pie shell
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
7 tablespoons flour
7 egg yolks
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix sugar, salt and flour together in top of double boiler. Beat egg yolks slightly, add milk and stir slowly into flour mixture. Cook over boiling water until very thick (about 25 minutes), stirring occasionally. Blend in vanilla and cool thoroughly. Shortly before serving, fold sliced bananas carefully into cooled pie shell. Let stand a few minutes to "set." Finish with topping of slightly sweetened whipped cream flavored, if liked, with a little vanilla.

Married 50 Years Ago

On March 11 Mr. and Mrs. Brainard Hoffer, above, will entertain with an open house and reception from 2 to 10 p. m. in observation of their golden wedding anniversary. The next meeting will be held April 4 with Mrs. Mary Schaff, Mrs. Anna Weir and Mrs. Nellie Craig in charge at the temple.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

A little warning bell signaled from deep within my consciousness.

"Be wary!" it commanded. "This is something vital and you mustn't risk losing it by haste."

"That depends, Ronald, upon what she wrote to you," I said slowly. "I know certain things, which you ought to know, but, of course, I cannot tell whether or not any of them are in your letter. Indeed, I did not know that you had had any word from her."

He started violently, and searched my face with feverish eyes.

"How strangely you say that!" he muttered. "Is it possible that you know—"

I put my hand possessively upon his arm, and spoke in tones which I knew Carolyn could not possibly hear.

"We cannot talk here," I said, gesturing toward the room where Carolyn lay. "Yet I must see you. Where can we go?"

He started at me for a long second, his befogged brain trying to make a decision. Then, he answered in tones as low as my own.

"We can go over to my rooms," he said. "They're a mess, for I haven't let anybody come into see to things. But, perhaps you won't mind—"

His voice trailed off, and he looked at me with boyish appeal that had something pitiful in it.

"I don't mind anything, Ronald," I said truthfully, "if only I can help Marion."

"You're wasting your time," he told me bitterly. "She doesn't want any help. But I'm no quitter even if she has—"

He checked himself, and began again—by this time, with my hand on his arm, we were walking toward his rooms—

"I'll listen to anything you want to tell me about her, but I won't promise anything," he said.

"That's all I want, to have you listen," I told him, and in another few seconds he was ushering me into the comfortable suite which Sam Brixton's thoughtfulness had provided for him in the big summer house.

A big sitting room, a smaller bedroom, with shower adjoining, the rooms furnished in comfortable, sturdy masculine fashion, with draperies, curtains and cushions in his college colors—I recognized Helena's touch there—with college pictures and souvenirs everywhere—they should have been a boy's paradise, but they showed plainly that for days they had been the setting for a private hell.

An unmade bed, dust everywhere, clothing strewn over everything, mechanically I picked up a necktie from the floor, then hurriedly deposited it on a table as I realized my meddling—it was a sight to make any woman's housewifely fingers itch to set things right. But I knew that I must betray no such desire, and was ready with a placid comment when Ronald, hurriedly transferring a lounging robe from a chair to a couch, and pulling the chair out for me, said ruefully:

"I told you the rooms were a mess, I'm sorry, but—"

"I'm not thinking about the state of your rooms, Ronald," I said, throwing in a prevarication for good measure. "I haven't even looked at them."

I hadn't except for that first cursory glance, and was rewarded by the relieved look which came into his harried face. But it was only lightened for a second, and when he had put me into the chair and drawn one opposite to me, the lines in his face seemed more deeply etched, and I could visualize how he would look when he should be an old, old man.

"Now!" he said tensely, then his innate fineness and his breeding sent a flush over his face.

"Please excuse me for my abruptness, Aunt Madge," he said, "but I'm nearly crazy."

"Don't waste time in excuses, Ronald," I said. "I understand perfectly. I'm pretty nearly crazy myself, as are all those that love Marion."

CHAPTER XXIX

Smoothie's answer was vindictive. "I hate to contradict a lady. But J. W. Smith is not at all likely to show up on the T Slash. Read these two leters."

Recoiling a step, Nancy took the letters. She saw that both envelopes had been opened. Her face on fire, she looked angrily into the man's cold gray eyes.

"Steady, Miss Smith," he admonished. "Don't flare up and shout, 'What right had you to open my mail?' . . . Being a detective on the trail of a runaway thief, my action was legally justified."

"It was nothing of the kind! Thief? I'm not a thief! But you're a—a—"

"A clever dick who has the goods on you. I found these letters interesting. Very. After you've read them you'll see why J. W. Smith will not be coming to help you. You see, if Smith leaves Philadelphia now, at least one detective, if not half a dozen panting to arrest you, will be trailing him."

Nancy's lips formed one word "Why?"

"Believing he will lead them to the runaway securities thief."

"Nonsense! Well, I suppose I can thank you for being so very considerate as to give me my own letters after you finished with them?"

"Don't thank me, Miss—er—Bobbie. At least not in that tone of voice. If you don't realize yet how necessary it is for you to stay under cover, you will when you have read Smith's letter. Yet to stay under cover you must make a deal with me, the only detective who knows where you are and the name you're using. This evening I'll drive you over to Dagger Wash to—"

Nancy completely lost control of her temper. "You'll drive me nowhere!" she flared, her voice high and sharp. "Not one nickel will you get from me or from my uncle. Understand? Get out. Go away before I call—"

"Did you call me, Bobbie?" asked a voice at the door.

Cinders Malloy Sturgis, fitting a piece of screening to a window at that farther end of this three-room cabin, had heard nothing of the conversation until Nancy had unconsciously lifted her voice. The sound of the voice of the girl Cinders loved, unsteady with wrath, pitched high with pent-up emotion, had brought the ruddy-faced young man hastily around the cabin.

He stepped in through the door and faced Smoothie Dick Barclay. "Talk to me a while, you cur!"

With pantherish swiftness Smoothie whirled; instinctively his right hand dived into his coat pocket. "You, eh? Keep out of this or I'll—"

But Cinders' left hand had clamped Barclay's right wrist; his right drove straight to the man's chin. Down went Smoothie Dick. Cinders twisted an automatic from the fellow's hand. Calmly removing the clip from the gun, he tossed the weapon into the cabin stove where live coals glower among hot ashes.

Holding his chin, Smoothie sat up. "Damn you! I'm a detective and I'll—"

* * *

Jerking the man to his feet, Cinders [illegible] him toward the door where a hearty shove at the end of a swinging leg added impetus [illegible] of the [illegible] gazed [illegible] all the way to the Lodge, where he disappeared.

Cinders [illegible] Nancy, who had instinctively slipped the letters out of sight. "Something about that bird's rubbed me the wrong way ever since I laid eyes on him. I've been honin' to smash him in the jaw . . . Pleases you, too, doesn't it, Bobbie?"

"It does, Cinders. Thank you. But now you'll lose your job."

Cinders shrugged. "Naturally. But who is this skunk? [illegible] is about [illegible]"

"[illegible] he suspects, Cinders. Not what he was saying to you."

"But I [illegible]" Cinders caught the girl's right hand holding it in a crushing grip. "I'm mad because I love you, Bobbie. And that snake has some hold on you."

"Bobbie," Cinders Malloy Sturgis went on after al ong pause, "You'll recall my telling you last evening that I intended to learn all I could about that fellow Barclay. I thought I was justified—at least in my own mind—in looking through his personal belongings to see if he had any credentials."

Nancy was wide-eyed. "Cinders, you don't mean you searched—"

"Exactly what I mean! While the dance was at its height last night, I searched Barclay's auto. What do you suppose I found? My old, soiled flannel shirt. The same one I mentioned to you and the boys. It was tucked in a side pocket of that car as if Barclay intended to use it for a windshield rag.

"Possibly because I hate the fellow anyhow, his taking my shirt without even asking for it made me so darned mad that I got one of his and stuck it in the pocket of his car, taking my own with me of course."

Nancy exclaimed. "He had taken your shirt! Why? . . . But, Cinders, where did you get one of his to—?"

"From his room in the Lodge. You see, I slipped up there intending to search his baggage. His new cowhide bag was locked. I couldn't open it. But he had changed his shirt before dinner, and he had put the soiled one in a laundry bag behind the door.

"Bobbie, you see now how little I learned about the chisel-faced wolf, yet I'm reasonably sure you can tell me—"

"Cinders, the point right now is that you must not be driven off the ranch. Not when we're in such trouble. A showdown is due almost any minute and I need you, Cinders. You must stand by me and trust me. You must!"

* * *

The wrathful sparks fading from his smoke-gray eyes, Cinders released Nancy's hand, staring at the lovely, troubled girl. He must stand by her? He must trust her? He wanted to ask a dozen important burning questions.

But some one was coming so all he could say was 'How can I stay here now?'

"I'll tell you how," said Nancy, quickly, eagerly. "Here's plenty of money. Put it in your pocket and after you're fired, see if Mrs. Perriwell won't take you as a guest."

They had no further chance to talk, for Sol Perriwell, backed up by Tony, had arrived on the run, and Sol sputtered, "You're fired, Cinders Malloy! Here I have a ranch buyer on the string and my hired man insults and beats him up for no earthly reason. At least Barclay said you had no call to jump on him. . . . Get Mrs. Perriwell to pay you off and get out." Sol tried snapping his pudgy fingers with his usual lack of success, turned and waddled back to the Ladge.

But Tony lingered, glancing slyly from Nancy to Cinders. "What did Barclay really do?"

"None of your business!" exploded Cinders. "And get this, you shrimp," taking a threatening step toward Tony, "if I catch you annoying Bobbie, I'll break your damned neck."

Tony had nothing to say until Cinders walked to the Lodge and disappeared. Then with a nasty leer at Nancy: "Biggity talk for a fellow who's siting on a keg of dynamite and don't know it."

"How so, Tony?" Though far from calm, Nancy managed to appear quite cool, and nonchalant.

Tony reached around to his hip pocket. "Last night, Bobbie, I showed you a certain billfold. I might get a reward for turning that crook over to—what the devil? It's gone! I've lost the billfold!"

Nancy felt she could hazard a close guess who now possessed the troublesome wallet. Last night at the dance she had sen Barclay watching her and Tony while Tony was displaying her uncle's billfold.

"I'll look in Barclay's car," Tony barked and sped across the yard, leaving Nancy to go about her work.

Sol Perriwell had returned to his comfortable chair. His hit-and-miss reading had carried him through the stack of papers to the very last one, which he now picked up. Having unfolded the newspaper, he had paused to light his pipe when Tony burst in more than a bit wild-eyed. He had not found the missing wallet, yet it was not of this he spoke.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

TWO TRICKS FOR ONE

If you hold the singly guarded trump king and saw the ace and another trump in the dummy at your right, wouldn't you naturally expect to take a trick ultimately in the suit? Offhand, you would say that leading away from that king would be suicidal, wantonly wasting a sure trick. But if you reckoned the declarer hoped to use dummy's trumps to ruff a couple of tricks in a side suit, your lead could not prove costly. In fact, it might gain your side a trick. It could prevent the declarer from ruffing more than one side trick, and oblige him to do that with the dummy's ace, so that he couldn't pick up your king.

Exactly that bidding developed at all three tables of a little duplicate game, and the first three tricks were the same at all three—diamond 3 to the K, diamond A and club A. Then at two tables East led his heart A, which South ruffed. The club K, a club ruff, a heart ruff, a second club roff with the A, a heart ruff, then a spade to East's K followed. South winning the rest of the tricks with trumps and making his contract right on the head.

At the remaining table, after the first two diamonds and club A, on which West player the 4, East switched to his spade 10. Declarer took that, cashed the club K and ruffed one club with the A. But he had nothing in dummy with which to trump another club, so had to lose one at the end, plus another trick to the spade K. He was therefore set a trick because of East's clear-seeing defense.

* * *

Your Week-End Lesson.

With both sides vulnerable, if South bid 1-Spade, you doubled in the West. North passed. East bid 2-Diamonds and South passed, what would you now do with each of the two hands given here, and why?

Bob McClory, forward, and Bob Pearce, center of Tiffin Columbian's Buckeye league championship team, which meets Mansfield's Tygers in the last game on tonight's Sandusky tournament program, have just been named to the Buckeye all-star team.

This should occasion no surprise. Some one on that Tiffin team must have been good, or the Columbians wouldn't have taken home the loop bunting.

The Tygers have known about McClory and Pearce for some time, and hope to stop the Tiffin stars tonight. If they don't, they probably won't need to entertain any more hopes for this season.

* * *

Coach Vern Hoffman of the Mansfield hoopsters, looks on the tournament as a wide open affair with at least five teams having a chance at the title.

"There aren't more than two or three points difference between the five teams, and anything can happen in a tournament," Hoffman declares.

* * *

"Mansfield has as good a chance as anybody in the Sandusky tournament," says the Tyger tutor, "and I'd just as leave play Tiffin in the opener as any other team."

* * *

If you want a long shot for the state class B championship, you could look farther and do worse than if you played those Loudonville Red Birds smack on the nose.

It's a long and rocky road with plenty of pitfalls for even such an outstanding team as the conquerors of Canton Timken, but if the odds are in line with their chances you could make worse investments.

* * *

This town's champeen bucketball fans are Whizzer White and Martin Heskett of the N-J circulation dept. After covering Thursday's night's class B tournament at Bascom, they found their schedule empty for Friday night.

"Where," asked Whizzer, "can we find a basketball game within driving distance. We don't care what kind of a game, just so it's a basketball game."

* * *

They found it at Ashland, where Loudonville's Birds are soaring toward the district title. The Red Birds had an appropriate couple of scouts on hand when the Whizzer and the Martin showed up. A pair of bucketball birds they are, truly.

Red Birds Win Way To Finals

Loudonville to Battle Savannah For Title.

Loudonville's Red Birds continued on their merry way last night in sectional tournament play at Ashland, eliminating Dalton 43-34 in the semi-finals.

* * *

Tied 10-10 in the first period, Loudonville brought its famous defensive system into action in the second heat, holding Dalton to two points, and taking a 22-12 lead at the half.

* * *

That one quarter iced the decision for the Birds. They continued with an 11-7 edge in the third stanza, and then used subs throughout the closing canto as Dalton outscored them 15-10.

Loudonville started its reserve team, but after Dalton jumped away to an early lead on three free tosses the Birds sent their regulars into the game to take charge.

* * *

Tonight the Birds meet Rittman for the tournament championship, a team already defeated twice by Loudonville in the regular season 32-18 and 31-25.

* * *

Last night Rittman walloped Savannah 52-35 in the semi-finals.

Old Grads Play Again at Lucas

LUCAS—Lucas basketball fans will have an opportunity to see a number of "old grads," who have written cage history here in times past, in action again Saturday night during a post-season tournament which will be held in the Lucas high school gymnasium.

In the first game the Lucas squad which has just completed its season will oppose a team composed of players who graduated from Lucas last May when nearly every letter man left the school.

The second game of the evening will bring the well-known 1938-39 Lucas squad, which won the Richland county tournament title and went to the finals in the district tourney at Carey, into action against a club made up of still earlier Lucas high school stars.

The games will be played as a benefit performance for the Lucas Merchants baseball club. The first game will be called at 7:30, it is announced.

TAKE STICK PRACTICE

TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) — Defeated 4-1 by the Boston Red Sox, the world champion Cincinnati Reds had a long batting practice on the program for today.

Edged Out In Mitt Finals

PAUL CARBETTA

Mansfield's Cleveland Golden Gloves flyweight boxing champion just missed adding the mid-west crown to his credit last night when he lost a close decision to the defending champion at Chicago.

* * * * *

Carbetta Drops Close Nod To Defending Champion

Mansfield's flailin' florist came close last night, but just missed annexing the mid-west Golden Gloves title in the final bout at Chicago, dropping the nod in three heats to Chicago's defending champion, 17-year-old Harold Dade.

* * *

Heard over the radio, the ringside blow-by-blow account indicated the bout was even enough, but you've got to come closer than even to upset a champion.

* * *

The announcer's description of the bout showed Carbetta winning the first round, Dade the second, with little to choose in the last canto.

That's the way it appeared on this end of the radio, although the fight-caster didn't hazard a guess at the end of the rounds, and refused to predict the decision while waiting for the judges' verdict.

Dade was wild throughout the opening heat, and except for two blows to the body failed to touch the Cleveland Golden Gloves king. Meanwhile Carbetta was getting in numerous hard socks to the head.

The second round was all Dade as the Chicagoan found the range, but Carbetta gave as good as he took in the final stanza which saw both boys landing hard blows to the head.

* * *

Carbetta outpointed Tommy Nate of South Bend, Ind., in the semi-finals for his fifth straight tournament victory.

* * *

The Mansfielder's showing helped the Cleveland team to a trophy for the best record of any group of mitt slingers outside Chicago. Cleveland had two champions, Allen Aubrey, heavyweight, and George Horne, jr., welterweight.

Carbetta won his semi-final bout almost as he pleased. Nate, who lost in the quarter-finals a year ago, was in to stay the distance against Punchin' Paul, and offered little offense of his own.

Paul tagged him twice in the first round with hard smacks to the chin, and Nate spent the next two heats trying to keep out of Carbetta's way.

RESERVE COACH PLANS WIDE OPEN FOOTBALL

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Gridiron opponents of Western Reserve's Red Cats may expect to encounter a wide open offensive style based on the Warner system, now that Thomas J. (Tom) Davies, one-time Pittsburgh all-American, is at the helm.

Davies, a halfback selection on Walter Camp's 1918 eleven, was named head coach at Reserve yesterday for a two-year period, succeeding Bill Edwards, who resigned Feb. 17 to pilot the professional Detroit Lions.

Tribe Swamped By Brooklyn

HAVANA, Cuba — (U.P.) — The Cleveland Indians felt like anything but potential American league champions today after being humiliated, 15 to 0, by the Brooklyn Dodgers in the Indians' first exhibition game.

Four Cleveland pitchers were highly ineffective and the usually steady tribal infield committed four errors in a one-sided slaughter yesterday.

Joe Medwick of the Dodgers crowned the performance with a four-run homer in the first inning off Joe Krakauskas, new Indian pitcher who was expected to bolster the mound strength.

Dolph Camilli also helped himself to a four-ply swat as the Dodgers enjoyed themselves on 13 hits and 11 bases on balls off Krakauskas, Pete Center, Bill Zuber and Harry Eisenstat.

Meanwhile, the Indian hitters played "dead" in the pinch in front of Hugh Casey, Howard Mills and Whit Wyatt of the Brooklyn mound staff. Cleveland collected seven hits and three walks but couldn't perform in the pinch.

UNERTL MARKSMEN WIN 8-POINT MATCH

Unertl Marksmen defeated the Mansfield Rifle team by only eight points, 1379 to 1371, in a match at the Gasco range yesterday.

Five perfect scores were made in the prone position by Ferguson, Church, and Hunter on the Unertl team, Cosgrove and Fisher with the Mansfield club.

Frantz, Unertl marksman, hit 286 for high score.

Findlay Quintet Loses

Misses Columbus Trip First Time In 4 Years.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— After three trips to the state high school basketball finals at Columbus in the last there years, the Findlay high school cagers can leave their uniforms at home this month.

* * *

Lima Central dethroned the defending district champions, 29 to 22, last night in a class A sectional meet at Kenton. Findlay thereby became the first defending district titleholders in class A to be eliminated from further 1941 competition.

* * *

Willshire, a state finalist in Class B from the Northwestern district last year, became the fifth class B district champ to lost out. Delphos defeated Willshire, 32 to 29, in the class B meet at Lima-Shawnee last night.

Three other 1940 district winners in class B and two in class A came through successfully in yesterday's tournament tests. In class B, Marysville repulsed Ashville, 27 to 16, in the central district; Rittman tourned back Ashville, 27 to 16, in the central district; Rittman turned back Savannah, 52 to 35, in the Northeastern district, and Smithfield, a semi-finalist' at Columbus last year, trounced Powhatan, 55 to 34, in the Eastern district.

In class A, Akron South, Marietta and Defiance of last year's 16 state finalists came through in sectional meets without trouble yesterday. Wyndol Gray scored 14 points to lead south to a 43 to 32 win over Kent Roosevelt. Defiance trimmed Perrysburg, 39 to 27, and Marietta swamped Wheelersburg, 64 to 24.

East Liverpool ran up the biggest score of the day by walloping Shadyside, 77 to 28, in a game which established East Liverpool as a threat to Martins Ferry's district title.

Coshocton indicated that New Philadelphia, the defending state class A champion, will have difficulty capturing the eastern district honors this year. Coshocton swamped Newcomerstown, 70 to 30, in the district meet at Dennison. It was a rough contest with 52 fouls called. Newcomerstown played the last 90 seconds with only four players.

* * *

In the upset picture, Canton Timken tripped Akron Central, the Akron city champion, 37 to 27, and Upper Arlington, newly graduated from class B, toppled Bexley, 45 to 30, in the central class A playoffs at Delaware. Gordon Rosencrans netted 23 points for Arlington.

* * *

Wolf of North Canton whipped in a field goal in the final eight seconds to pull a 38 to 36 victory out of the fire for North Canton over Hudson. Springfield township, one of the three unbeaten class A outfits in the state, defeated Canton township, 45 to 38, at Akron.

In Denmark, S. C., a power company lineman found a snake electrocuted atop a 25-pole. There was also a sparrow's nest, which the snake apparently had been after.

* * *

Here's a new swapping wrinkle. A hundred deer for Tennessee and West Virginia, 50 for each state, are being live-trapped by Michigan Conservation department men on Drummond Island. From the southern states Michigan is to receive shipments of sharp-tailed grouse in exchange. Sharp-tails are to be planted in the districts from which the deer, because of a food shortage, are being removed.

The new True Temper rods now on display at Yuncker's possess an action, balance and power that tends to make bait casting easier. Even the beginner need spend only a small amount of practice with these finer rods, to acquire sufficient skill to get his share of game fish. They're priced to fit every man's pocketbook, too.

D'CK TRACY— Co-Operative.

By Chester Gould

BAFFLED AT EVERY TURN, POLICE TRIED DESPERATELY TODAY TO UNEARTH A MOTIVE IN THE ANGUS DEPOOL MURDER CASE. THE WIDOW WAS TO BE INTERVIEWED FOLLOWING THE INQUEST THIS AFTERNOON.
HE WAS A GOOD MAN. NO ONE COULD HAVE POSSIBLY WANTED TO TAKE HIS LIFE. NO ONE!
MRS. DEPOOL, I KNOW THIS IS AN ORDEAL, BUT WOULD YOU COME OVER TO HEADQUARTERS WITH US? WE'D LIKE TO ASK YOU A FEW QUESTIONS.
GLADLY, MR. TRACY, GLADLY. I'LL DO ANYTHING TO HELP RUN DOWN THIS VILLAIN WHO TOOK MY POOR, DEAR HUSBAND'S LIFE. ANYTHING!

TILLIE THE TOILER

OH, THE COPS ARE TAKING THAT MAN AWAY IN THEIR CAR – WHAT A RELIEF!
YEAH – IT'S A GOOD THING I LOOK LIKE PAUL OR THEY WOULDN'T BE LISTEN, PAUL, THAT MAN SAID YOUR NAME WAS FULLER
AHA! MY AUNT ELLIE'S FIRST HUSBAND'S NAME WAS FULLER – YOU'RE HER SON, PAUL
THAT'S RIGHT, MAC, ONLY FOR HEAVENS SAKE, DON'T EITHER OF YOU TELL A SOUL – PROMISE ME
HE'S A NICE ONE – NEVER TELLING ME HE WAS MAC'S COUSIN
AND WHAT'S HE DOING HERE? SPYING ON ME OR SOMETHING?
RUSS WESTOVER

TILLIE – YOU AREN'T ANGRY WITH ME?
NO, JUST SORE, HURT AND PEEVED – THE IDEA OF YOUR NOT TELLING ME YOUR REAL NAME
I KNOW THE REASON AND I THINK I'LL TELL YOU, TILLIE
DON'T YOU DARE!
WHY, PAUL TURNED PALE AS A GHOST – THERE MUST BE SOMETHING AWFUL IN HIS PAST

I'VE HAD ABOUT ENOUGH OF YOU – YOU DIDN'T TELL ME YOUR NAME AND NOW YOU WON'T LET MAC TELL ME THE REASON
PLEASE, TILLIE
YOU'RE ONLY TRYING TO BREAK UP OUR ROMANCE – WELL, SUPPOSE MY OLD MAN IS IN THE PEN – SO WHAT?
SUFFERING MACKEREL! I DIDN'T KNOW THAT – I WAS ONLY BLUFFING TO MAKE YOU TELL WHAT YOU'RE DOING HERE
VERY WELL, THAT SETTLES IT – I DON'T CARE TO BE ENGAGED TO THE SON OF A JAILBIRD
TILLIE
RUSS WESTOVER

TILLIE, IT WAS ALL A MISTAKE – MY FATHER IS INNOCENT – ANOTHER MAN HAS JUST CONFESSED TO THE EMBEZZLEMENT
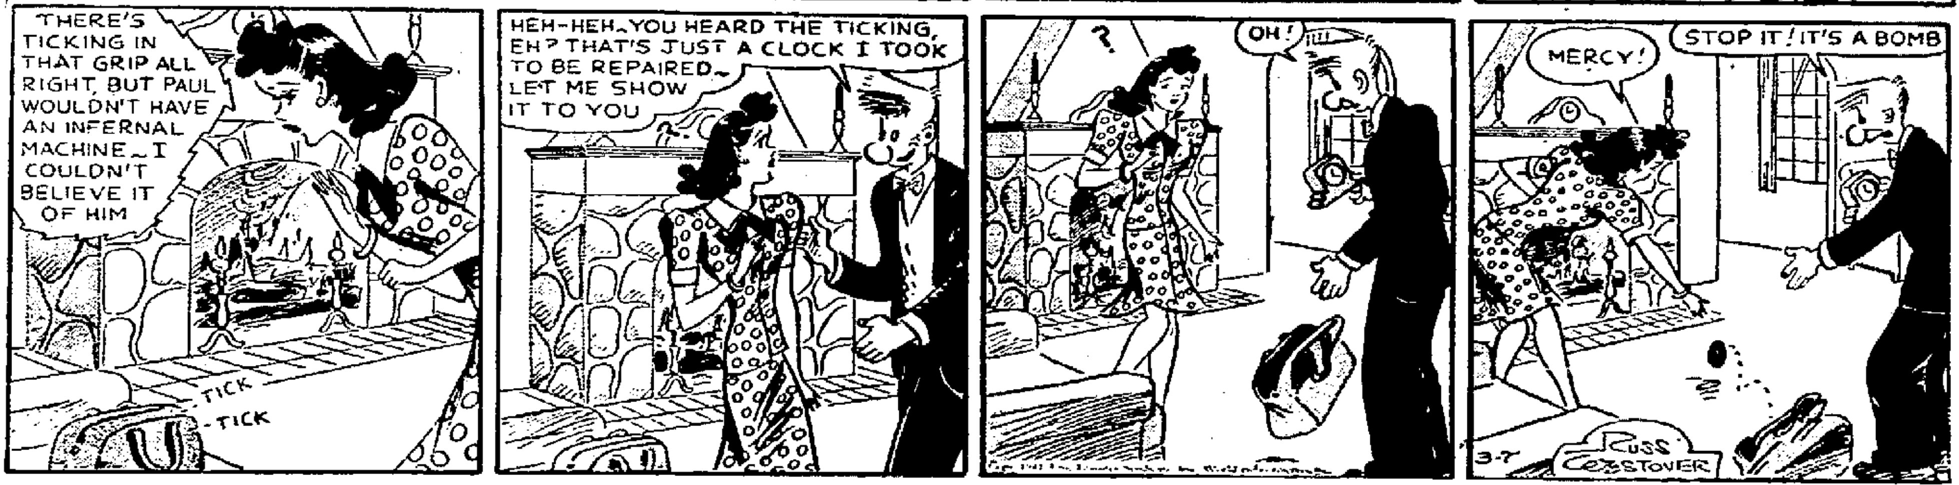
I WANT THAT LITTLE GRIP I HAD – I DON'T WANT TO LEAVE IT IN THE CAR
WHAT NEXT?
YOU'D BETTER TAKE IT – I'VE GOTTA GET GOING
I'LL BRING IT IN – THERE ARE SOME THINGS IN IT I WOULDN'T WANT TO LOSE
I WONDER ABOUT HIS FATHER – GOSH, HE'S GOT ME WONDERING ABOUT EVERYTHING
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
MERCY! I COULD SWEAR I HEARD TICKING IN THAT GRIP – IT COULDN'T BE AN INFERNAL MACHINE, COULD IT?
HELLO, MRS. JONES
HELLO, PAUL
RUSS WESTOVER



THERE'S TICKING IN THAT GRIP ALL RIGHT, BUT PAUL WOULDN'T HAVE AN INFERNAL MACHINE – I COULDN'T BELIEVE IT OF HIM
TICK
TICK
HEH-HEH – YOU HEARD THE TICKING, EH? THAT'S JUST A CLOCK I TOOK TO BE REPAIRED – LET ME SHOW IT TO YOU
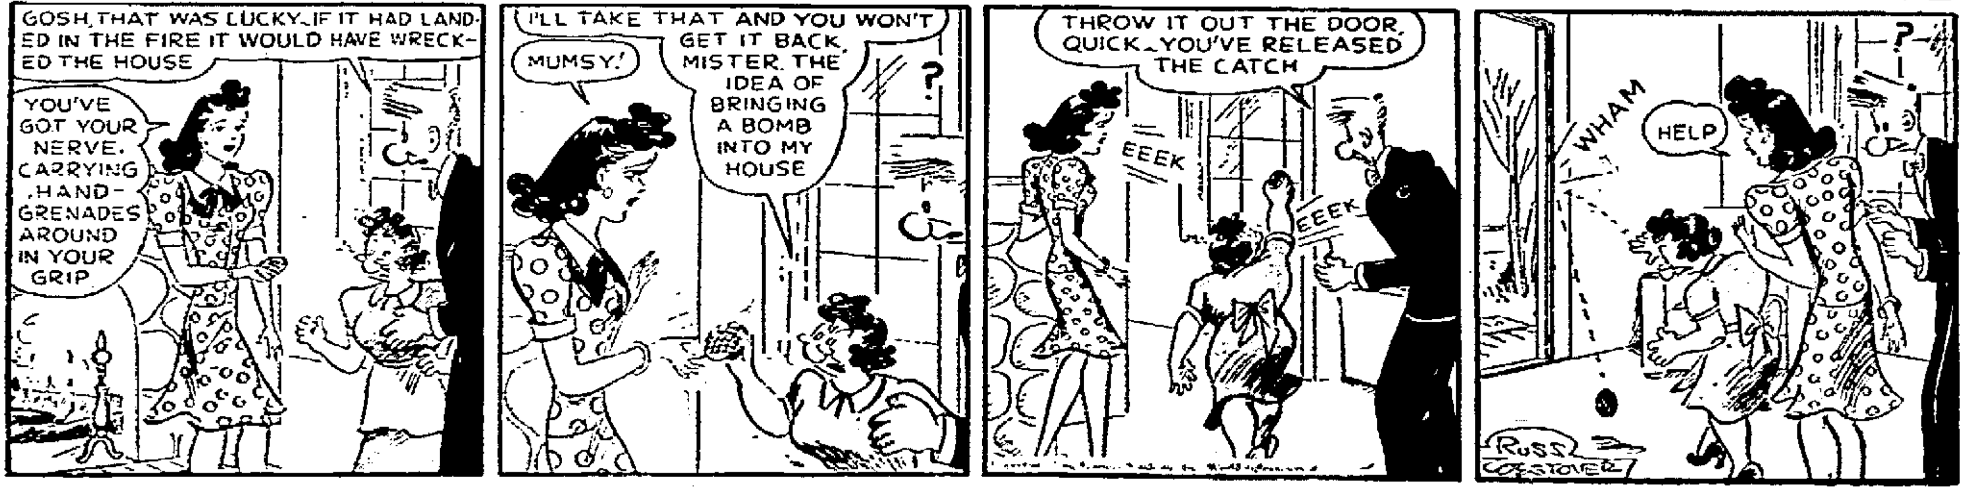
OH!
MERCY!
STOP IT! IT'S A BOMB
3-7
RUSS WESTOVER



GOSH, THAT WAS LUCKY – IF IT HAD LANDED IN THE FIRE IT WOULD HAVE WRECKED THE HOUSE
YOU'VE GOT YOUR NERVE, CARRYING HAND-GRENADES AROUND IN YOUR GRIP
I'LL TAKE THAT AND YOU WON'T GET IT BACK, MISTER. THE IDEA OF BRINGING A BOMB INTO MY HOUSE
MUMSY!
THROW IT OUT THE DOOR, QUICK – YOU'VE RELEASED THE CATCH
EEEK

Analysts Eye Priority Placed On Nickel by OPM, Sees Gain In Orders.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market maintained its price equilibrium in today's early proceedings but rallying signs generally were faint.

Market analysts studied the survey of commerce department which found manufacturers' new orders rose to a record peak in January. The department's index for this barometer rose to 183 in the final month compared with 172 in December.

Notice was taken of the action of the Office of Production Management in instituting further priorities on armament materials. The latest were on supplies of nickel and neoprene in the United States.

Carol 'Grateful' To Portugal as He Plans Rest

LISBON, Portugal—(AP)—In the first interview since he abdicated the throne of Rumania last September, former King Carol asserted today he was very grateful to Portugal for giving him asylum.

"I want to rest," the ex-ruler said

Signs of worry and anxiety of recent months were clearly marked on Carol's face although he gave the impression that he was far from downhearted.

He, seems to have lost weight. His London-made dark brown suit hangs slackly on him—but he wears his usual confident smile and keeps his chin up when standing. He displays fatigue only when he is sitting.

The former monarch, who fled from Spain last Monday with his red-haired companion of many years, Magda Lupescu, said he wished to express his gratitude to Portugal as well as to the American public for the interest and sympathy shown in his plight.

The interview took place at the resident of the wealthy Portuguese business man, Augusto Lopes Joly—the ex-king's longtime friend.

Even in exile, the former king is still very much the ruler and the interview was 100 per cent according to protocol.

Carol likes newspapermen, he said, and understands them.

"I admire your gallant profession which so often is misunderstood," he volunteered.

Discussion of controversial subjects was tabooed. The conversation was in French until the ex-ruler referred in unaccented English to "the Associated Press," after which he shifted spontaneously into English for the remainder of the interview.

He was asked for a statement of his opinion of the present state of world affairs, but his only answer was a sad wave of a long, white hand.

Mme. Lupescu did not appear during the interview, but her voice could be heard in a nearby drawing room.

DAVEY IMPROVES

Former Governor Goes Home For Much Needed Rest.

CLEVELAND—(UP)—An attending physician reported today that former Gov. Martin L. Davey plans to leave the Cleveland clinic hospital next Tuesday to return to his home at Kent for a rest.

The former governor has been confined in the hospital for nearly a month following a serious heart attack. Physicians said Davey will have to spend at least another month in bed at home.

VOTE 7-DAY WEEK

Steel Plant Workers Adopt Extra-Hour Schedule.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Employes of the Midvale Steel Company's plant here have voted to work a seven-day, 56-hour week "in the interest of the national defense emergency," union leaders reported today.

Edward Kunz, secretary of Federal Labor Union No. 18,887 (AFL) said the approximately 4,000 plant employes had voted "two to one" for the seven day work week.

TACKLE FINAL 3 AMENDMENTS TO LEND-LEASE

Senate Democrats Say Bill Will Be Passed Before Nightfall.

measure would pass today "without any doubt, probably without a night session." Some of the opposition leaders privately agreed with him.

But Sen. Bennett C. Clark (D., Mo.) said that there was "not a chance" of getting a final vote or a debate limitation.

As the senate resumed work, these three major tests remained:

1. An amendment by Sen. David I. Walsh (D., Mass.), naval affairs committee chairman, forbidding sale, leasing or lending of military or naval aircraft which cannot be replaced with superior equipment in three months—a proposal which Barkley said would "nullify the whole bill."

2. Substitute bills for direct dollars loans to Britain and Greece offered by Sens. Robert A. Taft (R., O.) and Charles W. Tobey, (R., N. H.) Taft's bill would permit loans of $1,000,000,000 (B) to the United Kingdom, $500,000,000 (M) to Canada and $50,000,000 (M) to Greece. Tobey's measure would provide $3,000,000,000 (B) Britain in exchange for Caribbean islands and as loans, and a $100,000,000 (M) loan to Greece.

3. An opposition motion to recommit the entire administration bill to the foreign relations committee—a move which, if adopted, in effect would shelve the bill.

Opposition leaders believed the Walsh proposal had the best chance of passage but the administration, which beat down 12 amendments yesterday, was confident that it would be voted down.

Two amendments, satisfactory to the administration were adopted yesterday. They were designed to allay fears that the nation would be plunged into war by the delivery or convoying of munitions to warring nations, or that the measure changed any law relating to the movement of U. S. land, air or naval forces.

Without objection, the senate approved an amendment by Clark of Missouri changing the presidential power to "transfer" defense articles to give him the power to "transfer title" of defense articles

After rejecting iron-clad prohibitions on the use of American army or naval forces in European or Asiatic wars, administration forces then offered and adopted, 65 to 24, a compromise amendment submitted by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, (D., La.) declaring that "nothing in this act shall be construed to change existing law relating to the use of the land and naval forces of the United States, except insofar as such use relates to the manufacture, procurement and repair of defense articles, the communication of information and other non-combatant purposes enumerated in this act."

Mother's Heroism Fails, Second Son Dies of His Burns

AKRON —(UP)— A heroic rescue from a flaming house by a 23-year-old Akron mother proved in vain today when her two-year-old son died in a Barberton hospital at 4:30 a. m. A second son, 4, died in the flames.

The mother was Mrs. Margaret Bailey and the two boys were LeRoy, 2, and Donald, 4.

Mrs. Bailey had gone to a street corner to mail a letter yesterday afternoon. When she returned she saw her home in flames. She rushed in the back door and found Leroy but was unable to locate Donald.

Allen W. Gammon pulled Mrs. Bailey and the badly-burned LeRoy from the blazing house before the roof caved in. The mother had to be restrained from re-entering the house in an effort to save Donald. His body was found later in the fire ruins.

All's Well That Ends Well

ASHLANDER, HURT IN ACCIDENT, ONE OF 4 CITED INTO COURT

An Ashlander injured in an automobile-truck collision early today on U. S. route 42, northeast of Mansfield, was one of the four drivers cited into municipal court today by state highway patrolmen.

Arthur Lloyd, 27, of Ashland, lost his driving rights for a year and was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of unsafe driving.

State patrolmen said his machine collided head-on with a truck operated by Harry Williams, 46, of 274 South Main street, three miles northeast of Mansfield at 4:30 a. m. today. Lloyd was treated for minor injuries at General hospital and then released.

They said Lloyd could give no apparent cause for the crash.

Pleading guilty to a similar charge, Donald E. Boyce, 667 West Third street, was fined $10 and costs and his operator's license was suspended for 45 days.

Charles O. Tenney, Akron, pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding on U. S. route 42 and was fined $20 and costs, and James L. Roberts, Butler, R. D. 3, was fined $5 and costs of driving his car without a taillight.

Meanwhile in Ohio eight persons were killed in traffic accidents yesterday and last night.

Two schoolboys, Edmund Wallace Storey, 13 and Albert Toperzer, 12, were fatally injured when a stolen automobile went out of control on a hill in Youngstown and struck them as they walked home from school. Joseph Sikora, 13, one of three youthful occupants of the car, died early today of injuries.

The other two boys in the machine were injured, one critically.

John A. Perry, 67, a retired factory worker, was killed in Fremont as he crossed the street.

An automobile killed Edward W. Baad, 70, in North Canton.

Carl Biggs, 17, was killed and four young companions hurt in an auto collision eight miles south of Kent on route 18.

An automobile skidded into a utility pole in Cleveland, killing John Pataki, 19.

BLAME CAREER

Tallulah Bankhead and Husband Decide To Part.

WINSTON SALEM, N. C. —(AP)—After "long and conscientious thought," Tallulah Bankhead has announced, she and her actor husband, John Emery, have decided to part.

The actress daughter of the late speaker of the house of representatives said "there is no third party involved on either side. We choose rather to put the blame on that 'ole debbil' career.

CASH STOLEN

Downtown Office Entered as Employes Are at Lunch.

Police today were investigating the daylight burglary of the Continental Mortgage company in the Walpark building yesterday while employes of the office were at lunch.

Miss Frances Beck, a clerk, called police when she returned to the office shortly after noon and discovered the door standing open and the cash drawer looted of $35.

Police said entrance was apparently gained with a pass key. The cash drawer was pried open.

Meanwhile, Louis Fingeld, 390 First avenue, reported that an unidentified man assaulted him at Orange and Central avenue at 3 a. m. today while he was on his way home and robbed him of $5.

STAG DINNER

OH, THE COPS ARE TAKING THAT MAN AWAY IN THEIR CAR—WHAT A RELIEF!
YEAH—IT'S A GOOD THING I LOOK LIKE PAUL OR THEY WOULDN'T BE
AHA! MY AUNT ELLIE'S FIRST HUSBAND'S NAME WAS FULLER—YOU'RE HER SON, PAUL
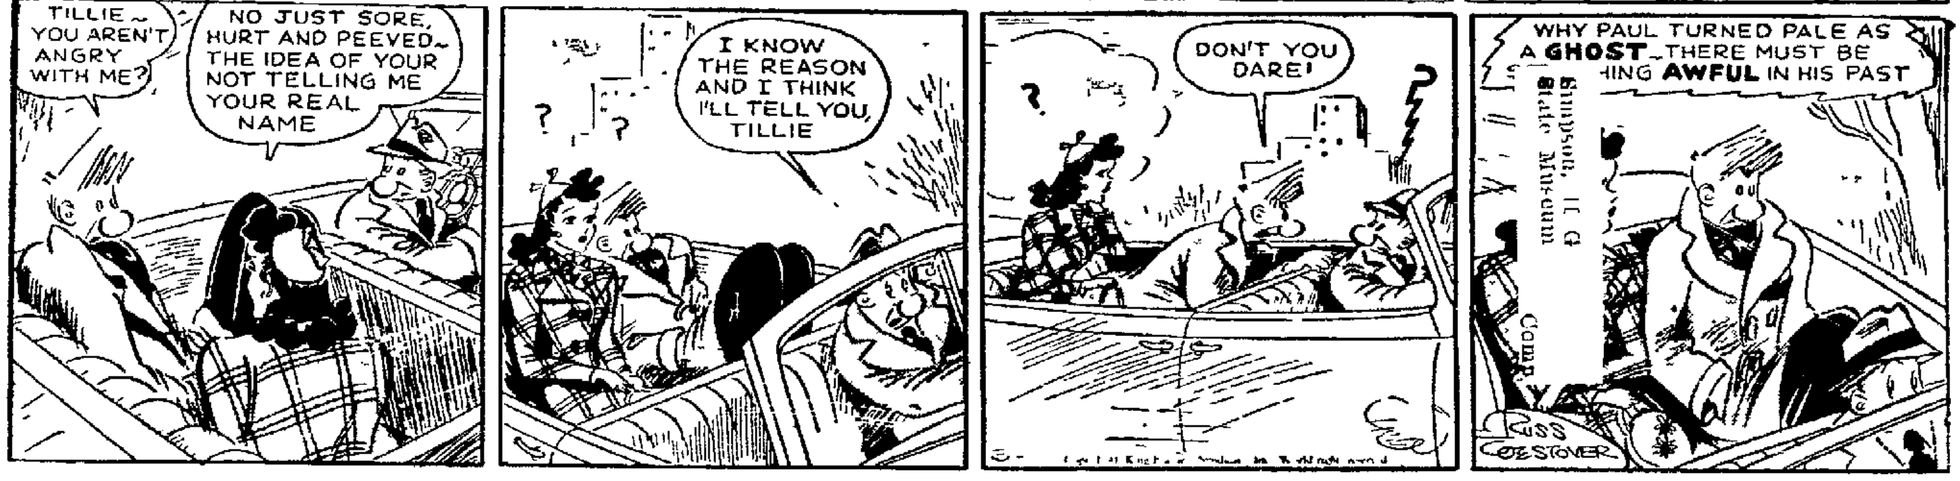
HE'S A NICE ONE— NEVER TELLING ME HE WAS MAC'S COUSIN
AND WHAT'S HE DOING HERE? SPYING ON ME OR SOMETHING?
RUSS WESTOVER



TILLIE— YOU AREN'T ANGRY WITH ME?
NO JUST SORE, HURT AND PEEVED— THE IDEA OF YOUR NOT TELLING ME YOUR REAL NAME
I KNOW THE REASON AND I THINK I'LL TELL YOU, TILLIE
DON'T YOU DARE!
WHY PAUL TURNED PALE AS A GHOST—THERE MUST BE [illegible]HING AWFUL IN HIS PAST
RUSS WESTOVER

I'VE HAD ABOUT ENOUGH OF YOU—YOU DIDN'T TELL ME YOUR NAME AND NOW YOU WON'T LET MAC TELL ME THE REASON
YOU'RE ONLY TRYING TO BREAK UP OUR ROMANCE—WELL, SUPPOSE MY OLD MAN IS IN THE PEN— SO WHAT?

I WANT THAT LITTLE GRIP I HAD—I DON'T WANT TO LEAVE IT IN THE CAR
WHAT NEXT?
YOU'D BETTER TAKE IT—I'VE GOTTA GET GOING
I'LL BRING IT IN—THERE ARE SOME THINGS IN IT I WOULDN'T WANT TO LOSE
I WONDER ABOUT HIS FATHER—GOSH, HE'S GOT ME WONDERING ABOUT EVERYTHING
MERCY! I COULD SWEAR I HEARD TICKING IN THAT GRIP—IT COULDN'T BE AN INFERNAL MACHINE, COULD IT?
HELLO, MRS JONES
HELLO, PAUL
RUSS WESTOVER

THERE'S TICKING IN THAT GRIP ALL RIGHT BUT PAUL WOULDN'T HAVE AN INFERNAL MACHINE—I COULDN'T BELIEVE IT OF HIM
TICK
TICK
OH!
MERCY!
